Third Refusal by Coolidge Made in Secretary's Reply to Wyoming Request

Slemp Unqualifiedly Backs Hoover and Pledges Him Virginia's Delegates

WASHINGTON, March 21. (Exclusive)—President Coolidge authorized tonight another reiteration of his unwillingness to seek re-election.

The President's third pronouncement on the subject was contained in a brief letter by Everett Sanders, his secretary, to L. C. Hinkle, Republican State chairman of Wyoming.

"The President has received your letter of the 17th inst., inclosing a copy of the resolution adopted by the Republican State Committee of Wyoming, on the 10th inst.," said Mr. Sanders in the letter. "While he, of course, very greatly appreciates and thanks you for the expressions of confidence, the President directs me to say that he must decline to grant the request of the committee."

In the resolution adopted by the Republican Central State Committee of Wyoming at a meeting in Cheyenne the President was requested "to waive his personal preference and consent to continue for an additional four years that leadership which has brought honor and prosperity to this country."

SLEMP FOR HOOVER

The letter coincided with announcement that C. Bascom Slemp, Republican National Committeeman of Virginia and former secretary to President Coolidge, has given unqualified indorsement to the candidacy of Secretary Hoover for President. Mr. Slemp has at times been identified with the "draft Coolidge" movement. He declared that Virginia's seventeen delegates will be solidly behind Hoover from start to finish at the Kansas City convention.

WHITE HOUSE LETTER

The White House pronouncement is expected to throw a chilly, wet blanket over the persistent efforts of a few Republican leaders like Charles D. Hilles in New York and Mayor Thompson of Chicago to give life to a "draft Coolidge" movement. Few political authorities believe this movement is born of any great love for Coolidge, but has been kept alive in the hope of keeping delegates away from other candidates so they may be controlled by these leaders.

The addition of C. Bascom Slemp to the Hoover supporters is declared of tremendous importance especially in the Southern States. Slemp always has been extremely careful in his selection of candidates and was for years the sole Republican representative from Virginia.

There is no equivocation about Slemp's indorsement and Slemp seldom goes wrong on a national ticket when it comes to picking a

Mrs. Charlotte Pickford Dies at Home of Famous Daughter in Beverly Hills

Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, mother of Mary, Jack and Lottie Pickford, died shortly after midnight last night at her home in Beverly Hills. She had been critically ill for several weeks of cancer, and had been unconscious most of the time for the past few days. Her daughter, Mary, had been in almost constant attendance on her during the last stages of her illness.

Her history has been closely allied to that of the screen, for it was under her tutelage that her children gained fame in motion pictures after brief stage careers. Throughout the career of her children she has been intimately associated with them, her advice and management having been credited with no little measure of their success.

Besides her three children, she leaves a granddaughter, Rosemary, the daughter of Lottie Pickford. The child has made her home with Mrs. Pickford since her infancy.

HIGHEST HONOR GIVEN ACE

Coolidge Presents Lindbergh With Congressional Medal and French Add Decoration

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today received from the hands of President Coolidge the highest recognition of personal achievement that the nation can bestow—the Congressional Medal of Honor. In addition, he testified before two committees of Congress, and then to round out a busy day, continued his role, begun yesterday, of air pilot for members of Congress and their families.

As early as 10 o'clock, Washingtonians anxious for a glimpse of the celebrated aviator, gathered at the White House grounds to witness the presentation of the medal. By noon more than 300 were on hand to be augmented by a large group of Cabinet officers and other high government officials.

FRENCH MEDAL ADDED

Attended by enthusiastic applause, Mr. Coolidge circled the aviator's head with a blue ribbon of the medal.

"I offer you my heartiest congratulations," he said, adding that the medal was voted by Congress for "heroic courage and great skill" displayed in the flight from New York to Paris. Col. Lindbergh, he continued, had "not only achieved the greatest personal triumph of any American citizen, but had shown that trans-Atlantic flying was possible."

A short while later, another honor was added to the aviator's unrivalled list, when Secretary Davis of the War Department presented Lindbergh with a special medal from the Ligue Aeronautique of France. Accompanying it was a bound record of the trans-Atlantic flight, containing the signatures of many prominent Frenchmen. It was known as the "Livre d'Or, "Book of Gold."

TALKS TO COMMITTEE

Secretary Hoover, Secretary Wilbur and Postmaster-General New, in addition to Mr. Davis, represented the Cabinet at the presentation. Vice-President Dawes also was there, as were Senators Curtis of Kansas and Robinson of Arkansas, majority and minority leaders in the Senate; Representatives Tilson of Connecticut and Garrett of Tennessee, majority and minority leaders in the House; Assistant Secretary Warner, in charge of naval aeronautics; Rear-Admiral Moffett, chief-of-staff; Maj.-Gen. Charles P. Summerall and Assistant Commerce Secretary MacCracken.

At the Capitol Col. Lindbergh detailed to the Military Committees of both houses his views on the Robinson bill proposing a separate promotion list for aviation officers in military service. Acceding to the

TEMBLOR IN MEXICO CITY STIRS PANIC

Street Lights Darkened; Water Mains Burst as Shocks Rock Capital

MEXICO CITY, March 21. (Exclusive)—A severe earthquake was felt here for more than two minutes at 10:20 o'clock tonight, creating general alarm throughout the city, causing water mains to break, lights to be extinguished and causing a near-panic in the theater district.

It was the most severe shock felt here since the earthquake of 1911 when more than seventy persons were killed.

Several fires broke out in various parts of the city, it was reported. Ambulances racing through the streets led to rumors that lives had been lost, but no fatalities had been officially reported up to midnight.

Police headquarters reported several houses in the poorer section of the city had collapsed with at least five persons injured.

Mt. Popocatapetl, which has been passively in eruption is reported showing extraordinary signs of activity with flame columns and ashes spurting from the summit.

Houses rocked freely and thousands of residents, who had retired for the night, fled into the streets, fearing collapse of their homes.

Theater audiences and habitues of the cafes and restaurants joined the panic-stricken crowds in the streets. Telephone and street-car service was interrupted as darkness enveloped the city.

VERA CRUZ REPORTS SIMILAR TEMBLOR

VERA CRUZ (Mex.) March 21. (AP)—An oscillating earthquake, perceptible for a minute and a half, occurred here at 10:20 o'clock tonight. It caused general alarm and residents ran from their homes but no material damage was reported. The temblor is thought to have affected a wide area.

Ex-Gov. Sproul of Pennsylvania Taken by Death

CHESTER (Pa.) March 21. (AP)—William C. Sproul, former Governor of Pennsylvania, died at his home, Lapidea Manor, near here tonight. He was 57 years of age and had been ill for many months, following upon an attack of pneumonia. His wife and two children were at his bedside when the end came.

The former Governor was a delegate to two national Republican conventions and was a contender for the Presidential nomination in 1920.

STOCKS RIDE STARWARD

Prices Set New Altitude Marks

More Than Score of Issues Pass Previous Peaks on New York Exchange

Ninth Consecutive Full Day of 3,000,000 or More Shares Recorded

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—Recording the ninth consecutive full session of 3,000,000 shares or more, the New York Stock Exchange today continued to roll up new high records under a seemingly endless stream of buying orders pouring in from all sections of the world.

More than two score individual issues smashed their previous peak prices and the average of twenty leading industrials was lifted to another new high record for all time as prices rose $1 to $17 a share throughout the list. The day's sales of 3,903,800 shares were within 10,000 shares of the record turnover of the 13th inst.

Meanwhile the price of seats on the exchange rose to a new top price at $335,000, a gain of $45,000 above the year's low and $5000 above the previous sale. This brings the aggregate value of the 1100 memberships to $368,500,000.

GENERAL MOTORS LEADS

General Motors was again the market leader, moving up nearly $5 a share to a new maximum quotation at $177.87½. Close behind it were United States Steel common with a gain of $4 a share at $150, or $2.75 below the year's top, and General Electric, which closed $3 a share higher at $144.90 after establishing a new high nearly $1.50 a share above that figure. The day's gain in the aggregate market value of these three stocks is nearly $133,000,000 and the combined increase in the market value of all stocks probably well over $500,000,000.

RADIO'S CLOSING

Radio, in which the stock exchange still is investigating reports of an asserted "technical corner," closed unchanged at $155 a share after running up to another new peak at $162.25, which contrasts with the year's low of $85.25 established a month ago.

Even more spectacular gains were recorded in some of the specialties with a smaller capitalization. Victor Talking Machine convertible preferred soared $17.25 a share to $172.25 and closed within 25 cents of the top. Case Threshing also skyrocketed $17 a share to $292 but fell back to $287.75 on realizing. United States Cast Iron Pipe, by moving up $7 a share to $260, registered a gain of more than $53 a share in three days. American Republics, Collins & Aikman, Du Pont, Hershey Chocolate, International Nickel and Victor Talking Machine common advanced $5 to $11 a share.

ST. PAUL, March 21. (AP)—A broken gas feed line, bane of the airmen, ended Gene Shank's effort to establish new endurance records early today after his ninety-horsepower biplane had been in air twelve hours and thirty-eight minutes.

WATER BOARD TO DEMAND GRAND JURY QUIZ ON DAM

Mulholland on Stand at Coroner's Inquiry Defends Work and Hints at Dynamiting

As the Coroner's inquest over the St. Francis Dam disaster got into full swing yesterday came an announcement by Water and Power Commissioner Richards that he will today request the Board of Water and Power Commissioners to make a formal demand that the grand jury make a complete investigation of the disaster to determine whether criminality entered into the horror. He said he will ask that in the grand jury investigation there be included the evidence that the water department says it has concerning possible dynamiting of the dam.

Coroner Nance, after a day of hearing that reached a dramatic height in the appearance of William Mulholland, veteran chief engineer for the water bureau, announced that the inquest jurors will visit the site of the disaster tomorrow. Sitting on the jury are five engineers, two contractors, one appraiser and one insurance man.

HAVE NO FEARS

Notwithstanding leading questions to the contrary, the three water bureau witnesses on the stand yesterday declared vehemently that not the slightest suspicion of danger prevailed among bureau employees familiar with the dam before its fatal collapse.

"Had I had such a suspicion or the slightest idea of the kind," Mulholland said, "I would have sent a regular Paul Revere voicing a warning down that valley. It never occurred to me that it was in danger."

The white-haired engineer (he is nearly 80 years of age,) walked to the stand with feeble steps and had hardly taken his seat and begun his testimony when he broke into a sentence with the remark that, "on an occasion like this I envy the dead."

HE HAS "SUSPICION"

"Have you any explanation as to the cause of this dam's failure?" Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison asked Mulholland.

"I have a suspicion," the witness replied, "but it is a very serious thing to make a charge that I don't even want to utter without having more to show for it."

Pressed by Dennison for an expression, and reminded of the seriousness of the whole matter, the veteran bureau chief said;

"It is a thing of the most importance to me, more importance than to any being, dead or alive."

Dennison asked him whether he would build the dam again in the same place in view of what occurred and he said he would not remarking with a sinister manner:

"It's in a place vulnerable to human aggressiveness."

Coroner Nance asked Mulholland particularly about leaks in the dam. Mulholland said Tony Harnischfeger, keeper at the dam, telephoned to the Los Angeles headquarters a few days before the dam broke that the water below the dam was muddy. Muddy water below a dam, it developed, ordinarily is considered an indication of a new leak.

SEEPAGE CLEAR

Mulholland said he and Assistant Engineer Van Norman visited the dam and found that the seepage coming from it was "clear as glass" and that the muddy water was caused by the seepage after it had left the dam. There was considerable testimony about leaks in the dam and it developed that ordinary leaks are common in such dams and are not regarded with anything more than due caution. One such leak on the west side, had occurred about a week before the dam burst and was repaired so that the seepage was at a minimum.

Both Mulholland and Engineer Phillips of the water bureau testified that the seepage of water through the dam amounted to but one cubic foot per second. Phillips testified that very recently he had inspected a buttress on the west side, which in some quarters is blamed for having given away because of seepage-softened earth and so caused the disaster, and that the

Ex-Secretary Wires Teapot Committee He Will Give Story to Court

Senate Hearing Not Proper Place for Recital of Case, He Thinks

WASHINGTON, March 21. (Exclusive)—The Teapot Dome oil scandal took a new and sensational twist tonight with reports that Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, was ready and willing to tell "the whole story."

A telegram from Fall received late tonight by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, chairman of the Senatorial investigating committee, disclosed reluctance to testify before the committee, but expressing willingness to tell his story to a court or in the form of a deposition.

The telegram was in reply to one sent to the former Secretary of the Interior early in the evening informing him of the intention of a subcommittee to proceed to El Paso, Tex., at once, to interrogate him if reports of his desire to disclose all facts in his possession were correct. Senator Nye and Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, were to compose the subcommittee.

NEXT STEP UNCERTAIN

After receiving Fall's reply, Senator Nye was uncertain as to the next step. He indicated that the full committee would consider the matter tomorrow. He said he would favor going to El Paso if there were any chance of obtaining new information.

Mr. Fall's telegram to Senator Nye was as follows:

"You are, of course, thoroughly informed of proceedings now pending in the District Supreme Court at Washington and doubtless know that an application for a continuance on my behalf is now pending. Referring to this matter I made a statement quoted by you in the telegram from you of this date. Depositions of witnesses have been made in this criminal case.

"I stated that I was ready to have my deposition taken here in any manner requested by the court and that I desired the whole truth to be told and would offer no objections to any question that might be propounded to me touching any phase of this entire matter.

S-4 LIFE BATTLE TRACED

Scars on Inside of Hull Indicate Pitiful Effort to Chisel Through Submarine

BOSTON, March 21. (AP)—Evidence that the last hours of some of the forty men who died on the sunken submarine S-4 were spent in frantic attempts to batter a hole through the hull was uncovered today by the naval board of investigation.

Cold chisels, hand wrenches and several other battering tools were found spread about the oozy debris on the motor-room deck, the compartment where most of the crew died. The walls were battered and scarred by many heavy blows and one spot indicated that an attempt had been made to cut through with a chisel. The walls of the small tiller room bore the same marks, as did the torpedo compartment, where Lieut. Graham N. Fitch and his five comrades lived for seventy-two hours until, one by one, they were overcome by carbon monoxide gas and toppled into the shallow water to drown.

NEAR HUMAN LIMIT

The men in the motor room, members of the investigation board said, probably lived for some time after the submarine was sunk by the Coast Guard destroyer Paulding. They too, it was said, finally were overcome by gas and died in a few inches of water. Board officers said the six men in the torpedo compartment left evidence which showed they had almost exceeded the limits of human endurance before death put them out of their misery.

The submarine's salvage air line was found today to be in working order. This salvage air line runs to the various compartments and had an air line been connected with it, air could have been pumped into all parts of S-4 to maintain life until the collection of carbon-monoxide reached a fatal degree.

Commander Harold E. Saunders, who directed the actual salvaging operations, explained that the submarine crew probably opened the salvage air line and when it leaked water, decided it was ruptured and closed it.

LINES UNBROKEN

This air line had no connection with the air line to the ballast tanks, which was found unbroken. The latter is used to force water from the tanks to bring the ship to the surface.

Near the spot on the deck in the torpedo room where Lieut. Fitch's body was found were several small hand wrenches. Marks on the deck indicated that he had used these implements and rapped out signals until he died or lost consciousness. These last signals probably were the faint sounds which were heard by the submarine S-8, sister ship of the S-4, on the Wednesday morning after the collision, which occurred on Saturday, December 17.

A knife and gold watch were found in the engine room today. The watch bore the initials "D. W." and is believed to have been that of Lieut. Donald Weller, engineer officer. A Navy torpedo watch also was found in the room. It had stopped at 2:05.

inspection showed the buttress had not sunk in the slightest. Mulholland said the dam had not settled a particle since construction.

WAS DRIEST DAM

"Of all the dams I've built, of all the dams I've ever seen, it was the driest," Mulholland said.

This, he testified repeatedly, mentioning having built nineteen dams and visited many for inspection purposes.

He testified about various leaks in the dam and described them as of the character as one usually found in dams.

"The pressure leaks were less numerous than usually are found in dams," he said. "There were not the usual pressure leaks—they were unusually few."

"Why was not reinforcement used?" Coroner Nance asked.

"Because without it the dam was amazingly stronger than necessary to meet the demands that were to be made upon it," Mulholland replied. "I never heard of a dam in California that is reinforced. The Roosevelt Dam is not reinforced."

"Did you personally oversee the construction of the dam?" the Coroner asked the witness.

MADE IT SAFE

"Very closely," Mulholland replied.

"Did you consider it safe and adequately tied into the sides of the canyon?" the Coroner asked him.

"I certainly did," the witness replied. "I put into it all that prudence required. I've had rather more experience in building dams than most engineers, and I used all the conventional methods in building this one.

"It was built to withstand three times the pressure that would come from the water required to fill it. The general factor of safety used was from three to four."

Mulholland testified that he believes the west side of the dam went out first and that when it gave away, the arch strength of the structure was released and then the east side went out. The center remained upright, but had been moved slightly forward and laterally, he said.

He testified that even had there been intimation of the dam weakening, the opening of all the flood gates would not in a whole day have released enough water to have lowered the whole backwater area more than a foot.

He testified that the concrete averaged a one to five and seven-eighth mix and added: "usually concrete is not as rich as that."

"There is no concrete used in any building in this town that is any better than in that dam," he said. "Every engineer who has gone up there has given a sigh of relief at once and said, 'Well, it certainly was not fault of the concrete.'"

SET ON BEDROCK

The testimony of Mulholland, Phillips and Construction Superintendent Dunham was to the effect that the bottom of the dam was grounded on bedrock from which all loose top had been removed to a depth of as much as thirty feet in some places. They testified that the east side had been tied into a schist bedrock and the west side into a conglomerate bedrock of an exceptionally hard character. Borings were taken of the bottom bedrock and tests proved the substance to be all right, it was testified. A tunnel thirty feet long was bored into the west side to ascertain whether it was solid and it so proved, they declared.

Nance and Dennison inquired of each witness as to whether or not large lumps of dirt got into the concrete mixture of the dam and replies were that some might have got through inspection, but that several workmen were on special watch for such adulteration.

The ends of the dam extended into the canyon sides from thirty feet to only a few feet, the engineers testified, depending on conditions. There was much questioning to determine whether the dam's ends had been adequately tied into the canyon walls and as to whether there was seepage that softened the ground under the foundation. In each instance, however, the engineers declared there was no such seepage of consequence and adequate tie-ins.

Phillips and Dunham did not go so far as Mulholland in discussing the cause of the failure. They declared they are at a complete loss to understand or conceive of the dam having broken. Each of the three was firm in declaring that at no time was there any one in the department who believed the dam was unsafe or weakening. It frequently was inspected by engineers from the Los Angeles office as well as having a dam keeper constantly at the place. This practice was customary also at the city system's other dams and structures of the kind, according to testimony.

DESCRIBES DAM

The dam site, Mulholland testified, was selected about six years ago. Construction began four years ago and the project was completed in about sixteen or seventeen months in May, three years ago, he said. It was built for water conservation purposes and not for power purposes, he stated. It never was full of water. Once the surface was within eighteen inches of overflow. The main bulk, he said, was 600 feet long. The bottom was 250 feet long, being built in a V-shaped canyon.

Mulholland said he became familiar with the site in his capacity as "manager and chief engineer of the department of water," with which he has been connected since 1886 and in which time he has built nineteen dams, designed and built the Aqueduct and carried out other principal developments of the Los Angeles municipal waterworks system, one of the world's outstanding achievements of water supply, it is recognized by engineers.

The first witness at the hearing was Ray Rising, Water Bureau employee, who lived at Power Plant No. 2, a mile and a half below the dam. He was called merely for the formality of identifying the body of the victim principally at issue for record purposes in the hearing. It was the body of his wife, Julia Rising, 29 years of age. Mr. Rising was grief stricken and maintained composure with effort.

WOMAN WAS DROWNED

Assistant County Autopsy Surgeon Webb was the next witness. He testified that the woman met death by drowning and told of water, mud and silt being found in her lungs and stomach. Her body, he said, was covered with laceration and bruises.

Coroner Nance then read into the record the names of the sixty-nine other identified victims and descriptions of the two unidentified victims and the next witness called was Mulholland.

In the jury box are nine men: Oliver Bowen, C. D. Walz, B. Noice, Sterling C. Lines, W. H. Eaton, Jr., engineers; I. C. Harris, Z. N. Nelson, contractors; Harry G. Holabird, appraiser; Ralph Ware, insurance.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison appeared for the District Attorney's office. Deputy City Attorney Mohr for the city legal department, and Deputy City Attorney Scott for the Water Bureau.

Sitting with the attorneys was Dist.-Atty Hollingsworth of Ventura county. In the audience were many engineers, contractors and materials men.

Water department officials and employees were nettled yesterday because the Sheriff's office had not taken very seriously the so-called evidence that the dam may have been dynamited.

NAME WITHHELD

The water department declined to give out the name of the man who is said to have found a map that was considered as a possible bit of evidence that the dam may have been dynamited.

According to the water department story, the unnamed man was walking on Hollywood Boulevard on the 13th inst., the afternoon after the dynamiting. He saw a man walking in the same direction reach into his side pocket, take out a blue bandana handkerchief and mop his face. From the handkerchief dropped a piece of paper. The man walked on, climbed into a waiting automobile and was driven away.

The unnamed man picked up the piece of paper. It looked like a map. He had read about the dam disaster, so he is said to have called the Sheriff's office and was told to lay the matter before the police of the Hollywood division. This he is said to have done.

On Friday, last, the unnamed man came to the City Hall on other business, it is said, and happened to tell one of the city engineers about his discovery. The city employee told the man to get the note back from the police. This he did and on Saturday the city employee and the man took the map to the water department offices. Members of the board looked at the map and questioned the man.

BRINGS IN ROPE

The board then sent for J. Clark Sellers, handwriting expert, who had been employed by the board in the Owens Valley dynamiting investigation. Sellers was at the St. Francis Dam ruins. When he arrived at the water and power department offices last Saturday afternoon he brought with him a piece of cotton rope, twenty-five to thirty feet long, which he told the board he found on the west side of the dam, dangling from a ledge. The rope was small in size but of the same kind, Sellers thought, as had been found at No Name siphon in the Owens River Valley Aqueduct dynamiting. Sellers looked at the handwriting on the map and said that it looked familiar to him and he would study the handwriting further. The board told Sellers to report the results of his investigations together with the news of the finding of the rope and of the map to the Sheriff's office, which he did on last Monday.

The water department also has received a report that dead fish have been found on the bank of the St. Francis reservoir above the water line. The board is making an investigation of a possibility that the fish may have been killed by a dynamite explosion.

HEARS CONVERSATION

The affidavits in possession of the water department tending to show that St. Francis Dam may have been dynamited includes one from a resident of the Owens River Valley who voluntarily came to Los Angeles yesterday and gave information which he and the water department officials regard as important.

In his affidavit this Owens River Valley resident said that on the 4th or 5th inst., while standing on the east side of Main street in Bishop, just south of the Bishop Drug Store, he overheard a conversation between two men. One was in his automobile, and another said to him: "Carl, come here." The man addressed as Carl, and described as of heavy build, got out of the automobile and came to the other and they talked.

The first man said, "Carl, do you think 150 sticks of powder is sufficient?" The man addressed as Carl answered, "H——, yes! That is enough if you use it right."

The two then discussed methods of placing the powder, including the use of a rod to make seven or eight deep holes on each side, as they expressed it. One said the "west side would be best," but the other wanted to place the powder on both sides and place it deep in the decomposed granite. St. Francis Dam was not mentioned in the conversation, according to the affidavit.

SON HEARD TALK

The man making the affidavit said that his son was with him and heard the conversation.

The water department has other affidavits giving conversations of Owens River Valley residents opposed to the Los Angeles water department in which threats were made against the city's water projects.

When Water Commissioner Richards declared he will move to have the grand jury take up the disaster, he was particularly incensed at a statement which Attorney Rex Goodcell is said to have made in his arguments at the Owens county trial of the men charged with dynamiting the Aqueduct to the effect that the city of Los Angeles may have had something to do with the Aqueduct dynamiting. Richards said that he would ask that Goodcell be taken before the grand jury to give all evidence he might have which justified him in his making a statement of this kind at the trial in Independence.

REPORTS ON DEAD

County officials at Newhall late yesterday announced the official death list there at sixty-nine, which included the body of Mrs. Appa Ewing, discovered late Tuesday afternoon and identified yesterday. At Fillmore, in Ventura county, the official death list stands at 164 recovered bodies, out of which fourteen remain unidentified. Newhall reports only one unidentified body, which is that of a small child.

Announcement that Dr. F. L. Ransome, professor of economic geology at the Institute of Technology, has been named by Gov. Young as an additional member of the State committee investigating the break of the dam was made yesterday by Director Meek of the State Department of Public Works.

After receiving word of his appointment Dr. Ransome met with the committee in the local offices of the State Railroad Commission and discussed field notes taken Tuesday at the scene of the disaster.

During yesterday's session Dr. Ellwood Mead of the Federal Reclamation Service, and head of another committee formed at the request of city officials to inquire into the catastrophe, conferred with members of the State committee.

MEAD PICKS AIDES

Dr. Mead has selected to aid him Louis C. Hill, a local consulting engineer, and Gen. Lansing H. Beach of Pasadena, formerly in the United States Army, and once chief of engineers.

The Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday authorized an initial appropriation of $250,000 to start work at once on rebuilding municipal Power Plant No. 2. The power plant, which was built in 1920, and was located in St. Francisquito Canyon below the dam, had a capacity of 40,000 horsepower of electricity.

Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood reported a survey showed that machinery valued at $400,000 could be salvaged from the ruins of the power-house. To rebuild the plant and place it in operation will cost $950,000. The board made the initial appropriation of $250,000 toward this $950,000 total so that work could start at once.

It will be nine or ten months before the power-house can again be placed in operation, largely due to the fact that the needed machinery must be ordered and built in the East. Power Bureau employees will start work clearing the site of the power plant.

The rush of the waters down the canyon tore out more than 300 feet of the Aqueduct between Power Plant No. 2 and Dry Canyon. The Aqueduct was turned off and repairs are being rushed. It is believed the Aqueduct line will be Saved from trip to hospital

Doctor told this man how to avoid a common cause of rupture

LIKE so many, this man had a slight tendency to hernia. The doctor who examined him said there was no real rupture, only a weakness.

"Go easy," he warned, "and above all don't strain yourself in any way. One of the most common causes of rupture is excessive straining to relieve a congested system. Yet so few people ever suspect it. For one thing, take Nujol regularly. It will probably save you a trip to the hospital. I advise all my patients who've had abdominal operations to take it, too, to avoid the danger of another break."

Nujol, taken regularly, avoids this risk. It provides an easy, natural method of regulating body functions. Keeps everything normal without effort. It not only prevents the excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but aids in their removal.

A surprising number of people—men especially—are susceptible to hernia. Take a tip from this man's experience and play safe. Take Nujol regularly. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Try it for 3 months and you'll never want to be without it again.

In good shape again

It certainly can do no harm to try it. Nujol contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. And it may save you real trouble. Be sure you get the genuine.

Los Angeles and Santa Paula Confer on Flood Losses

AMITY RULES REPARATIONS

Committee on Adjustment Pledges Haste

Meeting in Flood District Promotes Accord

Stricken Area Inspected; Plan Payments

SANTA PAULA, March 21. (Exclusive)—George Eastman, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; City Attorney Stephens, and four other members of the Los Angeles committee on reparations for losses suffered because of the St. Francis Dam disaster, left here shortly after noon today on an inspection trip throughout the devastated Santa Clara Valley.

The trip followed a preliminary meeting this morning between the Los Angeles committee and the one appointed to represent the devastated area, after which Mr. Eastman and C. C. Teague, president of the Santa Paula district committee, announced that the two committees are in perfect accord on the fact that full restoration is the only solution to the problem caused by the breaking of the dam.

CHECK DATA TODAY

The data gathered by the Los Angeles commission today will be gone over tomorrow at a meeting by that committee in Los Angeles, when definite plans for rehabilitation will be started, Mr. Eastman said.

"At this time it is unwise to make any statement as to what plan we will follow in making restoration, or the detailed manner in which we will go about it, because of the many ramifications of the disaster and the problems it developed," Eastman said.

"We are going over the territory to get a comprehensive idea at first hand as to the extent of damage done, so that when we take the surveys made by experts we will be able to have a clear vision of the problem before us.

"The Los Angeles commission and the committee representing the devastated area are in full accord on the major issue, that of rehabilitation in full, but neither committee has yet a detailed plan for making restoration. However, we want it fully understood that there is to be no delay in developing a practicable working plan so that the community can be placed back on a normal basis as soon as possible," Eastman concluded.

STEPHENS SPEAKS

In addressing the Santa Paula committee, City Attorney Stephens said:

"I am here to give you the benefit of my legal knowledge and investigating just as if you were officials of our city and am not here to hold back or attempt to keep you from getting every return to which you are entitled as a result of your flood losses.

"While the city's engineers and water bureau crews are cleaning up the physical debris, I have completed the work of removing all legal debris which might detain you in promptly receiving restoration.

"We are here to co-operate with you and will do everything in our power to aid you recover from the blow which has befallen your community. It is our joint problem which we will work out together, all pulling together.

"There is one thing, however, that I would like to impress upon you, that is to encourage your citizens to put their shoulders to the tasks of rehabilitation as much as possible, and wherever they can do so, encourage them to stretch the $1,000,000 restoration fund so that it can go as far as possible in putting the community back to a normal state."

Mr. Teague was emphatic in his declaration that Santa Paula is confident that the Los Angeles committee is to expedite restoration to the fullest extent of its ability.

EXPECT FAIR DEAL

"There is not the slightest doubt in the minds of our people but that they will get a sympathetic and fair deal from Los Angeles and are not worrying. The hysteria, what little there was, is over now," Mr. Teague said.

Both committees will begin to work independently on a logical plan to follow in the restoration work and will meet again at a later date to compare plans and draft a working plan from the best points of the two submitted, Mr. Teague said.

Only one member from each committee was absent when the meeting convened in the First National Bank at 10 o'clock. The situation in general was discussed during two hours and was continued at a good-will luncheon at noon in the Glen Tavern.

Shortly after noon today the damage appraisal committee of Santa Paula city proper had fifty additional claims registered, bringing the total since the bureau opened Tuesday morning, last, to 200. Today, 150 registered before noon. The slump is attributed to the fact that many property owners have to make a detailed survey in order to get an accurate estimate of their losses. The claims now filed total approximately $325,000, which is nearly two-thirds of the estimated total damage in Santa Paula boundaries.

About 100 more families still have claims to file, I. B. Martin, chairman of the appraisal committee announced. The blanks which are being used for filing claims demand a complete description of the property containing sections for showing the cost, type of construction, age, public and property improvements, cost of contents, size, description of finish on the exteriors and interiors, and more than a dozen other items, all of which have to be sworn to before a notary before they are accepted.

Business men in general, and the various committees here expressed a belief today that the traffic ban on the district will be lifted by tomorrow or Friday night, thus allowing sightseers into the district by Saturday morning.

The influx is expected to help merchants partly overcome losses sustained by the enforced blockade. Visitors, however, will not be allowed into the damaged sections which are roped off and under heavy police guard. A view of the district, however, can be had from a score of points without actually entering it. Los Angeles police guard entering it. Los Angeles police guards are to remain here for two more weeks at least, Lieut. Harlan said. Looting, which barely got under way, has been stopped by the Los Angeles officers.

MAYOR WANTS LOS ANGELES WORKERS TO DO BUILDING

Mayor Cryer yesterday gave as his personal opinion that so far as possible forces of the City of Los Angeles should do the reconstruction work in the Santa Clara Valley.

It is believed that if this policy is formally adopted, the reconstruction camps established last week by the Board of Water and Power Commissioners in various parts of the devastated area will be enlarged, and men and equipment added to each so that the reconstruction work can be pushed.

Mayor Cryer outlined his plans to Tom Bard of Bardsdale and Robert M. Hanley of the American Legion reconstruction volunteer forces which have been digging the Bardsdale area out of the sand and silt. The Mayor said these men approved of his program, in so far as it related to the Bardsdale area.

Health Officer Parrish inspected the devastated area on Tuesday and submitted a program of organization of the rehabilitation work. The Mayor said that the plan of camps and organization recommended by Dr. Parrish is being carried out in many respects.

LOS ANGELES MAY BE ASKED TO PAY TAX DEFICIT

VENTURA, March 21. (Exclusive)—What to do about the existing assessments on the 8000 acres or more of county lands damaged by the St. Francis flood, is a problem perplexing County Assessor Will Reese and other officials. The assessments for the year were made as of the 5th inst., eight days prior to the night that death and devastation were loosed upon the Santa Clara Valley.

One course would be to let the assessments stand, though they obviously are unfair as of the present date, then look to Los Angeles to pay the difference in taxes on the individual tracts. Another possibility which is being discussed is to revise the assessment area and submit a bill to Los Angeles for the aggregate loss in revenue to the county.

Assessor Reese has made a detailed tour of investigation and given the problem considerable study. This noon he expressed himself, however, as being in grave doubt both as to what course should be pursued and also as to what courses can legally be pursued in the matter.

NEW PHOENIX STORE

PHOENIX, March 21. (Exclusive) The Sears-Roebuck organization is preparing to start its first retail store in Arizona in a large building on East Adams, near Third street. Russell T. Smirl of Los Angeles has been detailed as manager.

LITTLE BOY HONORED AS 'UNKNOWN HERO'

The Santa Clara Valley flood had scores of "unknown heroes" who gave their lives in attempts to save their neighbors or kin. But special burial rites will be conducted for a 3-year-old boy, unidentified, when cowboys of the Newhall district, led by Bill Hart, motion-picture actor, carry the body of the lad to its last resting place near the Harry Carey ranch Sunday afternoon.

Expenses of the services were provided by a special subscription among cowboys in the flood area headed by Bill Hart.

Arrangements have been made for a small white tombstone dedicated to the "Little Unknown Soldier of the Santa Clara River Flood."

CITY ENGINEER DEFENDS WORK

PHONE COMPANIES MAKE QUICK REPAIRS TO LINES

Tractors removing debris left by the flood near Castaic yesterday tore out all of the temporary lines of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company connecting to San Francisco and other northern points with the exception of five circuits.

Telephone men who are carrying forward permanent repair work in the territory were rushed to the break and service was restored to normal within an hour.

In announcing this minor mishap, N. R. Powley, general manager of the company, declared that careful consideration will be given to employees of the company whose work may merit citation for heroism. Commenting on the warning passed along the line by brave operators and telephone men before the water struck Santa Clara Valley towns, he said that "the traditions of the Bell System have again been upheld in a magnificent manner.

"All members of the organization who had a part in our work in connection with the St. Francis Dam disaster did credit to the company and themselves."

Praise Accorded to Mulholland

A resolution expressing the "highest confidence in the loyalty and ability as a man, as a citizen and as an engineer" of William Mulholland, chief engineer for the City Water and Power Bureau, has been adopted by the California Progressives, and copies were sent yesterday to Mr. Mulholland and the newspapers of Los Angeles.

It recounts that Los Angeles owes its present eminence to the primary importance of water and that to William Mulholland goes the credit of serving Los Angeles with water.

It also includes the statement that it is "in the hope that the people of Los Angeles may be enheartened in the support of this man who has devoted his life and best efforts to the upbuilding of Los Angeles" that the resolution was adopted.

BENEFIT AIDS FLOOD FUND

Midnight Performance Nets $12,000 for Refugees; Others Donate Efforts for Relief

Actors and actresses of the theater and motion-picture world appeared before a crowded house last night at the Metropolitan Theater in a midnight performance presented by the Allied Theater Managers of Los Angeles as a method of raising funds to aid the needy of the St. Francis Dam disaster.

Only the seating capacity of the theater controlled the attendance, and at 10 a.m. yesterday, thirteen hours before the opening of the doors at 11:15 p.m. all tickets were sold and hundwreds turned away. As a result of the benefit the Red Cross relief fund will be enriched by approximately $12,000. A large number of seats were sold at handsome premiums, one industrial firm presenting a check for $500 for ten seats.

GLORIA APPEARS

Among those appearing under direction of Fred Niblo, master of ceremonies, were Gloria Swanson, Jack Dempsey, Irving Berlin, Charlotte Greenwood, Charlie Chaplin, Tom Mix and others.

The special benefit performance for the flood fund at the Mayan Theater tomorrow afternoon, when Ed Rowland and A. Leslie Pearce offer a matinee of "The Captive," will add to the total relief cash to be used by the Red Cross in the devastated sector. All actors and stage workers are donating their services, it is announced.

The Lions' Club at Glendale yesterday made tentative plans to adopt one of the orphan children left homeless in the wake of the flood.

A benefit dance will be given by the Independent Order of Foresters at 955 South Olive street. The proceeds will be given to the general flood relief fund.

ANGELUS TEMPLE AIDS

Announcement was made yesterday of the donation of two truck loads of bedding, provisions and clothing, and the services of a trained nurse, sent direct to the scene of the devastation by Angelus Temple.

A fund of $2000 was contributed to the flood sufferers by the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus, through the head office in New Haven, Ct.

The Redondo Post of the American Legion is to give a benefit performance tonight for the flood relief fund at the Metropolitan Theater in Hermosa Beach. A number of leading stage and screen artists will appear and the money will be forwarded to the Ventura County Legion Post for distribution.

Tomorrow night Oxnard is giving a benefit performance, in which the Chamber of Commerce, Music Club, and all fraternal, social and service organizations will take part. The event will be held at the high school auditorium, and early seat sales indicate a record attendance.

OIL EXILE TO PAY PENALTY

Teapot Dome Refugee Loses Contempt Case

Walsh Act on Nonresident Punishment Upheld

Allegiance Leaps Across National Boundary

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Constitutionality of the Walsh Act providing for the punishment of a citizen who refuses to return from abroad to testify in a criminal trial was upheld today by Justice Frederick L. Siddons in the District of Columbia Supreme Court in overruling a motion to dismiss contempt charges against H. M. Blackmer of Denver, missing Teapot Dome witness. The justice held that Blackmer owed an allegiance to his country which should have caused him to obey its subpoena.

Blackmer, former chairman of the board of the Midwest Oil Company, was subpoenaed as a government witness in the trial of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall, charged with having conspired to defraud the government in the lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve. The oil man, who with Sinclair and others guaranteed a contract whereby the Continental Trading Company purchased 33,000,000 barrels of oil from the late A. E. Humphreys of Denver, was wanted to tell what he knew of Liberty Bond payments which the government alleges Sinclair made to Fall after the then Secretary of Interior had leased the reserve to Sinclair.

ALLEGIANCE INCLUSIVE

"It appears clear," said Justice Siddons, "that the allegiance of a citizen of the United States, though actually living in a foreign jurisdiction, includes the duty of obedience to the laws of the sovereignty to which the allegiance is due. Indeed, without such obedience allegiance would be but an empty name."

When Blackmer failed to answer the subpoena, the government seized $100,000 in Liberty Bonds belonging to him under a provision of the law that when any witness refused to return from abroad to testify the government could seize that much of his property.

The government, said Justice Siddons's opiion, might not be able to punish a citizen living abroad by imprisonment, but it does not follow that the government is without authority to enforce obedience to its laws by "imposing a penalty that does not require the physical presence of the offending citizen within the territorial jurisdiction of his government, for execution."

The court declined to accept the contention of Blackmer's counsel that he could not be punished unless he was actually within the territorial jurisdiction of this country or of the court. The justice held that the punishment could be inflicted where the property was found.

PUNISHMENT POSSIBLE

As soon as Justice Siddons sets the date, Blackmer's counsel will be required to make final arguments on the original contempt charge. A second charge of contempt, the government has announced, will be filed against Blackmer if he does not appear as a witness at the second Fall and Sinclair trial set for April 2. Another $100,000 of his property would then be seized. His counsel announced in court that Blackmer would not heed the second subpoena.

HARDING RUMOR DISPROVED

Investigator Finds Late President's Liberty Bonds Unconnected With Sinclair Holdings

ST. LOUIS, March 21. (AP)—A St. Louis Post-Dispatch staff correspondent reported an inspection of the record of the estate of the late President Harding, made by him today at Marion, O., established that he possessed none of $3,080,000 worth of Continental Trading Company Liberty Bonds involved in the oil investigation.

Senator Nye, chairman of the Senate Teapot Dome Committee, announced in Washington Monday that the committee would search for Continental bonds in the estate of the late President.

Ledgers kept by C. D. Schaffner, executor of the estates of both President and Mrs. Harding show, the Post-Dispatch correspondent said, that President Harding possessed $182,750 worth of Liberty Bonds and that Mrs. Harding possessed $65,300 worth of Liberty Bonds.

NOT SAME BONDS

The bonds bought by the Continental company were First Liberty Bonds, issued in 1917, and were all of $1000 denomination. President Harding possessed $41,000 worth of the First Loan bonds, but none was of a $1000 denomination, the correspondent said, and their numbers did not correspond with the serial numbers of any of the Continental bonds. Two of Mrs. Harding's First Loan bonds were for $500 each, six were for $5000 each, and one was for $10,000.

Schaffner, who was discharged as executor in 1925, said some of the papers of the estates had been turned over to Dr. G. T. Harding, the President's father, now in California, but his recollection was that for every one of the numerous Liberty Bonds in the estate there was a canceled check, showing the President paid cash from his own personal funds.

The total of bonds in President Harding's estate was approximately $250,000, the correspondent related. The difference between that sum and the $182,750 of Liberty Bonds was chiefly in other Federal government bonds and in war savings certificates.

SALE ALSO CLEAR

"It does not appear that the Senate committee, if it chooses now to pursue its search for bonds in the sale by President Harding of the Marion Star in 1923, would be any more successful in finding any Harry Sinclair connection than it would in the personal estate of Harding," the correspondent continued.

Mexican Rebels Dynamite Train

MEXICO CITY, March 21. (Exclusive)—Several persons were injured when rebels dynamited a train near Villegas Tuesday and what threatened to be a serious tragedy was averted by the Federal guards' routing of the attacking band. The rebels opened fire on the wrecked train, several cars of which were demolished by the explosion, but were met with determined resistance by the guards who stuck to their posts throughout a hotly fought battle.

The express car and several coaches were thrown from the rails by the charge of dynamite. It is believed that most of the injured received their wounds in the derailing of the cars. Reports received today make no mention of any passengers being shot.

A train from Guadalajara, Sta of Jalisco, was reported derailed between the stations of Patti and Monteleon, but so far as is known no one was injured. The wreck is attributed to rebels operating in that vicinity.

RAIL SCHEDULE OF RATES KEPT

Commission Denies Plea for Change in Southwest

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—By a supplementary decision today the Interstate Commerce Commission refused to make any substantial changes in the general schedules of class and commodity freight rates which it ordered into effect for southwestern territory last April.

The carriers sought principally a general 10 per cent increase in the new southwestern schedules laid down by the commission but the supplemental report today denied their plea completely.

The railroads were given until July 8 to install the new southwestern rates instead of putting them into effect May 16 as the original decision required.

Machine Guns Rout Farmers

BERLIN, March 21. (Exclusive)—Farmers, stirred up by the Nationalists, clashed with machine guns in the hands of police yesterday in Silesia, when 1000 of them mobilized to prevent a compulsory auction at the home of a tax-defaulting farmer.

The police charged with batons. The farmers hit back with stocks, so the officer of the police ordered machine guns brought up and trained on the mob. The farmers' leaders, fearing a slaughter, ordered a retreat after twenty had been wounded.

SENATE SWEPT BY OIL STORM

Feud Over Al Smith Letter Stirs Hot Debate

Indiana Republican Links Sinclair to Doheny

Walsh Raps Committee on Chicago Hearing

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Another storm revolving around Teapot Dome rolled today through both the Senate chamber and the committee investigating room as Republicans and Democrats renewed their feud over Harry F. Sinclair's political gifts.

Senator Robinson of Indiana again centered an attack on Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York and received in return a barrage of thrusts from nearly a dozen Democrats.

The outburst in the Senate came after Senator Copeland, Democrat, of New York, had caused to be read into the record Gov. Smith's letter to Senator Nye, in which the Democratic Presidential candidate assailed as "false and reckless" the statements of Nye and Robinson in the Senate on Monday that Sinclair had contributed to his campaign fund in the New York gubernatorial race in 1920.

SMITH SCORED

Adverting to the Smith letter, Robinson characterized the Governor's language as "unstatesmanlike" and said he had simply been trying to ascertain whether Sinclair had been a member of the Smith administration after 1920 in the office of Racing Commissioner.

Pressed by a number of Democrats to explain a statement that Democrats had betrayed their trust, the Indianan said three members of the Wilson Cabinet resigned to take places with Edward L. Doheny, who became the lessee of a California naval-oil reserve.

"Doheny and Sinclair sleep in the same bed and a lot of Democrats sleep with them," Robinson shouted.

HECKLERS BATTLED

Constantly heckled by Democratic Senators, the Indiana Republican finally recalled that Sinclair had held his official position under Smith until a month before his term expired, and added:

"I wonder why he was retained all this time. Gov. Smith could easily have said: 'Mr. Sinclair, you are unclean, and we Tammany Hall people are clean. We don't want you.'

"Did he do so? He did not. He never did fire him.

"There's no use talking, 'birds of a feather will flock together.'"

The Democrats were quick to pick up this quotation, Harrison of Mississippi, particularly turning it back on Robinson. Naming one by one the political associates of the Indianan who have been indicted or brought under charges in Indiana, Harrison said after each one:

"'Birds of a feather will flock together,'" as the Senate and galleries literally rocked with laughter.

"But none of those mentioned by the Senator is now a candidate for President," Robinson retorted after Harrison took his seat.

"Is that the only crime of which a man can be guilty?" interrupted Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas.

After the laughter had subsided, Robinson declared that none of those mentioned by the Mississippian had had any connection with Harry F. Sinclair.

Senator Walsh of Montana, prosecutor of the oil inquiry, ended the running fire of debate with a vigorous attack on the Teapot Dome subcommittee which visited Chicago and which took the testimony of two former associates of Upham to the effect that the late Republican treasurer had told them Marsh had suggested that neither party make a report of 1923 contributions.

DEMOCRATS FACE QUIZ

Before the oil committee today a new inquiry into Democratic party financing was forced by the Republican chairman, Nye, of North Dakota, with Wilbur Marsh, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, flatly denying that the Democrats have received any contributions from any source which they desired to conceal.

Marsh emphatically declared that he never had even suggested to the late Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, that neither party make a report in 1923, explaining that he was not then active in party affairs due to illness and knew that no report to Congress was required by law until 1924, after he would have given up his office.

WALSH SCORES NYE

Before appearing on the Senate floor, Senator Walsh, in an executive session of the Teapot Dome committee censured Chairman Nye as a result of the publication at Chicago of stories about a mysterious witness who had related that a package had been sent by one of the Sinclair companies to Washington, Ill., by mistake, and that it had been reshipped to Washington, D. C., by direction of Sinclair officials.

As a result of these publications both Chief Justice George E. Martin of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals and Associate Justice Frederick L. Siddons of the District of Columbia Supreme Court issued statements denying that they ever had received any packages from any of the Sinclair companies or from Sinclair himself.

Marsh spent an hour on the stand before the committee during the forenoon and was questioned vigorously by Senator Nye, who inquired particularly about contributions to the Democratic campaign funds by Doheny and Sinclair.

DOHENY GIFTS TOLD

As the first question was put in about Doheny, Senator Walsh interrupted to say that the previous testimony had been that Doheny had given $32,000 to the Democrats in 1920. A later reading of the record by Senator Walsh disclosed, however, that Doheny had given only $9900 for the 1920 campaign, and had sent his check for $25,000 in 1921 to help wipe out the deficit after the Harding-Cox campaign, a deficit which Marsh placed at not in excess of $215,000. Marsh was unable to say of his own knowledge whether Sinclair, or Harry M. Blackmer, missing witness in the Fall-Sinclair oil-conspiracy trial, had contributed to the Democratic chest, but he added that if they did it was all a matter of record.

The former party treasurer declared that while no report was made in 1923, the party records for that year and all others since 1920 had been preserved.

"We destroyed nothing; we concealed nothing."

WILBUR DECLARES NAVY OIL RESERVES BEING PROTECTED

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur in testimony before the House Appropriations Committee on the naval supply bill reported today went into an exhaustive discussion of the naval oil reserve lands and told of steps being taken by the Navy Department to protect them from possible drainage.

He said that regarding Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 1, the department has reached an agreement with the Belridge Oil Company whereby the government would receive an additional royalty of 20 per cent on any increased production of oil from the first-line Belridge wells as a result of shutting-in the navy wells. This brings, he said, the maximum royalty received by the government on this increased production to 55 per cent. He said that the government already received a maximum of 35 per cent.

Regarding the Teapot Dome reserve, the Secretary said that under the court decree of September 29, 1927, all production operation of the receivers on Reserve No. 3, ceased at midnight December 31, and all wells were closed as of that date and now remain closed.

"There were sixty-two producing wells in this reserve at the termination of receivership and twelve gas wells, all of the latter being already shut down," he continued. "All wells will be continued in a shut-down condition for the present. Close observation of gas pressure will be made and future action will be guided by the results of those observations."

FALL READY TO TELL OIL STORY

butions to any campaign fund except as hearsay.

"I do know of the matters concerning the lessee of the three naval oil reserves and, of course, I know more or less of financial transactions as recently testified to by Mr. Everhart concerning the Three Rivers ranch property.

WILLING TO TESTIFY

"What I meant to say and I mean now to say is that I am perfectly willing to testify to all matters within my knowledge upon the subjects indicated. With due respect to your committee and the Senate I may state now positively despite what is known as the McLean letter dictated to me and addressed to the committee, I was ready and willing later to give all information in my possession to the committee, but by the terms of Senate resolution No. 54 I regarded myself as having been convicted by the Senate and committee and feared that testimony given by the before the committee and not under the protection of a court would have tended to convict me in a judicial form.

"My understanding of the law has been and is that with my consent my codefendant, Mr. Sinclair, can propound interrogations and the government cross-interrogations in the judicial proceedings pending and use my answers just as if I were present in court.

"Do you not think it best to await temporarily the court's action in the premises? I stated in a written communication to Senator Walsh at Palm Beach that I might have something further to say at a future day upon the subject of this investigation.

"May I now be allowed to respectfully request that if at any time after considering the matter suggested the committee decides to interrogate me that Senator Walsh in person attend any such meeting, as from personal acquaintance I know of his eminent legal ability."

POSTPONEMENT TO BE ARGUED IN COURT

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Whether Harry F. Sinclair will go on trial the second time on April 2 on charges of having conspired with Albert B. Fall, former Interior Secretary, to defraud the government in the lease of the Teapot Dome naval-oil reserve, will be argued tomorrow before Justice Bailey in District of Columbia Supreme Court.

Fall's counsel will present a motion to continue the case against his client on the grounds that Fall's health is such that it might cause his death to be compelled to come to Washington at this time. Meantime, the government has had physicians examine the former Secretary and if their report shows Fall's health is not as bad as indicated they will insist that he come here for trial.

FALL TERMS SENATE PROPOSAL "IMPROPER"

EL PASO (Tex.) March 21. (AP) Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, tonight said the plan advanced today by the Teapot Dome investigating committee at Washington to send a subcommittee to El Paso to hear his story of the oil leasing seems an "improper and unfair" procedure.

"The honorable Senators can travel over the country as they wish, but getting me to testify before matters connected with the trial are settled is something different," he asserted.

"I am willing to tell all and when I say all, that is just what I mean. But due regard must be paid to legal procedure," he concluded.

GIANT COAST AIR STATION PROJECTED

Federal Rights Asked for 50,000-Watts Radio Plant for Southland

WASHINGTON, March 21. (Exclusive)—Establishment of a radio station in Southern California with 50,000 watts power, which would make it the most powerful station on the Pacific Coast, is reported to be contemplated by the Pacific Broadcasting Company.

An application for transfer of Station KWTC of Santa Ana to the company is said to be en route to Washington to be filed with the Federal Radio Commission as the first step in the program. Gross Alexander of Pasadena, representing the company, has been here for several days, trying to pave the way for granting of the application for transfer and increase of power of the station. William G. McAdoo is attorney for the applicant.

The prospective application already has aroused intense opposition and will be fought, if pressed, by other Pacific Coast broadcasting interests.

It is pointed out that a station with 50,000 watts of power would tend to cause great interference with other stations. Only a few stations in the East have been permitted to use that much power, and then only for experimental purposes.

MEXICO BOBS UP IN RIVER PARLEY

House Committee in Row Over Sharing Water

Amendment to Leave Issue to Treaty Adopted

Arizonan's Boulder Plan Defeated in Voting

WASHINGTON, March 21. (Exclusive)—The Mexican water phase of the Boulder dam project was again the subject of bitter controversy in the House Irrigation Committee session today, and resulted in adoption of an amendment leaving settlement of the entire matter to treaty.

The amendment provides in effect that nothing in the Boulder dam legislation shall be construed either as recognizing or denying the rights of Mexico to a share of the water of the Colorado River. It was drawn by Representative Garner of Texas, one of the Democratic leaders of the House, and introduced in committee by Representative Hudspeth of the same State.

The charge was made by Representative Douglas of Arizona, Representative Leatherwood of Utah and other opponents that the purpose is to permit administration officials to carry out an asserted plan of repaying Mexico at the expense of the Colorado River basin for additional water in the Rio Grande owned by Mexico, which is wanted for use in irrigation projects in Texas. It was asserted that adoption of the amendment carries the promise of the entire Texas delegation to vote for Boulder dam.

SWING SUPPORTS MEASURE

Representative Swing of California, author of the House Boulder dam bill, supported the amendment.

Douglas proposed a clause limiting the amount of water Mexico may acquire out of the Colorado by treaty or otherwise to the amount she is now putting to beneficial use. This was rejected nine to seven.

The only other definite action of the committee today was to vote down an amendment introduced by Representative Douglas specifically placing the water of the Colorado under the control and sovereignty of the several States and requring in recognition of this principle that the Secretary of the Interior as administrative official of the Boulder dam project comply with the water codes of the State. It also provided that when a State objects to construction of projects within its borders provision would be made by the Secretary to compensate the State for use of its natural resources before work could proceed.

REIMBURSEMENTS

This was presented as a substitute for an amendment by Representative Arentz of Nevada, identical with the one adopted by the Senate Irrigation Committee last week providing that 37½ per cent of any excess revenues be divided annually between Arizona and Nevada to reimburse them for use of the property upon which Boulder dam is to be built.

No vote was taken on this amendment and it went over to Friday when another meeting is scheduled.

Representative Douglas termed the proposed "reimbursement" a "mere gesture" and declared under the plain wording of the amendment there never would be any money for the two States to divide. He hinted that Arenz and the Nevada Senators, by standing for such a provision, are misleading the people of their States and trying to justify falsely their support of the Boulder dam project.

Besides, Douglas said, such reimbursement is based upon the principle that the Federal government has sovereign authority over the waters of the Colorado River. "I want Arizona to get compensation," he declared, "but for my part compensation will have to come as a matter of right rather than as a gratuity."

MOUSE CHASES EX-GOVERNOR

Former Official Jumps on Table Because, You See, Women Are Women

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) March 21. (AP)—A woman may keep a tight gubernatorial rein on a rugged western State and never show a sign of fear—but when a mouse happens along that's a different matter.

Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross of Wyoming, who was one of America's first women Governors, was speaking to a large audience here last night when a tiny mouse ambled down the aisle.

"If I appear a bit disconcerted," she explained to the audience, "it is because a woman may be a Governor but she's always afraid of a mouse. If it comes up here, I am going to jump on the table."

And a moment later, as the mouse took the stage, that was exactly what she did.

WAGE PACT BREAK LAID TO SCHWAB

Mine Workers Charge Deal With Rockefeller to End Wages Agreement

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Switching its attention to the West Virginia phase of difficulties besetting the bituminous industry, the Senate Coal Investigation Committee today heard John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Charles M. Schwab arraigned by a representative of the United Mine Workers in connection with the abrogation of a wage contract affecting those fields.

Schwab was mentioned as a controlling factor in the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, said to operate "captive mines" through the Bethlehem Mines Corporation. Rockefeller was said to wield power in the Consolidation Coal Company of West Virginia.

These concerns were charged by Van A. Bittner, a representative of the United Mine Workers, with repudiating the wage agreement signed by Northern West Virginia coal operators and union representatives at Baltimore in March, 1924.

Bittner also charged that personal interest had prompted State Judge I. G. Lazzelle, at Morgantown, W. Va., to deny a petition in 1926 for an injunction to require the Paisley Coal Company to operate under the Baltimore agreement. He said Secretary Hoover had advised him that the agreement was binding, but that Judge Lazzelle turned down the request and sharply criticised the miners' union.

Later, he said, it developed that the judge was receiving as much as $60,000 yearly royalty from land leased by him to the Paisley interests.

Bill Asks for Canal Survey

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—An appropriation of $500,000 for an immediate survey of a prospective Atlantic-Pacific canal route across Nicaragua was asked in a bill introduced today by Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey.

The Senator has asserted that the Panama Canal must be enlarged or another built. His bill would authorize the Secretary of War to order the survey to determine the most feasible route across Nicaragua and the probable cost.

COPLEY URGES PRESS INQUIRY

Seeks Ending of Rumor His Papers Aid Utilities

Speedy Federal Hearing of Norris Report Asked

Legislative Slush Fund Charged by Johnson

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Immediate investigation of intimations that the string of newspapers owned by Ira C. Copley of Illinois, in California and in Illinois, were purchased for the "defense" of public utilities companies was demanded in a letter written today by John Callan O'Laughlin, vice-president of the Copley Press, Inc., to Chairman Humphrey of the Federal Trade Commission.

JOHNSON FILES LETTER

A copy of the letter was placed in the Congressional Record by Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, with a word of commendation of the record of Mr. O'Laughlin. The letter was followed by a demand earlier in the week by Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, for an inquiry of the Copley papers by the Trade Commission in connection with its investigation of the public utility power corporations.

"Mr. Norris repeated loose and false statements," Mr. O'Laughlin said in his letter, "reflecting upon the honor of Mr. Copley and his purpose in acquiring papers in addition to those he has owned for many years.

OFFERS TO AID INQUIRY

"In view of these statements and the objectionable and unfounded insinuations made Copley Press, Inc., respectfully requests the Federal Trade Commission to give immediate consideration to the subject matter of the remarks of the said Senator Norris. The commission unquestionably will realize, as do all fair-minded men, that slander to be crushed must be dealt with instantly; and it is in the firm conviction that this is the attitude of the commission that Copley Press, Inc., urges disposition of the matter at once.

"Copley Press, Inc., will be glad if the commission so pleases, to furnish all its records and correspondance files of the papers since Mr. Copley purchased them, to produce witnesses and, in short, to give the utmost co-operation to any inquiry it deems is desirable to make."

JOHNSON HURLS NEW CHARGE AT UTILITIES

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The assertion that efforts had been made to collect a "slush fund" to influence public utilities legislation, a fund which, he said, "would beggar anything of its kind" ever disclosed in the history of the country, was made in the Senate today by Senator Johnson of California, a Republican.

At the same time Senator Walsh of Montana, Democrat, charged that public utilities associations are "subsidizing lecturers and professors in colleges to instill in the minds of the youth of the land their peculiar views of public questions."

Senator Johnson read a photostatic copy of a letter which he said had been broadcast by Newton W. Harrison, president of the National Association of Owners of Railway and Public Securities, to holders of such securities urging them to unite for protection "against unsound public discussion and unwise legislation" and to contribute $1 each to that end.

HUGE NAVY FUND BILL REPORTED

Measure for $359,190,000 Expenditure Offered

House Committee Acts on Appropriation Plan

Increase in Amount Asked Laid to High Costs

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Proposing the largest expenditure for the naval establishment since the Washington Limitations Conference, the annual Navy Department supply bill was reported to the House today by its appropriations committee.

The measure's total, $359,190,000, was an increase of $20,384,000 above current funds, but a decrease of $1,388,000 below budget recommendations.

The committee report, drafted by Representative French, Republican, Idaho, said that the increase was brought about "chiefly by the mounting costs of naval aviation" and also by the "fact that all eight of the 10,000-ton cruisers authorized in 1924 will be under construction at one time."

"The committee can vision no prospect of declining naval costs in the immediate future," the report added. "Indeed, all indications point to an appreciable and immediate upward trend."

CAUSE OF INCREASE

The sixteen new warship construction program recently approved by the House, aviation, modernization of capital ships and the possibility of replacement of existing ships several years hence, were referred to as prospective causes of increased appropriations.

The report said that some economies could be effected, including the decommissioning of ships "admittedly of no military value."

For heavier-than-air aviation the bil allotted $31,315,000, an increase of $11,215,000, plus a contract authorization of $10,000,000. This would provide for the delivery of 271 new planes during the year 1928-29. In addition, $2,000,000 was recommended to start work on two new dirigibles.

MARINES INCLUDED

To complete the eight cruisers and two V-type submarines, all of which are expected to be finished by 1930, an appropriation of $48,000,000, an increase of $13,500,000, was recommended.

The Marine Corps received a total allotment of $24,186,000, or $1,104,000 above current funds. The report did not say whether any or all of this increase is necessitated by the sending of marines to Nicaragua and China. The appropriation would provide for continuing the corps at its present size, 18,000 men and 1176 officers.

The committee, however, did say that 7634 marines are on "foreign-shore duty in connection with carrying out our national policies" and that there is no expeditionary force under training and available for active service in an emergency either of peace or war.

Regarding submarine disasters, the committee said it has been prompted by the tragic S-4 crash to conduct exhaustive inquiry into possible ways of building or equipping the undersea craft to lessen the dangers, and that $200,000 has been provided for the Navy continuing safety-device work. Besides the present salvage ships Falcon and Widgeon, the report said that the Ortolan and two other vessels will be assigned to such work, thus providing a salvage ship each for the Atlantic, Canal Zone, Pacific Coast, Hawaiian and Philippine areas.

INCREASING CADETS

The committee specifically allotted $255,990 of the $2,005,483 given to the Naval Academy to increase from three to four the number of appointments each member of Congress may make. This would increase the possible number of midshipmen at Annapolis from 1710 to 2112. This recommendation was made, it was said, to prevent a possible shortage in officers, as aviation demands will be heavy and that on September 30, last, there were actually 5423 officers compared with an authorized strength of 5490.

The bill provided for maintenance for another year of an enlisted personnel of 83,250 men.

For completing modernization of the battleships Nevada and Oklahoma, $6,575,000 was provided and for the merchant marine naval reserve $45,308 was allocated. The committee said the general navy pay allotment would care for a "fleet reserve" of 1089 officers and 7596 enlisted men, and also for a "volunteer reserve" of 2607 officers and 10,845 men.

OTHER APPROPRIATIONS

Other appropriations included: For care of the Guam Island lepers, $35,000; for naval-training stations in California, $170,000; Rhode Island, $245,000; Great Lakes, $270,000 and Hampton Roads, $245,000, and for the Naval War College, Rhode Island, $110,000.

The same number of ships now in service, 318, would be retained in commission and funds were included to continue in condition the eighty-eight decommissioned destroyers at Philadelphia and the seventy-six at San Diego.

"Progress has been made in assembling outfits for all such vessels," the committee said, "and as to the group at San Diego it has been possible to effect repair work of a nature distinguished from preservation against deterioration."

For maintenance and improvements at various navy yards and docks throughout the country the bill made, among other allotments, the following:

MARE ISLAND DREDGING

Mare Island (Cal.) dredging, $100,000; improvement of old buildings, $75,000; improvements of shipping facilities, $75,000; improvement of power plant, $95,000; Puget Sound, dredging, $100,000, and $103,000 for other work. Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, to continue channel and harbor improvement, $1,250,000; water-front improvements, $300,000; for condemnation proceedings concerned with acquisition of private rights of a fishery, $20,000; torpedo station at Newport, $12,000. Mare Island depot for lighting protection, $70,000; San Diego training station, improvement of mess hall, $65,000.

Coco Solo, Canal Zone, submarine base, water-front improvements, $200,000; Pearl Harbor submarine base improvement, $350,000; Coco Solo air station, $620,000, and Sandpoint (Wash.) air station, $275,000.

GREATER AIRSHIPS PLANNED

Two New Dirigibles Will Eclipse Los Angeles, According to Moffett's Navy Bill Testimony

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Navy plans for two new dirigibles, each two and a half times as large as the Los Angeles and with a maximum cruising radius of 11,200 nautical miles, were disclosed by Rear-Admiral Moffett, naval air chief, in testimony on the annual Navy Department bill reported today to the House.

The ships will be 782 feet long, 132½ feet in diameter and designed to carry a crew of sixteen officers and forty-five men. They will have a maximum speed of seventy-five knots.

The committee allotted $2,000,000 to start construction of the air liners, which will cost $8,000,000. It is expected that the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Akron will build the vessels.

VALUE IN EMERGENCY

"In an emergency such as arose recently in Nicaragua, where marine reinforcements were needed in a hurry," the admiral said, "one of these large airships easily could have transported 100 or more marines and made the trip in a fraction of the time taken by surface vessels."

"They will be of great value in acting as convoys," he continued, explaining that "submarines fear them more than they do any other type of ship."

COAST DEFENSE FACTOR

He added that they will be of great value in coast defense as they will be able to cover tremendous areas and can be used for scouting at outposts, such as Hawaii.

Assistant Secretary Warner, in charge of naval aeronautics, also said the dirigibles will be of tremendous value in patrolling the Panama Canal zone area.

SENATE DUSTS OFF TAX BILL

House Reduction Measure to See Light April 3

Committee Awaits Returns to Gauge Slash Depth

Stormy Passage in Prospect; "Riders" Promised

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The House $290,000,000 tax-reduction bill will be taken off the shelf by the Senate Finance Committee on April 3 in an attempt to put through some relief measure before Congress quits, probably two months later.

Chairman Smoot of the committee named the date for consideration of the measure in the Senate today with the declaration that he had "no doubt there will be some relief enacted this session." As he spoke, the Treasury was compiling data on the first income-tax returns of the year, which will have a bearing on the extent of reduction at this session. On March 19 the Treasury had received $280,610,893, compared with $275,974,553 on that date last year.

COUNTING THE COST

The administration has given notice that the $290,000,000 cut voted by the House is too large and that any reduction must hinge on the prospective income for this year, as indicated in the first returns. For this reason Republicans of the committee have insisted upon waiting until this time before considering the bill. However, a surplus of $600,000,000 was piled up by the Treasury last year.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, asked today that the committee be called together earlier to decide whether hearings shall be held by the committee. Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, demanded hearings and Senator Smoot said this decision was up to the committee.

With little more than two months of life for the session in prospect, the tax bill faces rough passage, with attempts already promised to have added to it proposals for revision of the tariff and the Jones shipping bill, which was passed by the Senate, but which has not been taken up by the House.

SUPPORT FOR "RIDERS"

Coalitions of Republican Independents and Democrats supported both of these propositions in the Senate and are expected to unite in tacking them on to the tax bill.

Commenting on the House bill today, Senator Smoot criticized the change made in Section 220 imposing penalties for evasion of surtax payments through incorporation. He believes the new provision is more complicated than the present law.

Senator Simmons of North Caroline, ranking Democrat on the committee, stated he saw no necessity for hearings by the committee in view of the hearings held by the House Ways and Means Committee and the short time remaining for consideration of revenue legislation. He believes the bill can be reported out by the committee within a brief time.

San Francisco Takes Up Bridge With Congress

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The appeal of San Francisco for permission to bridge the bay between that city and the suburban districts on the Oakland side was presented today to the House Interstate Commerce Committee.

John J. O'Toole, City Attorney of San Francisco, telling of the needs of the bridge, said he believed the objections raised by the Army engineers arose from the belief of naval officers that a structure at the place designated would interfere with the movement of naval vessels.

Representatives Hoch of Kansas; Dennison of Illinois, and Wyant of Pennsylvania, Republicans, raised a question as to whether the bill did not carry a provision which would make it unnecessary for the War Department to approve the plans for the bridge. O'Toole said that this was the purpose of the provision.

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—A threatened opposition move by southern Democrats failing to materialize, the House today adopted the conference report on a bill to extend for one year the life of the Federal Radio Commission.

Counsel for Paramount Famous Lasky in applying for the extension of time, explained that their attorney in charge of the case now is abroad on a vacation.

ROAD PROJECT STARTS RECALL

Azusa Property Owners Try to Oust Councilmen

Two Candidates Chosen for Requested Election

Heavy Expense Objection to Street Program Cited

AZUSA, March 21.—A petition for a recall election to elect new Council members in the place of Mayor M. T. Darrel and Roy Martin, to be succeeded by R. B. Demmitt and Fred C. Stone, is being circulated today by the Azusa Citizens' Protective Association, of which Demmitt is president.

The petition asks that Demmitt be elected as Councilman in the place of Mayor Darrel, and that Stone succeed Martin on the Council board.

The Azusa Citizens' Protective Association, said to be made up of 241 property owners along Foothill Boulevard, took exception to the action of the Council at a session on the 12th inst., when, under the Mattoon Act, the $150,000 improvement of Foothill Boulevard, was ordered. Paul E. Kressley is the engineer of the project, and the contract is to be awarded within the next week.

The project calls for the widening and improvement of Foothill Boulevard from the Santa Fe Railway tracks on the west to Soldano street, at the east, and for the construction of a culvert across the boulevard at the intersection of Cerritos avenue.

Representing the Gillenwaters estate, which has large holdings on Foothill Boulevard, City Attorney Bidwell of Glendora, is co-operating with the Citizens' Protective Association in fighting the improvement, which, according to property owners in the improvement district, is too great an undertaking this year for the taxpayers.

A petition setting forth objections to the improvement is also in circulation.

Fontana Plans Vote on Fire, School Issues

FONTANA, March 21.—Two special elections are to be held in this district shortly, one for the purpose of voting a special tax appropriating $10,000 for additional school funds and the other for the formation of a fire district and the purchase of $15,000 worth of equipment and buildings.

The school-tax election is scheduled for the 31st inst., and the fire-district question is to come up before voters on April 10, next. It is pointed out by members of the elementary-school board and by Principal Ward W. Leis that the rapid growth of this community and the addition of an area two miles square, recently annexed from the Etiwanda school district, makes the voting of the $10,000 special tax a necessity.

Purchase of fire-fighting apparatus, placing of fire hydrants, erection of buildings to house the equipment and the defraying of maintenance costs are called for in the petition which resulted in the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors calling the April 10 election.

Monrovians to Support Hoover

About 100 Republicans assembled in the police courtroom for the meeting.

Resolutions upon which the club is founded cited the qualifications of Hoover, his ability in administering big business, his understanding of international problems and his interest in agriculture and development of foreign trade.

GET EXCLUSION FROM IRRIGATION DISTRICT

VISALIA, March 21.—Tulare County Supervisors have granted a petition for exclusion of about 4160 acres of land in the southern section of Tulare county from the Kaweah Delta Water Conservation District. A total of 1970 acres owned by the same petitioners in the district were retained also through stipulation. The exclusion leaves a total of 342,369 acres in the Kaweah Delta Water Conservation District and it is understood that other petitions are to be filed.

Leland Chamberlain, Leland W. Carr and H. J. Douglas were among the petitioners. Administrators of the last will and testament of the late Austie L. Douglas were also among the petitioners.

NEW ERA SEEN IN MEXICO

Engineer Cites Farm Development Made Possible by Series of Dams Now Under Construction

REDLANDS, March 21.—Barry Dibble, Redlands engineer, sees a great period of expansion in Mexico. He has just returned from a trip there, spending several months in making a survey for the Mexican government as consulting engineer on several large dam projects now under way in the vicinity of Monterey.

The combined dams will throw open for cultivation nearly 200,000 acres divided into small farms. The largest of the projects, the Don Martin Dam, is larger than the Roosevelt Dam in Arizona. It will supply water eventually to 160,000 acres. The Calles Dam on the Santiago River is much smaller, being built to irrigate about 25,000 acres.

It is expected that with the water for irrigation, vegetables which are not now found on the Mexican food lists will be produced in quantities. With the transformation of the barren, arid lands to thickly populated farming country, expected to be accomplished within a period of ten years, the development of Northern Mexico is believed assured, together with future prosperity for the entire country.

Although the dams are expected to be ready for use in May it is not expected that any use will be made of them until fall, as the rainy season begins in May and water will be stored behind the dams for use in the winter and spring months.

Dibble, in addition to acting as consulting engineer for the Mexican government, has also been investigating the possibility for the development of electrical power in connection with the dams. The probable outlet for electricity exists in Monterey, a city of 100,000 population and a manufacturing center, so that projects of that nature may serve to aid in the development of the nation. Dibble will return to Mexico the latter part of this week to pursue his investigation and to act for the Mexican government in the dam work.

ADVENTURE HELD LURE FOR GIRLS

Missing Upland School Children Reported Seen on Los Angeles Street

UPLAND, March 21.—Strange disappearance of Dorothy McKenzie, 13 years of age, and Glendora Alsup, 14, Upland school-girls, became more mystifying today as an intensive police search over Southern California failed to disclose a tangible clue.

The girls left home for school Thursday. They dropped from sight between their homes and the school building and no word has been received from them since.

Report has been made to police by an Upland business man that he thought he saw the girls in Los Angeles Saturday. He said at that time he did not know the girls had left their homes.

The girls are chums and were together constantly during hours when not in school. Parents of the girls have not placed much credence in kidnaping theories as they believe a spirit of adventure lured them away and that the girls have not met with harm.

AIRPLANE MAY SAVE MAN'S LIFE

Rattlesnake-Bite Victim Rushed to Fresno Hospital for Treatment

FRESNO, March 21.—Modern invention—the airplane — today won out in a race against death from the bite of a rattlesnake.

Struck by the venomous reptile while irrigating on his ranch at Ivanhoe, Tulare county, fifty miles from Fresno, where there was no antivenom serum available, E. W. Killian, 40, an Orange grower, was rushed to Fresno where the serum was administered at the Mullen aviation field by Dr. R. C. Hill, who accompanied the snake-bite victim on the aerial trip.

Immediately upon administering the serum, Killian and Dr. Hill left in the plane for Ivanhoe, from where reports late today indicated that Killian had better than an even chance for recovery.

THREE MEN INJURED IN AIR CRASH

State Farm Expert and Two Bakersfield Flyers Fall Near Wasco

BAKERSFIELD, March 21.—Prof. E. C. Voorhies, agricultural expert with the University of California traveling farm exposition, is in the Mercy Hospital here badly injured, and Ross and Wayne Peacock, young Bakersfield men, are confined to their homes as the result of an airplane crash near the Hoover ranch at Wasco late yesterday. The three men are said to have been making an aerial survey of the famous Hoover model farm for the benefit of Prof. Voorhies when the ship crashed.

Ross Peacock is an experienced pilot, and, with his brother and Prof. Voorhies, was flying a new Waco airplane owned by Don Cardiff, local aviator.

According to reports received here, the plane was circling over the ranch at a low altitude when it was seen to sideslip and crash. Airport officials expressed the opinion that an air pocket caused the accident.

Attendants at Mercy Hospital reported Prof. Voorhies has a severely injured back and several broken ribs. Ross Peacock received a fractured nose and his brother, Wayne, is suffering with a sprained ankle. All three were cut and bruised and the plane is said to have been badly smashed.

Death Strikes Man on Beach

BAKERSFIELD, March 21.—Harry T. Dillon, 52 years of age, prominent Bakersfield oil man and real estate broker, died last night at Morro Bay following a sudden illness during the afternoon while he was digging clams. Late today the cause of death had not been learned here. The body will be brought here tonight and funeral arrangements will be in charge of Flickinger mortuary.

Mr. Dillon is survived by his widow and a son, Harry Dillon, a local junior college student, both of whom left for Morro Bay as soon as word was received that Mr. Dillon's condition was critical, also a daughter, Dorothy Dillon, 8.

Mr. Dillon was born June 20, 1875 at Kane City, Pa., and came to Bakersfield in 1900. He was a prominent member of Bakersfield Elks' Lodge, and was well known throughout the community.

WOMAN THROWN IN ALLEY

Long Beach Police Hunt Driver Who Struck Down Victim, Dragged Her Off Street and Fled

LONG BEACH, March 27.—Said to be the victim of a hit-and-run driver who dragged her unconscious form into an alley and then drove off, Mrs. Ernest Smith, 1826 Olive avenue, was found before daylight this morning by Charles Edwards, 823 East State street.

She was rushed to Seaside Hospital, where some time later she regained consciousness and told surgeons that she had a faint recollection of being struck by an automobile last night as she was walking near the intersection of State street and the alley east of Olive avenue. She remembered being dragged from the street as she lapsed into unconsciousness, she told police. Her injuries, while severe, will not prove fatal, it was said at the hospital.

Edwards was passing through the alley early this morning when he stumbled upon the body of the woman. Police were notified and ordered her removal to the hospital. Evidence found by police at the scene of the accident shows, detectives said, that after striking the woman, the unknown automobile driver apparently alighted from his car, seized her body and half-dragged and half-carried her to a spot in the alley, where she would not be unobserved, and then drove away. He is being sought.

SECOND COEN TRIAL OPENS

Convicted Slayer Seeks to Escape Death Penalty

Guilt Denied on Grounds of Temporary Insanity

Same Jury Retained to Pass Upon Mental Status

HANFORD, March 21.—With a declaration from Dr. C. P. H. Kjaerbye, Fresno alienist, that the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. George Mace Artist by Perry A. Coen was "not a reasoned sequence," but an act committed in a state of "temporary insanity," Coen's attorneys today laid down the defense plans to escape execution of the death sentence fixed by the jury which found Coen guilty of first-degree murder.

Coen, alias J. J. Allendale, was found guilty of killing Artist and his wife with an iron bar on the morning of December 4, last, after spending the preceding night at the Artist home.

JURY RETAINED

Today's hearing was upon the second plea entered by Coen, that he was "not guilty by reason of insanity." Under the provision of the code as amended by the last Legislature that where a plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity" is entered after the trial on the facts results in conviction, the issue of insanity may be tried by the same or a different jury, Judge K. Vanzante designated the same jury to sit in the second trial.

Attorney J. C. C. Russell objected to the swearing in of the jury on the ground of prejudice. He also demanded the right to examine the jurors individually as to their qualifications and exercise challenges for cause and peremptory challenges, arguing that the proceeding was new and that all rights of the defendant in regard to the impaneling of a jury inhered.

OBJECTIONS OVERRULED

All of the objections and motions were denied and the case ordered to proceed. The defense then called Dr. Kjaerbye to the stand and sought to question him on certain facts set forth in affidavits from Dr. F. A. Carmichael, superintendent of the State Hospital for Insane at Osawatomie, Kan., as to insanity in certain relatives of the defendant, and from Sam Coen, father of Perry Coen, as to some facts in his personal history, but this was disallowed.

The witness was then propounded hypothetical questions by Attorney Russell. To these he replied that the conditions and circumstances did not indicate that Coen had been mentally abnormal prior to the time immediately preceding the act charged, but that the circumstances of the killing did not indicate that it was a rational act and that in his opinion at the time Coen was "temporarily insane."

JEALOUSY NOT MOTIVE

Dr. Kjaerbye was subjected to lengthy cross-examination by Special Prosecutor F. J. Pryor, as to the presupposition of jealousy in the mind of Coen, due to belief that his sweetheart, Isabel Artist, was slipping away, had supplied a motive. Dr. Kjaerbye replied that, if it had operated as a motive, it would have been against the girl, and not her parents, and if this were accepted, it, to his mind, was further evidence that the act was irrational. The defese will also call Dr. V. H. Podstaat of Livermore Sanatorium for Mental Diseases, and other witnesses.

The prosecution has summoned Dr. C. Trosson of Hanford, and Dr. F. P. Clark, superintendent of the State Hospital for Insane at Stockton. It is expected that the hearing will take two or three days.

GOLDFISH DOG DIET PROTESTED

Entire Ontario Police Force May Be Called to Protect Man's Backyard Pets

ONTARIO, March 21.—Goldfish and other ornamental varieties of the piscatorial tribe serve their purpose better as creatures to gaze upon rather than substitutes for dog biscuit.

I. B. Boller has one of the finest back yards in Southern California. It has captured a number of beauty prizes. Recently it has been mutilated by a pair of neighbor's dogs. The hounds have developed an insatiable craving for the fish and, according to Boller, who has applied to the City Council for help in keeping his fish safe from the dogs' dinner table, the animals dive into his fish pool and not only devour the fish but tear out his prize water lilies.

The Council refused to give him permission to use a rifle in protecting the fish from the dogs but recommend the use of a lariat. If he can't catch the dogs in the act the entire police force will be sent out to do the job.

INGLEWOOD, March 21.—In observance of their golden wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ferguson of 212 West Queen street held open house at their residence this afternoon and this evening, entertaining at a 7 o'clock dinner with thirty-two relatives from various Southern California communities as guests.

With his wife and daughter, Irene, he came to California in 1912 and selected Inglewood as their permanent home.

Mr. Ferguson and his wife are prominent in the First Presbyterian Church and he has been an elder for more than forty years.

All of their children were present at the dinner with the exception of the youngest son, Earl, residing in Michigan, who, with his wife and son, visited his parents here last fall. The children present were Theron J. Ferguson of Puente, Howard J. Ferguson and Mrs. Irene Ferguson Wood of North Whittier Heights.

LOSES HIS BANK ROLL

Frenchman Joins With Strangers in Business Venture Which Proves Unprofitable

LONG BEACH, March 21.—Joe Darin, 45 years of age, a native of France, is minus $8870 today but his education has been greatly improved. Darin, who speaks very little English, asked police this morning to find three one-time friends who, through the old game of "switch the satchel" fleeced him out of that amount.

Darin's education began in Fresno, where he met the three men who proposed that Darin pool his capital with theirs with a view to launching into some profitable business venture. Darin produced $8870, all he possessed, and turned it over to the men. They each put up several thousand dollars, Darin said, and the entire bank roll was placed in a tin box before his very eyes.

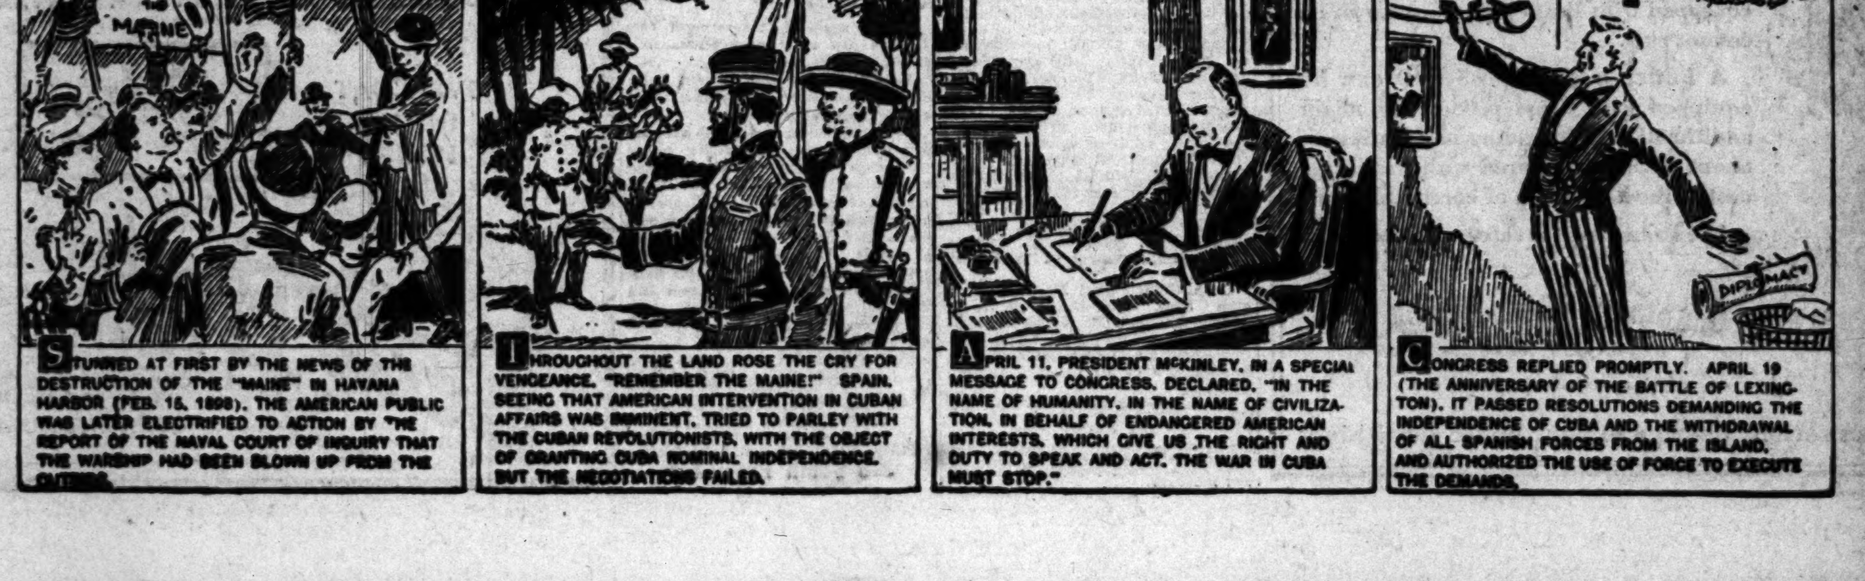
The box was turned over to Darin, as custodian, while his friends retained the keys. Then they left him, directing him to meet them in Long Beach on the 20th inst. Darin kept the tryst, but his business partners failed to put in an appearance, and today, becoming suspicious, Darin forced the box open. It was empty. The three companions had switched boxes in Fresno.

Detective Sergeants Alyea and Smith of the bunko detail were assigned to find the bunko men and attempt to recover Darin's money.

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 983

The Story of Our War With Spain. "Remember the Maine."!

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



STUNNED AT FIRST BY THE NEWS OF THE DESTRUCTION OF THE "MAINE" IN HAVANA HARBOR (FEB. 15, 1898), THE AMERICAN PUBLIC WAS LATER ELECTRIFIED TO ACTION BY THE REPORT OF THE NAVAL COURT OF INQUIRY THAT THE WARSHIP HAD BEEN BLOWN UP FROM THE OUTSIDE.

THROUGHOUT THE LAND ROSE THE CRY FOR VENGEANCE, "REMEMBER THE MAINE!" SPAIN, SEEING THAT AMERICAN INTERVENTION IN CUBAN AFFAIRS WAS IMMINENT, TRIED TO PARLEY WITH THE CUBAN REVOLUTIONISTS, WITH THE OBJECT OF GRANTING CUBA NOMINAL INDEPENDENCE. BUT THE NEGOTIATIONS FAILED.

APRIL 11, PRESIDENT McKINLEY, IN A SPECIAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS, DECLARED, "IN THE NAME OF HUMANITY, IN THE NAME OF CIVILIZATION, IN BEHALF OF ENDANGERED AMERICAN INTERESTS, WHICH GIVE US THE RIGHT AND DUTY TO SPEAK AND ACT, THE WAR IN CUBA MUST STOP."

CONGRESS REPLIED PROMPTLY. APRIL 19 (THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF LEXINGTON), IT PASSED RESOLUTIONS DEMANDING THE INDEPENDENCE OF CUBA AND THE WITHDRAWAL OF ALL SPANISH FORCES FROM THE ISLAND, AND AUTHORIZED THE USE OF FORCE TO EXECUTE THE DEMANDS.

Famous Flyer Receives Congressional Medal

flyer's desire to keep as far as possible from the public eye, his testimony before the Senate committee was given behind closed doors. Every member of the committee was present. At the other end of the Capitol, however, the public was admitted, and the aviator spoke before a large crowd.

He declared that the risks of the army aviation officer make it necessary that the rewards be adequate in order that a desirable type of men might be attracted to the service. The safety precautions of commercial flying, he said, must give way in military aviation to military effectiveness.

TAKES 106 FOR RIDE

"Active military flying," he said, "always will be hazardous. The expectancy of life of a flying officer probably is the lowest of any occupation in the world. It is discouraging for officers of the Army Air Corps to have rank quite junior to that expected in the positions they hold."

After the presentation at the White House, Col. Lindbergh repaired to Bolling Field, where a large group of Congressmen and Senators awaited their promised flights with the famous aviator at the "stick." They were taken aloft in small groups, for short flights over the Capitol.

In all, Lindbergh made twelve trips, taking 106 persons aloft. Many of them were friends or relatives of members of Congress.

Others who were the flyer's guests in the air today included a son of Representative Barbour, California.

of the day in giving their views. Among them Baron Rolin-Jaequemyns made the greatest stir, when, looking straight at M. Litvinoff, he cried:

"An olive branch is brandished over our heads in such a way as to resemble a cudgel rather than an emblem of peace. Hatred of our civilization is behind this project."

Commandant David Whitmarsh of Cuba reminded M. Litvinoff that modern arms, such as he wishes to suppress, were not always the favorite weapons in warfare.

"The people of Cuba," he said, "in their long struggle for independence used a single machete. That is what other peoples would do when determined to fight if unable to procure modern weapons."

FRENCH REPLY EXPECTED TO OPEN DOORS TO PEACE

PARIS, March 21. (AP)—A way to the attainment of Secretary Kellogg's ideal—a multilateral pact outlawing war—it is hoped and believed here, will be opened by the French reply to Washington's last note, which probably will go forward before the end of the week.

Foreign Minister Briand now is studying the draft. He will seek the advice of several colleagues on it individually since the next Cabinet meeting is not until the 29th inst.

It is understood that the reply will suggest a formula for safeguarding both the European obligations under the League of Nations pact and the American ones arising from the Monroe Doctrine. With this end in view, it will be proposed that the pact be not limited to the great powers, as envisaged by Mr. Kellogg, but be open to all nations.

TRIPARTITE NAVAL PACT SUGGESTED BY ITALIAN

ROME, March 21. (AP)—Ettore Bravetta, marine expert, writing in Il Messaggero today, advances the idea of a tripartite naval agreement between Great Britain, France and Italy. He says:

"Instead of seeking to reduce Franco-Italian naval power, would not England find it more to her interest to utilize that very power to free her from all fear for her communications, to free her from any subjection to America? A three-cornered accord would solve the problem and at the same time guarantee the safety of Europe."

Bravetta adds that Italy would expect in this connection provision of raw materials, coal and minerals to enable her to hold her projected place in the concert of nations. The country also would expect, he continues, that Great Britain and France would remedy "the injustices" of the treaty of Versailles in regard to economic and colonial domains from which Italy is suffering, for "in a tripartite accord Italy can be none other than an equal

VETERAN OF CHARACTER ROLES DIES

Thomas A. Wise, Shepherd of Lambs' Club, Succumbs to Heart Disease

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—Thomas A. Wise, widely known character actor and Shepherd of the Lambs' Club, died of heart disease tonight in his apartment at the Forty-fourth-street hotel. He was 63 years of age.

THOMAS A. WISE

Wise became ill while appearing in Chicago in "Behold This Dreamer" and returned to New York a month ago to recuperate. He collapsed yesterday as he was leaving the Lambs' Club.

Born in Faversham, Eng., March 23, 1865, he was brought to America when three years of age. He had earned his own living since he was 9 years of age and began his stage career at Dixon, Cal., in 1883. He first appeared in New York at the old Bijou Theater in 1888 as Arthur Wilson in "Lost in New York."

Notable roles he portrayed included Amos Bloodgood in "Are You a Mason?" William Peyton, in "The Prince Chap;" Senator William H. Langdon, in "A Gentleman From Mississippi;" Samuel Beekman, in "An Old New Yorker;" Phineas K. Bennett in "The Song of Songs;" Falstaff in "The Merry Wives of Windsor;" Alden P. Ricks, in "Cappy Ricks;" Sir Oliver Surface, in "The School for Scandal," and Clem Hawley, in "The Oak Soa.:."

He also wrote, with Harrison Rhodes, "A Gentleman from Mississippi."

GEN. CHANG MURDERED IN TIEN-TSIN

Chinese Military Leader Once Minister of War and "Hero of North"

TIEN-TSIN (China) March 21. (AP)—Chang Shao-Tseng, noted military leader, was murdered in a "Sing Song" house tonight.

Gen. Chang Shao-Tseng was commander-in-chief of the Twentieth Division of the Chinese army in 1911. He was one of a trio including Lan T'ien Wei and Wu Lu Ch'ien, known as the "three heroes of North China." This trio declared sympathy with the revolutionists and compelled the Manchus to promulgate a constitution of nineteen articles.

In 1912 he was Pacification Commissioner in Shanghai to expedite unification between the north and south and in 1916 Military Inspector-General.

Chang was appointed Civil Governor of Shensi in 1922 but did not assume office. He became Acting Minister of War and later was appointed Premier. Several years ago he fled to Tien-tsin when President Li Yuan-Hung was forced out of office.

Germany Finds Waterfalls in Crystal Cavern

BERLIN, March 21. (AP)—Several new large stalactite caverns containing lakes, waterfalls and hundreds of wonderful stalactites and stalagmites have been discovered accidentally near the flying ground at Plauen, Saxony.

The caverns were discovered by a workman who dropped a heavy steel bolt from the top of a quarry, the bolt crashing through the earth and exposing the opening of the cave.

The main cave is 370 feet long and 150 feet wide. The entrance has been sealed pending examination by experts.

Among famous stalactite caves throughout the world are those of Adelsberg in Syria, Jenolan in Australia, the Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, the Caverns district in France winner. At the Hoover dinner last night he spoke briefly to the point but every word counted. He ended his remarks in this language:

COOLIDGE AGAIN REFUSES TO RUN

TRIBUTE TO SECRETARY

"Mr. Hoover in my judgment has more of a national appeal and following than any man now being considered for the Presidency. He is a man of extraordinary ability, conversant with all phases of government activities, both foreign and domestic, and will make a great President. For this reason I hope he will receive the nomination."

Opponents of Hoover were dumfounded today when they learned that ninety-three Republican Representatives had been pledged to the Secretary's support at the Hoover dinner last night.

The comment of one of the veteran Republican leaders on the effect of the Hoover gathering sums up the situation in this manner:

"When a candidate can marshal ninety-three Republican Representatives in one gathering from the present House, and coming, as they do, from all the Republican sections of the country, as well as the Southern States, it shows better than anything else that Hoover is the outstanding Republican candidate of the party in spite of the opposition of a few of the old party bosses who want to trade patronage for the nomination. I firmly believe that Hoover will be nominated on the first ballot at Kansas City, and, further, that he is the only Republican candidate yet mentioned or in sight within the party who can defeat Gov. Smith of New York, who probably will lead the Democrats."

Representative Ketcham of Michigan, leader of the Michigan State Grange and in national agricultural circles, also added impetus to the Hoover movement today by re-emphasizing his support of the Secretary. He said the Michigan delegation will be solidly behind Hoover at the convention from first to last.

STATE LEADERS FORESEE HUGE VOTE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21. (Exclusive)—Republican party leaders who gathered at an impromptu meeting in the Palace Hotel here today informed each other that the campaign to win the Republican nomination for Herbert Hoover is "functioning perfectly" in every part of the State.

Because Lieut.-Gov. Fitts and Louis B. Mayer of Los Angeles, both Hoover delegates, happened to be in the city simultaneously on business, leaders of the Hoover movement speedily arranged an informal luncheon with William H. Crocker, Republican National Committeeman from California, as host.

Both Fitts and Mayer declared Southern California is a unit of unanimity in so far as Hoover's nomination is concerned, which brought the observation from Marshal Hale, chairman of the Northern California campaign committee, that this end of the State is equally as solid.

Crocker immediately seized the occasion to remind them that "we want to give Hoover a tremendous vote in his home State. Bend every effort toward increasing registra? tion."

"The harmonious manner in which the ticket of Hoover delegates has been formed is an evidence of the united front which the Republican party will put forward as far as this State is concerned," declared Mayer. "The only contest the Republicans will have at the polls on May 1, next, will be to see which sections of the State can give Herbert Hoover the biggest vote."

SAN MATEO'S SCHOOL RUMPUS STIRS VOTERS

SAN MATEO, March 21. (Exclusive)—Aroused by the recent disclosure of an $84,000 deficiency in the fund of the San Mateo Union High School District which threatened for a time to close two high schools and a junior college, citizens of the district are evincing such avidity in school affairs that an election scheduled for April 1 to fill two places on the board of trustees has brought out six candidates for the positions, a greater number than ever before. Campaigning has reached the acute stage. Closing of the schools was averted by a special tax election, after the superintendent and clerk of the board had resigned under fire.

King Amanullah of Afghanistan flew in a large Imperial Airways liner over the city, starting from Croydon and returning there after a swing through the air taking in the Crystal Palace, the Tower Bridge, St. Paul's, Westminster Abbey, Buckingham Palace, Chelsea, and the Southwest London district.

LOUDERBACK ON FEDERAL BENCH

Coolidge Finally Fills Seat in Northern District

San Francisco Judge Given Extensive Backing

Early Approval Expected on Appointment

WASHINGTON, March 21. (Exclusive)—President Coolidge, after many months of deliberation and investigation, sent to the Senate today the name of Judge Harold Louderback to fill the vacant place on the Federal District bench for the Northern California district which has been vacant more than a year.

Judge Louderback who was widely indorsed by laymen, lawyers and members of the State bench and by many of the fraternal and patriotic societies of the State, is now a member of the Superior Court of San Francisco. He was recommended by Senator Shortridge and because he was a former service man before going on the State court as judge he was also indorsed by the American Legion and various other military organizations. Senator Johnson had recommended for the position Frank Griffin, a former private secretary.

It is expected that the appointment will be quickly approved by the Judiciary Committee of the Senate of which Senator Norris of Nebraska is chairman.

LOUDERBACK FROM PIONEER BAY CITY FAMILY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21. (Exclusive)—Judge Harold Louderback, nominated for the Federal bench today by President Coolidge to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Federal Judge Partridge in May, 1926, has been a Superior Court judge since 1921 and at the present time is presiding judge. His term is until 1933.

Judge Louderback was defeated for police judge in 1916, but after his first term on the Superior bench, he was re-elected by a heavy vote in 1926.

The judge comes from a pioneer San Francisco family and was born here January 30, 1881. He was graduated from the University of Nevada and Harvard and was admitted to the bar in this State in 1908.

APPOINTED TO FILL LONG VACANT CHAIR

Judge Harold Louderback

Some of his outstanding cases include that of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, Tom Mooney and Dorothy Ellingson. In recent months, however, he was disqualified as biased in the multimillionaire Heath divorce case.

He is married, active as a Mason and a member of several civic and fraternal organizations.

He was a captain of coast artillery during the World War.

BEAVER MENACE RANCHES

CLIFTON (Ariz.) March 21. (Exclusive)—Beavers, protected by the State, have become a nuisance in the Duncan Valley, where they have been cutting canal banks and impeding the flow of water. Fully twenty miles of canals have been damaged. With the assistance of the State Game Warden's office, a drive has been started for trapping all the beaver in the valley, with plans for taking the survivors into the Prescott district, there to be liberated on the banks of mountain streams.

CHINA PREPARES TO RENEW WAR

Time of New Outbreak Being Kept Secret

Troops Being Concentrated and Ammunition Made

Gen. Chiang Predicts Peking Capture by June

[Copyright, 1928, by the Chicago Tribune]

SHANGHAI, March 21. (Exclusive)—Whether or when the active renewal of the Chinese civil war will begin, is being kept a dark secret in Nationalist circles, but military preparations on a gigantic scale rapidly are proceeding throughout the Yangtse Valley in South China.

The Shanghai arsenal for the last two months has been working twenty-four hours a day. The ammunition turned out is being shipped to northern Kiangsu. From there it is distributed along the Nationalist lines extending from the Yellow Sea to Honan Province, then northward along the Chihli-Shansi Provincial borders to Kalgan, north of Peking.

The Nationalist territory in the Yangtse Valley in South China is being drained of troops, which are concentrated along the front lines, where Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek claims 300,000 men now are in readiness to battle. In addition to the ordinary military preparation, Gen. Chiang announced today that a special propaganda corps numbering more than 1000 trained men also is being mobilized to institute propaganda work within Marshal Chang Tso-Lin's territory. The work is to be similar to the propaganda of last year, which was successful in breaking down the northern morale, simplifying the Nationalist army's job.

Gen. Chiang, who is the generalissimo of the Nationalist military forces, said today it was his belief that the Nationalist forces would capture Peking before June. He said that while Marshal Chang's forces are better equipped, the Nationalists are bound to win out "since the hope for China's unification and future world position rests with the Nationalist cause."

RADIO CHIEF TO BE NAMED

Successor to Admiral Bullard Selected

Orioles Feature Birdland Hour of KHJ

Station Running at Full Schedule

BY DR. RALH L. POWER

The selection of a man to succeed the late Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, as a member of the Federal Radio Commission, has been made by President Coolidge and his appointment will be announced shortly after Congress enact legislation extending the life of the commission for another year, it is understood in Washington.

The announcement of the new commissioner has been withheld by the President until he is sure he "has a hole to put him in," in view of the uncertainty as to what action would be taken by Congress with respect to continuing the commission. The position of commissioner on the radio board as an administrative function and the same position on the broad when it becomes an advisory body are two different things, it has been explained, and a man who might accept the former might not be willing to undertake the sporadic duties of the latter.

POSSIBLE VACANCIES

It is also considered probable that the President will be called upon to make two additional appointments to the commission, it being anticipated that neither Commissioners Caldwell nor Pickard will be confirmed by the Senate, the former particularly having a number of enemies at the Capitol. Commissioner Lefount, however, appears likely to be confirmed, his attitude and actions having favorably recommended him to the Senators who will have to pass upon him. Commissioner Sykes, already having been confirmed, is not concerned with any action which may be taken by the Senate.

The administration of the radio laws reverted to Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover on the 15th inst. as a result of the failure of Congress to enact the legislation which would continue the commission for another year, and was immediately handed back to the commission by him under that provision of the 1927 Radio Act giving him the privilege of referring to the commission "at any time any matter the determination of which is vested in him."

HOOVER RETURNS REINS

The action of the Secretary was forecast in Washington several weeks ago, when it became apparent that Congress would not enact the radio legislation before the expiration of the term originally given the commission. The status of the commission on the 15th inst. became that of an advisory body, to be called into consultation whenever the Secretary of Commerce deemed it necessary. The commissioners are paid on a per diem basis for such time as they actually served instead of an annual salary. In advising the members of the commission of his desire that they continue to function as heretofore, the Secretary expressed the wish that they continue to perform their duties until Congress had an opportunity to act upon the radio legislation.

The present schedule for Don Lee's KHJ calls for the transmitter to be on the air from 8 in the morning until the hour of 12 at midnight, with the exception of the 11 a.m. hour.

FULL SCHEDULE

This is for the week days. On Sundays the station goes on the air at 9:30 a.m. and continues to broadcast to 11 p.m., except for the silent period between 2 and 4 in the afternoon.

The Matinee Melody Masters on their matinee musical for today will be directed by Arthur Brooke, with a program of diversities including a nautch dance, a negro spiritual, a fantastic selection, and an American barn dance.

Probably the high spot of the evening broadcast will be the 9 o'clock hour, when the Orioles, a wood-wind combination recruited from the ranks of the staff musicians, will take the air.

"The orioles in birdland," will feature some Bendix compositions, namely, "The Magpie and the Parrot;" "The Broken Hearted Sparrow," "The Merry Lark" and "The Gentle Dove."

The hour will be concluded by the studio concert orchestra with Ivan Edwards, tenor soloist.

SHERIFF'S LECTURES OVER STUDIO LINES

INGLEWOOD, March 21.—The semimonthly radio programs sponsored by the County Sheriff's office will be given over KMIC as usual. The short talks on crime prevention are often given by Undersheriff Eugene Biscailuz, but because of his activity on the flood catastrophe and the Hickman case, other members of his force will sponsor the hour this month.

RADIO SUPPLEMENTS SUBMARINE CABLES

COPENHAGEN—Five radiotelegraph stations now supplement the submarine cable that connects Iceland with Denmark via the Faroe Islands, Department of Commerce reports from Copenhagen reveal.

What Doctors Think of the Laxative Habit

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clear-up the condition with some laxative made with CASCARA, there is nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice:

The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowel's muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on sometimes for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take only a candy cascaret. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purges that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from cascarets is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara; and any druggist has the candy cascarets.—[Advertisement.

ANSWERS TO PICTUREGAME QUESTIONS

PUZZLED PEGGY, San Pedro—There are some pictures for which one title or two, or maybe three, fit so perfectly that others are mere space-fillers. Now, if you fill three Answer Books are you permitted to use these very suitable titles in all three books, or must each one have a different set of titles? ANSWER—Same titles may be repeated in other books wherever desired. It is entirely optional with you.

A HARD WORKER—If I send three answer books, will they be considered separately or together, i. e., if I title 76 pictures correctly in one book will the wrong titles in the other books be added to the wrong titles in this book, or will my score stand "76 right—1 wrong"? ANSWER—Each answer book will be judged by itself, just as though it were the only one you sent in. Wrong titles will not be a factor in judging unless there is a tie in the number of correct titles.

L. C. S., Carpinteria—Will the judges draw out, say, 25 or 100 answers to choose from, thus making it partially a game of chance? ANSWER—Chance is not a factor. It's a matter of individual judgment. The judges will determine which is the best title for each picture, and these will constitute the master list against which all answer lists submitted will be matched or compared.

F. L. J.—If more than one Answer Book is sent in, will it be necessary to number them? ANSWER—It is not necessary to number them unless you wish to do so for your own use.

B. A. A., Los Angeles—May I submit one set of coupons, and also an Answer Book? ANSWER—You may.

MARY C. C., Los Angeles—You will have to use your own judgment as to what kind of title fits best.

TWO CHINESE CHILDREN FOUND BOUND TO BED AND STARVING

Near death from lack of food, two Chinese children yesterday were found tied to a bed from which they are said not to have been able to move for several weeks. The parents, so police reported, caused the mistreatment of the children.

The victims are Arthur Chan, 5 years of age, and his sister, Alice, 6. Both were in a coma when police, led by Capt. Littlejohn, broke into the house. The children were removed to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Chan, were arrested by juvenile authorities on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Other charges may be filed, police intimated.

According to neighbors, the parents often left the home, located at 2318 Maple avenue, and were gone for several days at a time. Their children, so it was reported to police, were left tied to the bed.

Chan is reported to have considerable interests in several stores in Chinatown. Police reported that the couple had a third child who died in 1926.

CLINICAL NOTE RULES IN 'CAPTIVE'

Bourdet Play Discusses Highly Unpleasant Theme at Mayan

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The fresh air may seem pleasant upon leaving the Mayan Theater, but one can find little fault with the art of Edouard Bourdet. Subtle poisons emanate from his play, "The Captive," as adapted by Arthur Hornblow, Jr., which opened last night, but they are skillfully mingled with antidotes of pity and pathos, so that at times their effect is almost counteracted—set aside.

"The Captive"—the dissection of a social cancer. Do not go to it expecting to be entertained. Do not seek it out looking aught of conventional enjoyment. It has nothing to offer of these. Its presentation of an unhealthy problem cannot even be casually treated while one is looking on.

The audience which saw this curious clinical drama last evening was almost constantly under its spell. There was light conversation about it between the acts, possibly, but with the unfoldment of the production itself there was only the silence intense.

I presume "The Captive" may be rated the most daring play that has ever been essayed in the theater. To say that it is the sort of play that should be presented in the theater raises questions so many and complex that they can hardly be determined here. These involve the persistent problem of whether the playhouse is designed for pleasure alone and whether it can ever be used for the discussion of themes that are usually relegated to the medical textbook, and that do not customarily find their way into the more agreeable sort of drawing-room debate.

Frankly, "The Captive" sets forth as its topic the soul torture of a woman who is held in bondage by an infatuation that invades the realm of abnormality and defies the natural rule of sex. The play's elements are those of the ancient tragedy, in that it deals almost entirely in suggestion. The object of the abnormal fascination never appears once upon the stage. When the heroine of the play removes the telephone receiver from the hook at the end of the first act, one views the most direct indication of the other's existence outside of the dialogue itself.

The violet episode has been much referred to, very lightly for the most part, but the treatment of it in the play is more than discreet. For the rest, "The Captive" spins only a strange lethal web of talk that ensnares as the plot moves on to the crushing, sickish end.

Technically, the first two acts of the Bourdet play are the best. The third, I feel, does not suggest the depth (in its beginning at least) of the others. It sounds a rather false note. This partly is due, I feel, to the lapse of time that is supposed to separate it from the close of the second act. There is something rather insecure about the whole psychology of the first scene. There is possibly some compensation in the actual close dramatically, although the note of moral depression here sinks to the depths. There is much of the morgue and charnel house in the creation as a whole, naturally, and one leaves the theater with a sort of dissatisfied numbness rather than anything else.

"The Captive" achieves its effect. That is why it may be rated art. Whether it is the sort of art that will find an audience response is a matter of grave doubt. It is the most clinical of plays perhaps since "Damaged Goods."

Naught was spared to make the production interesting. There has been no finer cast in any play here in many months. Ann Davis in the title part gave a performance of uncanny emotional power. The character is an elusive one at best, but Miss Davis's interpretation had strength and fibre and feeling that was at times stirring.

Kenneth Thomson and Olive Tell were two others who did exceedingly fine work. Miss Tell is a charming and polished actress, and Mr. Thomson's evenness in his work was a thing to be remarked. Lawrence Grant presented a very superior portrayal—in many ways one of the best. Charles Miller and Marian Sutherland were in other important roles.

Making Act is Job of Years

The notable "gob" act in Lillian Albertson's production of Vincent Youmans's nautical musical comedy, "Hit the Deck," now at the Majestic, was born in the New York Ghetto.

It was there that Jack Durant and Frank Mitchell, perpetrators of this tumbling and chatter manifestation which almost stops the show nightly, met—and practiced their act.

For twelve long years the boys got together on the East Side pavements of New York and there electrified the populace with their practicings. Twelve years they sighed to put the act on somewhere together, and it took twelve years for them to persuade a manager to put them on together.

Then Marco of Fanchon and Marco signed up Mitchell for California appearances and Durant came along to the West with him. One night Lillian Albertson saw them do their stunts together at the Boulevard Theater.

EXPERT CALLED IN

Fingerprint Technician Approves of Scene in "Interference"

The usual technical advice is a matter of routine for all theatrical productions, but for the first time in the annals of the stage a fingerprint expert was called on for his opinion of a certain scene in "Interference," at the Hollywood Play House. The complete eradication of all fingerprints from the props of this scene is essential to the sequence of the play.

"STUDENT PRINCE" COMING

"The Student Prince," which has been produced for the screen from the musical play of the same name by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, will open a week's run at the West Coast Uptown Theater Friday. The cast is composed of Ramon Novarro as Prince Karl; Norma Shearer as his pathetic sweetheart, Kathie; Jean Hersholt, Otis Harlan and many others.

Grown-up Star and Baby Star

Pauline Frederick and Mary Margaret Reid
Have much to do in "The Scarlet Woman," the comedy at the Belasco. Mary Margaret is 4 months old.

"TOM" CAST IS NOTABLE

With less than a week remaining for "The Patent Leather Kid" at the Criterion before the Richard Barthelmess vehicle gives way to "Uncle Tom's Cabin," that theater is playing to capacity houses, it is asserted. The booking schedule of the Criterion makes it impossible to keep the First National picture after Tuesday.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" has a celebrated cast, many of the principals having been starred in their own pictures. Among the players are Margarita Fischer as Eliza, Arthur Edmund Carew as George Harris, James B. Lowe as Uncle Tom, Mona Ray as Topsy, Virginia Gray as Eva St. Clare, Gertrude Astor as Mrs. St. Clare, John Roche as St. Clare, George Siegmann as Simon Legree, Lucien Littlefield as Lawyer Marks, Vivien Oakland as Mrs. Shelby, Aileen Manning as Aunt Ophelia, Eulalie Jensen as Cassie, Nelson McDowell as Phineas Fletcher.

The production was directed by Harry Pollard.

WOOD TO DIRECT M.-G.-M. STAR

Will Guide Footsteps of Norma Shearer in "Ballyhoo;" Lupino Lane Will Star in Shuberts' New Show; Dorothy Dwan Lead for Technicolor

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

NORMA SHEARER

A cable message received by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials yesterday from Norma Shearer and Irving Thalberg, who are now honeymooning in Europe, shows that the minds of the two are not wholly distracted from business even by romance and foreign sights.

That cablegram announced that Norma's next M.-G.-M. starring vehicle will be "Ballyhoo," a novel by Beth Brown which was recently purchased.

Sam Wood, said Louis B. Mayer, will direct the picture. That director now is busy cutting and editing William Haines's current starring picture, "He Learned About Women." When he finishes he will start collaborating with Frances Marion on the adaptation of the story, which, it is expected, will go into production June 1, as soon as Miss Shearer and Thalberg return from their trip.

While it is not definitely known who will play opposite Miss Shearer, it is hinted that Johnny Mack Brown probably will be the man. He has been coming along very well of late, and is much liked by the fans.

Lupino Lane's Big Contract

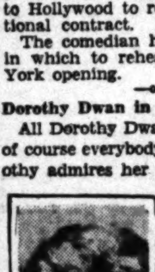
LUPINO LANE.

Lupino Lane departed hurriedly for New York yesterday in response to a rush telephone message from Lee Shubert offering him a Broadway starring engagement in one of the biggest musical comedy productions of the current season, "The Red Robe."

However, this does not mean that Lane is leaving pictures, as he is under contract to Educational to star in his own series of comedies each season. Instead of resting between seasons this year, Lane decided to enjoy his two months' vacation by returning to the stage. Originally he planned to make an Orpheum tour, but later decided to accept the Shubert offer despite a successful debut here last week. On or about June 1 Lane will return to Hollywood to resume his Educational contract.

The comedian has but four days in which to rehearse for the New York opening.

Dorothy Dwan in Colors



Dorothy Dwan.

All Dorothy Dwan's admirers, and of course everybody who knows Dorothy admires her beauty, are going to be delighted to know that she has been selected to play the lead in Technicolor's two-reel film play, "The Virgin Queen," that of the sweetheart of Sir Walter Raleigh. Forrest Stanley will play Sir Walter, while Aileen Manning has been selected for Queen Elizabeth. Roy Neill will direct. The picture will be released through Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

It is understood that later on Technicolor is to make a feature length picture for M.-G.-M., and it is just possible that Miss Dwan may also play the lead in that, especially as it is said that her coloring develops charmingly in the Technicolor process.

Leatrice Joy Awarded Lead

The question as to who will play the lead in Monta Bell's new picture to be made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is all settled, and Leatrice Joy, as prophesied heretofore in this column, is to have the role. The story is called "The Bellamy Trial," and in the picture Miss Joy will have a splendid acting opportunity.

It is likely, say the ones who know, that Miss Joy will play other pictures following this one, probably signing for three.

Play is Ranked as One of Best

"Two Girls Wanted," in its eighth week at El Capitan Theater, is one of the most successful productions staged by Henry Duffy since he took over the house last summer. There has been general commendation on the excellence of the production and the performance, and several visitors who have had opportunity to see the original company in the East have declared to Manager Matthew Allen that the El Capitan presentation is superior.

STAGE DETECTIVE IS VANISHING, HE SAYS

The bowler-hatted, mustachioed, cigar-smoking private detective of the stage is almost entirely passe, according to Howard Hickman, who is seen as the efficient sleuth in "Women Go On Forever," the current attraction at the Hollywood Music Box Theater.

"The modern detective," says Hickman, "is particularly noticeable for his clean-cut and business-manlike appearance, and one seldom finds him resembling the stage sleuth of olden days. And, anyway, how could the modern 'dick' be 'private' if he proclaimed himself as belonging to the profession, with regular trademark bearing and apparel?"

In the Bessie Barriscale starring vehicle at the Music Box, Hickman's work is outstanding and his interpretation of the detective role is winning him much praise.

"HIGH LIFE" CURRENT

"High Life" is the name given to the latest show at the Follies, the burlesque house. There are the usual songs, dances, patter and specialties. The players' names are Charles Fritcher, Henry Sherr, Dorothy Walton, Cecil Manners, Hazel Miller, Vivien May and Lee Murphy. There are thirty chorus girls.

HOUSE IS RENOVATED

Renovators have taken full charge of the California Theater and are working night and day to have it ready for the opening Friday evening of this week. The management promises the very best in motion-picture entertainment.

"BY WHOSE HAND?" FOLLOWS FORMULA

Mystery Melodrama at Tower is Distinguished by Work of Ricardo Cortez

Ricardo Cortez essays the role of a secret service operative and after a series of adventures against a background of Long Island society, tracks down a daring jewel thief, not forgetting in the midst of his endeavors to fall in love with a demure and pretty girl.

That, in short, is the plot of "By Whose Hand," a sugar-coated mystery melodrama from the studio of Columbia Pictures which had its first showing at the Tower Theater yesterday and continues there for a week.

Ricardo never looked more handsome. He is at all times the center of attraction in the picture and does by far the best work of any member of the cast. Fans who welcome a chance to see Ricardo in action will not be disappointed if they go to "By Whose Hand." They will not find the film in any wise out of the ordinary, although if they enjoy the regulation story-book mystery, highly decorated with shots of night-club life, and society at its richest, they will no doubt find it entertaining.

Eugenia Gilbert plays the part of the sweet-faced heroine.

For sheer drama, however, they should look to the Fox Movietone news reel with its version of modern events. They may see and hear the big dirigible Los Angeles coming to its moorings after the trial flight to Cuba, and hear the message delivered by its commander to those gathered to greet the big ship. They may not only see the milling crowd on the Paris curb during a market flurry, but may catch the deafening roar of voices excitedly calling orders. For those with an eye to fashions and bathing beauties, there is a shot of a bathing-suit style parade with its dictum for spring and summer.

There are three Vitaphone sketches on the new Tower program, one of the best of which presents John Hyams and Leila McIntyre in a dialogue and musical bit.

Although, of course, no one of the "talking pictures" has reached a stage of perfection, such realism is attained that the audience gathered at the Tower, following a bit that elicits pleasure, will break into spontaneous applause for the figures which are, after all, only pictured.

John McCormack Sings Tonight

John McCormack, the popular Irish tenor who will sing tonight at the Philharmonic Auditorium, stands inimitable in many things.

He sings the songs of his people and his land as no one else. He sings the songs of his faith better than any living singer and he sings Peri Handel and Mozart with the last touch of sculptural distinction and excathedra authority.

His assisting artists are Laurie Kennedy, 'cellist, and Edwin Schneider, accompanist.

By special request McCormack will sing Bartlett's "A Dream" instead of "The Cowboy's Lament." The complete program follows:

Margaret Mann Will Make Bow

Margaret Mann, hailed as the 60-year-old Cinderella of the screen, will appear in person at the Carthay Circle Theater tonight.

Mrs. Mann is the star of John Ford's tale of love and devotion, "Four Sons," which is playing in its eighth successful week at the Circle.

Up to the time that "Four Sons" was started at the Fox Films studio Mrs. Mann had only been one of the thousands in the extra ranks, although she had occasionally played little "bits" and had one important role in Allen Holubar's "Heart of Humanity." And then, with the opening of "Four Sons," she became a star overnight.

W. D. Horton is Happy Producer

The thrill that comes once in the lifetime of a theatrical producer has been experienced by W. D. Horton, who is staging the series of comedies at the Vine-street Theater.

On three consecutive nights, beginning last Saturday, Horton has been obliged to hang a "sold-out" sign on his ticket window before 8:30 p.m. And the reception that the star gets at every performance presages that Edward Everett Horton will eclipse the old Majestic days in his new series of comedies at the Vine Street.

The first of the series opened last Thursday. The play is called "A Single Man," and was written by Hubert Henry Davies. It served as a starring vehicle for Cyril Maude in London and was one of his best.

ADMITS RUSSIAN CONDITIONS BAD

But Dreiser Blames Them on Czar and the War

Says Soviet is Gradually Raising Social Level

Bulk of Population Living in Filth and Squalor

BY THEODORE DREISER

(Copyright, 1928, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, March 21. (Exclusive)—Never have I seen more genuine optimism, even enthusiasm, on the part of the worker and peasant, even on the part of a large percentage of the intelligentsia, who, whether they willed it or not at first, now find themselves involved in the present scheme of things in Russia.

For, say what you will, and as all appear now to recognize, here is a going concern, with plans and working methods which are directed not to special welfare of a few, but the welfare of all.

It may be as yet slightly down-at-the-heel or out-at-elbows in spots, but it is active and determined.

On the other hand, as you are troubled to observe after a time, that is not all of the picture, either. For only consider the condition of these people in the days of Czars, and, worse yet, since the close of the World War and the revolution.

Hunger, death for millions by starvation, no housing or lighting system worthy of the name, no roads, telephone or telegraph communication beyond those fixed and limited by Czaristic military and commercial regime, no educational and social program worthy of the name, oppression, high taxation, lords and slaves. And shot through all this, as it were, the world-old Asiatic fatalism, that meets change or death with indifference.

DREARY WASTES

There is, even now, the in-the-main treelessness of this vast country for hundreds and even thousands of miles in given directions; the fencelessness of it, for with the fewest exceptions there are no fences anywhere. The peasants of the villages find their allotted acreage about as a dog finds his bone. They know by faint markings or by instinct where their lines begin and end on the smooth, treeless steppes.

Naturally, when one thinks of the United States, the present condition of Russia seems still wretched, if not hopeless. When one thinks of Asia, however, India, China, Mongolia, the remote Siberian steppes, with their herdsmen in tents still wandering here and there, and starving, betimes, the present condition of Russia, with its energetic mental and economic determination, at least, to modernize and industrialize all this great empire, it is not so discouraging.

For already much, very much, has been accomplished. Telegraph, telephone, the radio for all Russia, the smallest villages as well as the largest cities, and various thoroughly equipped road lines extending in many directions. Not only that, but in so far as the revenues of the government will permit, every possible device, public and private, in industrial, commercial and private, as well as official, life, already actually there or in process of introduction.

And yet, by turns, and according to what one is looking at or thinking about at the time, one can become either abnormally optimistic or deeply depressed. I sometimes believe it is truly so with all Russians, even the leaders of the Communist party.

TRAVEL DIFFICULTIES

In illustration of what I mean, let me cite examples. I am going to Tula, a fairly large city near Moscow, 150 versts. I all but miss the train. As my soviet guide and I hurry down the platform the train is already pulling out.

"We must jump,' says my guide. "Any car. They are all terrible, but at the next station we can change."

Running, I manage to catch the handle of what looks to me like an American box car with about six small, dirty windows cut into it, and all tightly closed. It is fourth class. What in Russia is called a "Maxim Gorky." Inside it are packed about fifty people, men and women. But what people! And under what conditions!

I choke as I enter, for not only is the car full of vile smoke, but of even logy-looking humanity, as in stance, from dirty old sheepskin coats worn these now many years, the wool inside, the outside black with dirt! And odors of unwashed feet, with ancient wool socks over them, or none, and the same protruding from the ends of a line of wooden bunks or shelves four high, the lowest near the floor and the highest close to the ceiling, and on all of which are piled heavy and even loggy-looking humanity, as in a jail or inferno.

No seats, no ventilation, only noise, the rattle of the train and guttural conversation.

"Look out for your purse and watch," warns my guide. "Thieves ride on this train occasionally."

"All right, but good Lord, are there many such cars in Russia?"

"Yes, thousands. This and third-class. That's a little better, not so many bunks."

"But I thought . . . ."

"This is Asia, not the United States. And they don't take it as sadly as you do. They are pretty well satisfied because it is cheap. Besides, they will have to be educated up to something better."

"And they are being so educated, I assume?"

"Yes, but it takes time. This education program is only five years old."

"And where are they all going?"

"Oh, Tiflis, Baku, Batoum. This is a through four-day train."

"Four days in this car?"

"Very likely."

"No bath, no chance to take off their clothes and rest any better than this?"

"No."

I was half-sick and quite convinced that Russia was a total loss. No matter that at the next station I was transferred to a comfortable compartment in a clean, second-class car. I could not change my point of view so soon.

The very next day, in another city of 150,000, clean and new-looking houses, new factories and fairly good stores, a new street-car line, electric lights, busses, not bad-looking droschkys and taxis and considerable commercial activity, a seemingly clean, brisk city. Yes, I liked the city and felt encouraged. Russia was not quite doomed yet.

But en route to an old monastery where I was to spend the night, a low peasant village, half-hidden in the snow.

"You want to see the worst as well as the best?" (This from my guide.)

"Yes."

"Well, there are 120,000,000 peasants in Russia, some 6000 villages not unlike this one. I know this, for I was born here. Come with me and I'll show you the peasant at his lowest."

LIVE IN SQUALOR

So into the first peasant hut occupied by an old man and his wife, their son and daughter-in-law and three children of this younger couple, seven in all. And besides these, a cow and a goat and their droppings. And the room not more than fifteen feet square, an earthen floor with straw on it, a stove in one corner on which perhaps the patriarch slept, and for the rest bunks, shelves fastened to the sides of the walls.

And in one corner, away from the cow and goat, a table with some dough on it for bread, and a samovar for tea. But candles, and the windows sealed up for the winter, and thick, smelly shubas, (goat or sheepskin coats.) And on the wall, cockroaches without number, as well as an ikon with a candle before it.

"Well," said my guide as we came out, "there you are. The old generation and the new. That cabin is typical of our poorest peasant. Maybe there are hundreds of thousands like them. I won't deny it. But most of them live better." (Then he showed me two more just as bad.)

"But don't forget," he added, "that only a mile from here is a government agricultural station, with a tractor and an electric engine and a milk separator and a combination reaper and thresher, cows, horses and pigs and the latest theories and ideas on farming, intensive farming. But how to get at these fellows? Not so easy! Age-old customs. But they are, in most cases, receptive, interested and hopeful."

GOING TO JAIL NOW LUXURY

Chicago "Patrol Wagons" Have Upholstered Seats and Heating Plant

CHICAGO, March 21. (AP)—Even going to jail in Chicago has its compensations.

Six new "patrol wagons" have been put into service, robin's egg blue, with bright red tops. The interiors are padded, the seats luxuriously upholstered. There also are accommodations for straphangers when the riot business is brisk.

And the "wagons" are heated.

Mexico Avenges American Death

MEXICO CITY, March 21. (Exclusive)—Xavier Diaz, a Guadalajara merchant, was sentenced to four years penal servitude for the murder of Arthur Brewer, former Harvard football captain, according to official information furnished to the United States Embassy.

Brewer was shot by Diaz in June, 1927. Diaz thereafter avoided capture for three months, during which repeated urgent requests were made by the State Department at Washington for the apprehension and punishment of Diaz.

Brewer's case was among those in which the State Department has insistently demanded punishment of the slayer of an American.

LONG BEACH OIL LEAD PREDICTED

Petroleum Geologists Hear Problems Discussed

Requa Fears Politics Under Federal Control

Officers Unanimously Named on Single Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21. (Exclusive)—Conservation of oil, elimination of waste and the prediction that the Long Beach field will dominate 1928 production in this State marked discussions today at the tenth annual convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists. The first two subjects were dealt with by Mark L. Requa, director of oil conservation during World War days and nationally known geologist.

He severely arraigned the "political motives" behind activities designed to bring Federal control of the oil industry, saying, "I have no sympathy with such efforts because there is danger to the industry should the government take high-handed methods to force adoption of the ideas of theorists and those whose interest in the situation is wholly political."

NEW POOLS "MENACE"

Declaring he realizes there is a great deal of waste at the present time, he continued that each new pool discovered constitutes "a menace." Conservation can best be obtained, he declared, by improved methods "looking toward a maximum of efficiency in production, fabrication, distribution and consumption." Plans for conservation, he added, "should provide for conditions which may be expected fifty or seventy-five years hence."

The position of the Long Beach field in relation to this year's oil production was set forth by Austin Cadle, engineer for the Standard Oil Company of California. He said that in 1927 the Seal Beach and Huntington Beach fields were the principal factors in a production on a daily basis that reached approximately 632,000 barrels, in addition to which 70,000 barrels were shut in.

NET DECLINE NOTED

This was against a total demand of 686,000 barrels, resulting in a net decline of total stocks of 21,000 barrels daily or approximately 7,500,000 barrels for the year. Having presented the figures, Cadle said indications point to a domination of coming California production by the Long Beach field.

Nomination of officers met no opposition so a single ballot by the presiding officer made election unanimous of R. C. McFarland of Tulsa, Okla., as president; G. C. Gester, San Francisco, past president; J. E. Elliott, Los Angeles, vice-president; David Donoghue, Fort Worth, Tex., secretary and treasurer; John L. Rich, Ottawa (Kan.) editor. The last two named were returned to incumbent offices.

Percy Grainger to Wed Poetess

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) March 21. (AP)—The romance of a noted pianist and composer and a Swedish poet, painter and music lover stands revealed today with announcement of the engagement of Percy Grainger to Miss Ella Viola Strom.

The romance began on a Pacific liner a year ago when the pianist was returning from his native Australia, he writes in a letter asking Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Morse, his manager and secretary, to announce the engagement. It was promoted, he says, by a resemblance of Miss Strom to the family of his mother, since whose death in 1922 he has confessed to a feeling of loneliness and depression.

Mr. Grainger is 45 years of age and never has married.

DEATH ON CROSS DENIED

Swedish Surgeon Asserts Christ Merely Was in Stupor During Crucifixion

STOCKHOLM, March 21. (AP)—The theory that Jesus did not die on the cross is advanced by Dr. Hugo Toll, a prominent Swedish surgeon, in a new book which has caused discussion among Swedish clergy and scientists.

Dr. Toll, formerly a surgeon in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., chief surgeon at the Deakoness Hospital here and president of the Stockholm Society of Physicians, concludes that the Savior was not dead when taken down from the cross and that, after resting for some time in the grave, he regained consciousness and left the tomb in a normal way.

CITES WITNESSES

The doctor's conclusions are based mainly on analysis of the reports of witnesses present at the crucifixion, viewed in the light of modern medical science.

The author asserts that the crucifixion, which meant fastening the victim on the cross by the means of nails through his hands and ropes around his feet, could not have caused death, as the nails prevented bleeding. The head, mouth and throat, however, were emptied of blood which flowed to the lower limbs, he says, suggesting that it is therefore likely that Jesus soon fell into a deep stupor or swoon, mistaken by the soldiers and the spectators for death.

LAID TO EARTQUAKES

The removal of the stone slab closing the entrance to the tomb is explained by the author as possibly having been caused by an earthquake, a not infrequent occurrence in that region. Jesus then probably walked out of the grave, he suggests, and, remembering his sufferings, obeyed the instinct of self-preservation and hid, showing himself only occasionally to his most loyal friends and followers and behaving as a man would do under the conditions of grave danger.

Dr. Toll maintains that several facts point to the possibility that the Savior found his ultimate refuge at Srinigar on the Cashmere slopes, under the name of Izza. There is reported still to be an Indian sect calling itself the descendants of the followers of Jesus.

Twenty Millions More to be Used for Betterments, Board Chairman Says

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—Construction work, new facilities and improvements under way on the Southern Pacific Lines at the start of the year called for expenditure of about $11,000,000, Henry W. De Forest, chairman of the executive committee, announced today. Other additions and betterments, new construction and new equipment in part authorized since January 1 and in part still under consideration, may involve an additional expenditure of about $20,000,000.

"During the last three years the Southern Pacific Lines have made large capital expenditures for construction of new lines, double-tracking, new equipment and miscellaneous additions and betterments," De oFrest stated.

Included in the improvements authorized or under consideration, the chairman explained, are relocation of the Globe branch on account of construction of the Coolidge Dam in Arizona, standard gauging the Nevada, California and Oregon Railroad, a subsidiary, extension of certain double-track work, amplification of yards and freight terminal facilities in various cities, new and heavier ballasting, laying of heavier rails, purchase of new equipment and other additions and betterments.

ESPEE ADDS LARGE SUM TO BUDGET

Increase of $20,000,000 for Improvements During Year Announced

In addition to the $11,000,000 construction program of the Southern Pacific Company under way at the first of the year, an expenditure of $20,000,000 for improvements and new equipment has been authorized by the board of directors of the company, H. W. De Forest, chairman, announced yesterday upon his arrival in New York from a tour of inspection of the company's lines.

The result of expenditures in the past three years have not been reflected in the earnings for 1925 and 1926, and only partially in 1927, he stated. During this time the company has made large capital expenditures for construction of new lines, double-tracking, new equipment, and miscellaneous additions and betterments. These expenditures, according to Mr. De Forest, should insure greater economy of operation and the opening up of additional producing territory.

Included in the improvements already authorized or under consideration, is the completion of construction work in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas and the relocation of the Globe branch on account of construction of the Coolidge Dam in Arizona. The company is extending the double-track work of its subsidiary, the California and Oregon Railroad, and is expanding freight-yard and terminal facilities in various cities, besides laying heavier rails and purchasing new equipment.

Net Earnings of Magnavox at High Rate

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21. (Exclusive)—The semiannual report of Magnavox, released yesterday, shows 1927 last half earnings at the rate of 25 per cent on par, despite the fact that reorganization had not been completed and the momentum of the new organization had not been attained. The report shows a current position of four-to-one with net liquid assets of $358,892. Current assets were listed at $477,197, compared with current liabilities of $118,304. The figures are of December 31, last.

Sales in the last half of 1927 were $438,507; expenses, including all charges, were $347,938, and net profit available for surplus totaled $90,568, or equal to 12 1-2 cents for the half-year period on the $1 par value stock.

The plant is reported as manufacturing 600 loud speakers daily, is six weeks behind in its orders, and is shipping to every point on the globe monthly.

In addition the company is operating an aluminum factory that is producing through contract orders for such companies as Fageol Motors, California Transit Company, California State Automobile Association, National Automobile Club and others.

Savings Banks May Purchase Utility Bonds

As a result of recent legislation in the State of New York, electric, gas and telephone bonds with a total par value of $1,833,736,000, according to a compilation made by Stone & Webster & Blodget, Inc., investment bankers, will recome eligible as legal investments for savings banks in the State.

According to State Superintendent of Banks Frank W. Warder, the savings banks in the State of New York have resources of $4,730,805,806. Under the revised statute up to 10 per cent of that amount for each of the two classes of securities, or a total of $946,161,161 can be available for investment in public utility and telephone bonds which fulfill certain stipulated requirements.

The legislation is regarded as of far-reaching importance. Passage of the law is the culmination of the savings banks' long struggle to broaden the scope of investments.

Students Hear Bankers

Stockton Veazey, assistant cashier, and Yale C. Porch, comptroller of the California Bank, spoke yesterday before students of the Mt. Vernon Junior High School and the Roosevelt High School respectively. Mr. Veazey talked on "The Rewards of Saving Money," while Mr. Porch took the subject "What is Wealth?"

RUMOR PEDDLERS ACTIVE

Pacific Coast Securities Boosted by Extra Large Volume of Stock Market Tips

BY EARLE E. CROWE

More than the seasonal volume of rumors is assisting in the stimulation of activity in Pacific Coast securities. While merger yarns and dividend rumors are a natural phenomena of spring markets, it seems this year that the speculators are uncommonly enthusiastic, probably in reflection of the unprecedented volume of business going over the New York Stock Exchange and the feverish activity of professional pools in the East.

If the search is continued long enough the enterprising traders can hear interesting stories affecting virtually all leading securities listed on the Los Angeles and San Francisco stock exchanges. The particular favorites of the rumor venders in the last few days have been Paraffine, Los Angeles-First National, Pacific Lighting, Pacific Gas and Electric, Union Oil, Republic Petroleum and Richfield.

ROOFING MERGER FORECAST

Paraffine, the Pacific Coast company engaged in the manufacture of roofings, felt floorings, paper boxes, etc., is mentioned in merger rumors with Johns Manville, the roofing company headed by T. F. Merseles, former president of Montgomery Ward & Co. Relations have been close between the two companies, it is understood, and have emphasized the desirability of consolidation. Incidentally, it has been reported that Johns Manville has been considering the advisability of building a branch plant in Los Angeles.

Following a period of several months' relative inactivity, Pacific Lighting is back in the rumor list, this time on the report that New York Stock Exchange listing for the common will inaugurate operations for higher prices. Possibly the company also has plans for the extension of its investments in public utility companies. In the recent annual report the purchase of several small companies in Southern California was revealed for the first time.

Pacific Gas, which has staged a remarkable comeback marketwise in the last ten days, is the standard bearer around which Pacific Coast public utility traders are rallying. After having slipped back a few points the stock has now climbed back to around 49 where the action of the market indicates steady accumulation. The report persists that the Byllesby interests, already large stockholders, are seeking to enlarge their holdings through purchases in the open market. Another story, predicated on a proposal to increase the authorized capitalization, is that Pacific Gas is planning on some acquisitions of its own.

STORIES WARMED OVER

The oil stories are generally a warming over the same old conjectures that have already done their turn. Nothing new has been advanced along merger lines for Union Oil or Richfield, although Richfield did fulfill one of the current rumors when the directors yesterday raised the dividend, payable half in cash and half in stock. Republic Petroleum, in the lower price category, has been advancing on reports of the probable sale of the new deep sand properties, but President C. C. Spicer said yesterday that offers from several large companies have been refused. The company plans to develop independently.

Since the apparent collapse of the stories linking Los Angeles-First National in merger negotiations with San Francisco banks, including American Trust, and Anglo and London-Paris National, the speculators have been forced to fall back on the hypothesis of "another manifestation of speculation in bank shares."

Rights Offered to Stockholders of Schlessinger

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21. (Exclusive)—B. F. Schlessinger & Sons is offering rights to subscribe to additional preferred and common stock to present stockholders, according to a letter issued yesterday by President B. F. Schlessinger.

The company is offering 6997 shares of 7 per cent preferred and 8699 shares of Class A common to respective stockholders at the close of business April 4.

Preferred stockholders will be entitled to subscribe for one share of 7 per cent cumulative preferred for each four held at $92.75 a share, while common stockholders will receive the right to buy one new share of Class A stock at $23.19 per share on the basis of one new share for each ten held.

Payments are to be made in two installments, the first of $47 on the preferred by April 24, and the second of $45.75 on or before October 1, next.

Subscriptions of the A common are to be made on the same days on the basis of $11.75 a share on the first payment and $11.44 on the second. Fractional shares must be consolidated, Schlessinger said, by April 24 as new fractional shares will not be issued.

MANY BLUE-SKY LAW CASES BEFORE COURT

Sixteen cases involving alleged violations of the California blue sky law have been initiated by the State Corporation Department so far in March and now are pending before the criminal courts in Los Angeles county, according to a report made yesterday to Corporation Commissioner J. M. Friedlander by A. F. Harshbarger, head of the department's complaint and investigating division.

The report shows that indictments were returned or complaints issued against twenty-eight persons involved in these cases. In addition an indictment was returned by the Orange county grand jury charging three persons with illegally selling stock in that county. It was stated at the department that the complaints and indictments are the result of a persistent drive being made by the department against stock swindlers.

District Bond Company Plans Capital Boost

Stockholders of the District Bond Company met yesterday to consider a plan to increase the present capital from $1,000,000 to $2,500,000. Final authorization has been postponed until Thursday next, when the stockholders will again meet and definitely decide on the proposed increase.

President Harry Lee Martin stated that the purpose of the increase and to what use it would be placed would be made public after the meeting on Thursday.

Operating profit of the company for the twelve months ended December 31, last, amounted to $110,179, and expenses and taxes amounted to $81,848. Profits from sales aggregated $122,378, and dividends received totaled $7326. Interest and syndicate profits are not shown on the books until actually collected. The accrual in favor of the company as of December 31 amounted to $44,521.

Lemon Returns Set High Mark

PORTERVILLE, March 21. (AP)—The lemon crop this season has not only been the best in history, but the returns have been the most satisfactory ever received by the growers, according to Fred F. Heydenfeldt, manager of the Tulare County Lemon and Grapefruit Association of this city. To date the association has shipped 128 cars of lemons, including Lisbons, Villa Francas and Eurekas, with the first-named variety predominating. Twenty-five cars of grapefruit have also been sent out.

Starting September 1 last year and ending in December, the following net prices per box have been received:

September 1, $5.70 to $7.74; September 2, $5.77 to $7.71; October 1, $5.09 to $8.31; October 2, $4.48 to $8.23; November 1, $4.87 to $6.14; November 2, $3.56 to $4.94; December 1, $3.84 to $5.69; December 2, $4.02 to $5.47.

Pacific Lighting Seeks Listing

Following the annual meeting of the Pacific Lighting Corporation, held in San Francisco yesterday, Robert W. Miller, vice-president, announced that the plan to make application for listing the common stock of the corporation on the New York Stock Exchange was formally approved, and that proceedings to this end would be undertaken immediately. Application will also be made for listing on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The stock is already list and regularly traded in on the San Francisco Stock Exchange.

All of the officers and directors were re-elected at the meeting for the forthcoming year. The annual income statement covering operations for 1927 was mailed to stockholders about ten days ago.

HAY PRICES STEADY

Los Angeles Market Reported as Quiet and Unchanged

Hay markets were holding practically steady during the week ending the 17th inst., according to the weekly hay market review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Colder weather during the latter part of the week stimulated demand and offerings of good quality hay moved readily at most of the important markets. Scarcity of top grade hay resulted in a somewhat more active demand for medium grades and prices of lower grades held firm.

Alfalfa markets in the middle-western States continued firm with demand active and only moderate offerings. Kansas City had materially lighter receipts with good inquiry for both shipping and local trade. Alfalfa and mixed feed mills were active buyers. Omaha reported good shipping demand with prices firm at recent advances. There was a brisk inquiry for good dairy hay at Chicago and Minneapolis. Colorado hay was moving readily into shipping or consuming channels. Colder weather in the Yakima Valey district retarding growth of pastures and increasing demand for dairy hay caused a slightly firmer market. The Los Angeles market was quiet with buyers awaiting the heavier offerings of new crop alfalfa from the Imperial Valley. The Salt Lake City market was firm with active demand for top grades but lower grades moving more slowly. Mill demand for United States No. 1 alfalfa was very active.

MAKIN JOINS BOND STAFF OF SEABOARD

Harold A. Makin, who was formerly with Dean Witter & Co., has become associated with the bond department of the Seaboard National Bank, according to an announcement yesterday by Nolan Browning, manager of this division of the institution. Mr. Makin has been in the bond business in this State for many years. He is a native of California and a graduate of the University of California and is well known in financial circles in the Southwest.

RICHFIELD FORECAST FULFILLED

Oil Company Announces Dividend Rate Increase in Cash and Stock

Fulfilling the expectations of the stock market, directors of the Richfield Oil Company yesterday increased the quarterly dividend rate on the common stock from 25 cents a share to 50 cents, payable 25 cents in cash and 25 cents in common stock at par. The latter action is subject to the approval of the State Corporation Department.

James A. Talbot, president, announced that the company through its fiscal agents, Bond & Goodwin Tucker, Inc., and Newberger-Parsons Company, will arrange for the purchase and sale of fractional shares of stock that may arise out of the issuance of the stock dividend.

Action of the directors in increasing the dividend, Mr. Talbot said, is in recognition of the present rate of earnings and its substantial growth in earnings and assets in the past year. The dividend increase in stock will give the stockholders the benefit of increasing earnings without impairing the working capital position of the company, he explained.

The dividend on the common is payable May 1 to stock of record April 5. Directors also declared the usual quarterly dividend on the preferred at the annual rate of 7 per cent.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1928, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, March 21. (By Wireless) Activity in the markets increased today with industrials in the Van and Courtaulds a strong feature. Oils were, however, dullish and gilt-edged securities were slightly easier, as were rubber shares.

Victor Talking Machine was another headliner in the industrial group and rose sharply. Iron and steels were better as a result of the recent Welsh coal developments. Vickers published an excellent report, showing a net profit of £993,00¢ against £562,000 last year. The balance sheet disclosed also that the company is in very strong position.

Wireless shares were weak, partly because of the Mackay-International combine in the United States.

India's gold demands were considerable, the metal going direct from the Cape.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 21. (Exclusive)—The cotton market made a new high record in the range of prices in the early trading today for the present calendar year by advancing 8 to 11 points over yesterday's strong closing which had shown an advance of between 30 and 45 points from Monday's final prices. It was a broader and more active trading market than for some time past.

In this advance March contracts went up to 19 1-2c. May, 19.55c; July 19.46c for the old crop against 19.09c for October of the new to 19c for December. Although the Liverpool markets did not fully respond to our sharp advance of late yesterday, prices for both spots and futures there were higher and there was a large amount of new local buying by important trade interests here and Wall-street houses.

The higher range of prices, however, brought out such a large amount of profit-taking and fresh southern selling, prices reacted during the late afternoon to about 10 and 12 points on the average from yesterday's final quotations. Even with this setback, however, the market still showed a good undertone of strength up to the close.

Current prices show a maximum recovery of between 210 and 250 points from the season's lowest levels reached for the general contract list here on February 2. This is equivalent to between $10.50 and $12.50 a bale. Prices for spot cotton on the principal southern markets now range between 19c and 19 3-4c per pound for middling with the highest at Galveston, Savannah, New Orleans, Houston and Augusta.

At Liverpool today's sales were 10,000 bales. Futures there after advancing 6 to 8 points in the early trading lost it all from profit-taking, but rallied and closed firm at a net advance of 7 to 9 on the day against 8 to 10 that should have been held to have met our closing advance of yesterday.

BACKWARD LOOK AT STOCKS

Arrival of Spring and Recent Market Activity Held Opportune Time for Survey

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[Copyright, 1928, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, March 21.—The official arrival of spring makes this an appropriate time to survey the market performance in the last ten days of "spring rise" that exceeds all records for bullish activity on the stock exchange.

If a spring rise is usual, 1928 will go down on the records as regular. Contrary to opinion the benefits of the advance have been spread over a variety of stock groups very different in character. Industrial shares have risen to a new record peak 54 points above a year ago, whereas the rise in railroad stocks has lifted them up 18 points higher.

The interesting aspects of the bull market do not appear until industrial stocks are viewed, not as one large family, but as a series of individual members. Recent acceleration in stock-market activity has brought new peaks in groups as different as motors, motor accessory, chain store, chemical, electrical equipment, farm machinery, food, textile, theater, traction and mail-order stocks.

Motor stocks have jumped to 451 from 257 a year ago. Automobile accessory issues to 809 from 438; chain stores to 581 from 428; chemical to 214 from 182; electrical equipment to 388 from 258; farm machinery to 251 from 167; food to 442 from 327; textiles to 50 from 37; theaters to 191 from 190; tractions to 318 from 223; mail-order houses to 322 from 183.

Surprising will it be to those who thought this a specialty market to find so long a list of industrial groups rising to new high levels. Significant is it also that only two important groups on industrial stocks, the petroleum and sugar lists, now stand lower than at this time last year. Petroleum stocks have fallen to 104 from 106 and sugar stocks to 56 from 68.

While the predominant movement throughout the entire stock market has been upward not all sides of the list have benefited equally from the advance. Some groups have doubled in value within a year. Others have lost ground.

In the stock market as in industry the strong are benefiting at the expense of the weak. The 75 per cent rise in automobile stocks within the last year is astounding, but it by no means represents an upsweep in values distributed evenly among the motor makers. In this group, as in many others, the lion's share has gone to leaders in the industry where through consolidations and efficient methods individual companies have been able to enlarge their earning power at a pace faster than normal.

MIDWAY NORTHERN OIL MEETING HELD

Only routine business was transacted at the annual meeting of the Midway-Northern Oil Company yesterday. All directors with the exception of M. M. Miles were re-elected for the ensuing year. B. E. Sisson was elected to the board to succeed Mr. Miles. Officers re-elected include J. K. Burkett, George B. Bush, Charles A. Cole, R. S. Field, Charles Lloyd, W. B. McCullough and W. S. McGiffert.

Appealing to the Conservative Investor

The steady growth in popularity of the Investment Trust throughout America has brought into increasing prominence a class of securities designed to meet the requirements of the most conservative type of investor. Debentures of properly organized and managed trusts are, in effect, commercial paper of the highest grade. The entire assets of the issuing corporations usually consist of highly liquid securities having a market value greatly in excess of outstanding obligations.

A security of this character, designed to meet the most rigid investment requirements, is found in our recent issue of PACIFIC INVESTING CORPORATION 20-year 5% Debentures, due 1948.

Assets of the corporation as of December 19, 1927, consisted of domestic and foreign securities, cash, and short-term notes amounting to over $2200 for each $1000 debenture. Over 95% of these securities were listed on the New York Stock Exchange or the New York Curb. Careful restrictions regulate the issuance of additional obligations.

Each $1000 debenture carries a warrant, non-detachable until January 1, 1929, entitling the holder to receive without cost three shares of common stock. The potential value of this privilege is indicated by the fact that the present market price of the common stock is approximately $20 per share.

We are offering these 5% debentures priced at Market, to yield about 5.20%. A complete descriptive circular will be mailed you gladly without obligation.

Oil Stocks Again Lead Market Into Higher Levels; Record Prices Smashed

New record prices continued as the feature of operations yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange in one of the most active trading sessions of the year. Richfield was again the outstanding leader and with Union Oil and Republic Petroleum moved into still higher territory. Trading, though most active in the oil list, was well diversified. Several new peak prices were recorded and previous highs well sustained throughout the entire market.

Richfield, with more than 20,000 sales to its credit, added ½ to its top price of the previous session to record a new peak at 32 1-4. The stock closed at 32 1-8. Union Oil of California rose to another new high at 51, but at the end of the session closed 1-8 to 50½. Union Associates gained 1-4 to 50. Republic Petroleum moved up 7 cents to a new high of 39 and closed at 37.

Bancitaly Corporation was up 3-8 to 193 3-8, while Bank of Italy closed down 1-4 to 295. Los Angeles-First National, after touching 134, closed off ½ to 132. The rights lost 10 cents to 3.60. Southern California Edison moved up 1-8 point and sold fairly steady at 47 7-8. Pacific Clay Products advanced 1 3-4 to a new high of 33 3-4.

Pacific Lighting common stock featured the unlisted division and on a large turnover advanced 2 points to a new top of 81. Crown Willamette Paper sold to a high of 24 1-4 and Caterpillar Tractor, up 1 1-8 to a new top of 66, closed finally at 65 1-4. Richfield preferred sold to a new high of 24 1-4.

A total of 313,992 shares were transferred. Bond transactions aggregated $82,000.

TRADING FEVER CONTINUES HIGH

to allay fears of an immediate credit stringency, although the prospects of a resumption of gold shipments to England because of the recent advance in sterling to the "gold export point," and the possibility of a sharp advance in brokers' loans this week, were again sources of uneasiness. Weekly steel trade reviews were a little more optimistic in character and improved trade conditions were reported from the oil and copper industries.

Heavy buying of United States Steel common, which advanced 4 points to 150, or within 2 3-4 points of the year's high, was one of the day's features. General Motors advanced nearly 5 points to another new high at 177 7-8 and closed within a small fraction of the top. Radio, after opening 2 points lower at 153, rallied to a new top at 162 1-4 and then slid back to 155, unchanged on the day. General Electric advanced more than 4 points to 145 7-8, the highest price since the stock split-up a few years ago, and backed up to 144 1-2.

Victor Talking Machine convertible preferred added 17 points to its gain of 13 1-2 points yesterday, closing within a fraction of the record high of 172 1-4, while the common stock showed a net gain of 8 1-2, at 86 7-8, after having opened with a block of 10,000 shares at 88. Case Threshing soared 17 points to 292, but lost 4 1-4 points on realizing. United States Cast Iron Pipe moved up 7 points to 260, a gain of 53 1-4 points in three days.

PRICE IMPROVES

Among the many issues to better their previous 1928 maximum prices were Art Metals, Atlantic Refining, Bucyrus Erie Steam Shovel, Butterick Publishing, Commonwealth Power, Du Pont, Graham-Paige, Hupp Motors, Hershey Chocolate common and preferred, Madison Square Garden Corporation, Richfield Oil, Sinclair, Texas & Pacific Railroad and William Wrigley.

Mackay Companies advanced nearly 5 points on the announcement of its merger with International Telephone, but lost more than half its gain. International Telephone closed 2 1-2 points net lower at 157 1-4. Most of the rubber shares were heavy.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Spanish pesetas dropped 5 points to 16.79 cents, but most of the other foreign exchanges were firm. Sterling cables ruled unchanged at $4.88 1-4.

Commodity markets moved within narrow and regular limits. Grain futures were slightly firmer while cotton lost a small part of yesterday's gains. Sugar quotations held steady and coffee advanced 7 to 21 points. Crude rubber dropped nearly a cent a pound.

Corn Futures Edge Along to Higher Levels

CHICAGO, March 21. (Exclusive)—A wave of speculative buying swept over the grain markets early today, and near-by deliveries of wheat, corn and oats sold at a new high on the present movement with the deferred deliveries of corn, and all deliveries of rye at a new high on the crop. Heavy profit taking developed toward the last and the finish was on a good reaction with net gains of ¼@⅞c on wheat, ⅝@¾c on rye, the latter on March, while corn was ¼c higher to ⅜c lower, and oats unchanged to ⅜c lower.

Houses with foreign connections were on the buying side of wheat early, and found offerings very light, and there was also free buying by several strong commission houses. Many of the locals went along on the advance, and sellers of offers were forced to protect themselves. Later there was profit taking, and selling against offers, and some of the early buyers went out of their lines on the way down, the reaction in corn having some effect. March acted tight at times, and there was 55,000 bushels booked to come here from Omaha and Kansas City.

Foreign news on the whole was favorable for holders, and the United Kingdom and the Continent were good buyers of Manitobas, taking 900,000 bushels to 1,000,000 bushels in all portions. Liverpool closed ⅛@⅜d higher, while Buenos Aires was unchanged to ½ lower, with Rosario off 1@1⅛c. Winnipeg acted heavy and finished unchanged to ¼c lower. Crop reports were spotted, with conditions generally unfavorable in the central west. Based on the government estimate on farmers, intentions to plant, a spring wheat acreage for the country of 20,394,000 acres is looked for this season, against 20,711,000 acres harvested in 1927. Buying of wheat against sales of corn by local spreaders was in evidence at times.

March oats acted tight early, and sold up to 59½c, a new high on the crop, and went to a premium of 1c over May, only to react almost as sharply as they had advanced early. Longs sold the deferred deliveries freely. Weather was favorable for seeding which is progressing rapidly. There was some oats sold to the seaboard for export, but quantities were not given.

There was a fair export business under way in rye, but the seaboard failed to give quantities. March acted congested and sold up to 1.26 and closed there, a new high for the season. Selling was largely in the way of resting orders.

Eastern interests were the best buyers of lard against sales of corn. Trade otherwise was small with scattered selling. At the close lard was 2½@5c higher.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Part of today's run was late in arriving; however, with fairly active demand early, a good clearance was made. Later trading on the inbetween grades of steers and she stock was slow and draggy, with prices tending lower. Prices were uneven, but steady to weak on all classes.

Three cars of good 1060-pound Imperial Valley fed steers topped at 12.00. A small lot of 800-pound Utah steers turned for 10.75, while a seven-car string of 1018-pound grass steers from the flood district realized 10.00. Half a load of common 937-pound California grassers made 9.35, while a load of 921-pound Imperials went over for 9.75. Small lots of very common steers sold down to 8.00.

She stock offerings were limited mostly to common and medium grades from 6.75 to 8.35, including Utahs, Imperials and California grassers. Odd head and small lot of 800-pound Utah steers turned for 9.00, with heifers higher. A car of mixed cutter and common 984-pound cows made 6.50, while most of the cutter and low cutter cows turned from 4.00 to 6.00. Bulls were in light supply from 6.50 to 7.50, with cutter and common kinds down to 5.50.

CALVES—Demand was not overly active and trading was rather slow on a steady to weak basis. The bulk of milk vealers went over from 13.50 to 16.00, including a car of 272-pound Californias at 15.10. Plain vealers and calves sold from 9.00 to 12.00.

HOGS—A fair clean-up was made of the day's moderate receipts at uneven prices, mostly steady to 5c lower, quality considered. The day's top was 9.60, with the bulk of 140 to 200-pound weights selling from 9.15 to 9.60. A part load of 202-pound local fed trucked in butchers made 9.00. Packing sows were most numerous from 7.00 to 7.50.

SHEEP—Yesterday's supply, all ewes, was cleaned up at about steady values. Two decks of good and choice 100-pound fall shorn Imperial Valley fed ewes cashed for 8.25, with a 15 per cent sort at 6.60. Good and choice light weight wooled lambs were quoted from 13.50 to 15.00.

CHATHAM PHENIX NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY, Trustee

Mr. O. R. Seagraves, President of the Company, summarizes his letter of March 6, 1928, to us as follows:

COMPANY: South Texas Gas Company, organized under the laws of Delaware, will own and operate approximately eighty miles of existing main trunk lines, field gathering lines and necessary appurtenances for the transmission of natural gas from the Jennings, Carolina-Texas and Cole fields of Texas, and through subsidiaries will engage in the production and distribution of natural gas for domestic and industrial consumption through 130 miles of existing distribution lines and 5,500 consumers' meters in Laredo, Aguilares, Oilton, Bruni, Mirando City and Hebbronville, Texas. One of the principal customers is Laredo Electric & Railway Company, a subsidiary of Middle West Utilities Company. Gas will also be sold to the irrigation districts immediately north and south of Laredo and wholesale at the city gate of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. The total present population to be served by the Company, directly or indirectly, is in excess of 60,000. The properties will also include a cracking plant to be constructed in Laredo using natural gas for fuel.

GAS SUPPLY: The Company will own or control, through lease or gas purchase contract, gas rights in approximately 28,000 acres of land in Webb, Duval and Zapata counties of Texas. In the opinion of Ralph E. Davis, Engineer, the Company will own or control producing gas wells on such acreage having an aggregate open flow capacity in excess of 156,000,000 cubic feet daily and reserves of 49,000,000,000 cubic feet, a quantity sufficient to constitute an adequate supply for the present markets over a period of twenty-five years.

EARNINGS: The result of the operation of the predecessor company for the year 1927, as adjusted by Messrs. Main & Company, Accountants and Auditors, and the estimated gross revenues and net revenues of South Texas Gas Company and its subsidiaries for the years 1928 and 1929 from gas production and distribution systems and from the operation of the proposed cracking plant as reported upon and under the conditions therein stated by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., Engineers, under date of February 23, 1928, issued after a detailed survey of the market available in the communities served, are consolidated as follows:

Gross Revenues..............................	$352,857	$514,763	$915,865
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes.......	100,025	240,362	487,866
Net Revenues (before interest, depreciation and Federal taxes)	$252,832	$274,401	$427,999
Maximum Annual Interest Requirements on this issue of Bonds..........................	130,000

Net earnings, as shown above, for the years 1927, 1928 and 1929 are equivalent to 1.94, 2.11 and 3.29 times, respectively, maximum annual interest requirements on this issue of Bonds.

SECURITY: These Bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on all of the fixed physical property of the Company including approximately eighty miles of main trunk lines and field gathering lines, and by deposit with the Trustee of all of the first mortgage bonds and capital stocks, except directors' qualifying shares, of the subsidiary companies owning the distribution systems, wells, leases, purchase and sales contracts, etc. Pipe line rights of way and gas rights may be subject to any existing farm mortgages or other liens.

The properties of the Company and its subsidiaries have been valued by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., Engineers, and Ralph E. Davis, Engineer, at a figure substantially in excess of the amount of this bond issue. These Bonds will be followed by $1,050,000 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock and 100,000 shares of Common Stock, without par value, to be presently outstanding.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of these Bonds are to be used in part for the acquisition of properties, extension of pipe lines, construction of cracking plant, for working capital and other corporate purposes.

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us, subject to approval of counsel. All legal proceedings in connection with this issue will be passed upon for the Bankers by Messrs. White & Case, and for the Company by Messrs. Vinson, Elkins, Sweeton & Weems, Houston, Texas. Engineering reports by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., Engineers; and geological reports by Ralph E. Davis, Engineer. It is expected that temporary bonds will be ready for delivery on or about April 3, 1928.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—A number of new highs for the year, or longer, were established in today's active bond market, and prices generally followed a firm trend. Resumption of the outward movement of gold attracted attention, $2,000,000 going to Germany and half that amount to England, but as this became known after the close of the market it had no influence on prices. Time money rates ruled unchanged.

Announcement was made that the last of the New York City 4s, offered about two weeks ago, had been sold. New issues, otherwise, aroused little comment, with the exception of the report that the $35,000,000 Republic of Colombia 6s will be ready for the market within a short time.

In the listed market several low-priced rail mortgages were in active demand in new high territory. Outstanding among these were Des Moines and Fort Dodge 4s, Iowa Central 5s, and the Minneapolis and St. Louis issues. Standard railway bonds were rather quiet, although Chesapeake Corporation 5s touched par for the second time this year.

New York traction liens led the utility group, new high figures being received for Broadway-Seventh Avenue 5s, Third Avenue 5s and New York Railways income 6s.

Semispeculative bonds again dominated the industrial group. Andes Copper 7s were up more than 2 points to a new maximum of 131 1-4, but later lost nearly half the gain. Liggett & Myers 7s sold at 124 for the first time this year, and Pathe 7s (with warrants) scored a gain of 3 1-4 points.

Commercial Cable 4s and International Telephone 4½s both reached new peaks on announcement of the merger of the two corporations.

Fractional irregularity characterized the foreign group, in which some of the German, French and Latin-American issues made the best showing.

United States government securities were quiet and steady.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW York, March 21. (AP)—A new list of favorites, most of them industrial specialties, broke into record high ground on the curb market today. Profit-taking sales caused some recessions, but losses appeared chiefly in those issues which previously had received strong support. Utilities advanced under heavy demand and late buying served to buoy the oils and pipe lines.

Most shares continued the advance begun yesterday. Caterpillar Tractor again reached a new high, and Auburn Auto, Durant, Marmon and Wire Wheels showed gains of 1 to more than two points. Fageol, Franklin and Stutz lost ground, while Ford of Canada closed off a full point net.

Much of the day's trading was in Canadian Marconi, but it closed unchanged. Gains of 1 to 7 points were registered by Casein, Brill Corporation B, Celanese, New Mont Mines, People Drug Stores, Shattuck Den and A. G. Spalding. U. S. L. Battery advanced about 5 points on reports of improved earnings.

American shares of the French Line, first issue of a French corporation to be admitted to trading on the curb market, opened at 71, the offering price, but closed at 70½. Deere & Co. weakened under profit-taking and closed 1 full point lower.

A dozen public utilities, led by Power Securities preferred with a 6-point gain, and Central States electric, which soared 11 points, advanced to new highs. Electric Bond and Share and Puget Sound sagged.

Oils and pipe lines were somewhat improved today, Standard of Kansas and Cities Service B moving to new high ground.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high

SPRECKELS' GROUP GETS WAR THREAT

Plan to Sell Holdings in Federal-Brandes Meets With Opposition

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21. (Exclusive)—Coincidentally with publication today of the first annual report of Federal-Brandes, Inc., showing a net available for surplus of $631,950, an internal war among stockholders came to the surface.

William G. Marvin, representing a group of stockholders, threatened to obtain a court injunction to stop Adolph Spreckels and his associates in the company from further efforts to dispose of their preferred holdings at $165 a share. Marvin says they are entitled only to $110 a share under the bylaws of the corporation.

The flare-up comes from a plan evolved by Spreckels some time ago by which the 21,200 shares of preferred would have been exchanged for A common worth $165 with preferred callable at $110.

"My clients," said Marvin, "representing many thousand shares, have obtained a company that will underwrite the calling of the preferred and place a large sum in the treasury if any A common is to be sold. There is no need to give the holders of preferred, most of which is in the hands of Spreckels and his associates, more than they are legally entitled to."

The annual report shows operating income for the fourteen months ending December 31, last, was $11,-,679 against expenses of $10,314,-, leaving a net operating profit of ,951.

Other income totalled $1,114,991, bringing gross income to $1,840,542. After deducting $1,124,679 for income charges, including $155,536 as interest, a balance of $715,863 was available for dividends totaling ,912, leaving a balance of $631,- available for the surplus fund. The balance sheet shows current assets of $8,957,854, against current liabilities of $2,904,887, or a ratio of 2⅞ to 1.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, March 21. (AP)—Worsted types of domestic wools remain rather quiet except for some trading in medium territory wools for future delivery. This business is spotty owing to refusal of a number of dealers to sell their contracted wools of this kind. A little business is being done in spot fine Australian wools, and an occasional sale of South American cross breds is closed; demand is fairly active for wool lools. The demand is from mills and from dealers, and is to replace stock recently moved.

LONDON, March 21. (AP)—There were 11,833 bales offered at the wool auction sales today. It was a good selection of both merinos and crossbreds which sold to home, continental and American buyers at unchanged rates. Withdrawal of merinos was again frequent.

RUBBER MARKET

SHIPPING NEWS

SEATTLE PILOT GETS PORT JOB

Capt. Harry J. Allen Named to Vacant Post

Choice Made in Face of Many Local Aspirants

Board's Action Unexpected on Shipping Row

Los Angeles again reached beyond her frontiers for talent yesterday, when the Harbor Commission appointed Capt. Harry J. Allen of Seattle as a municipal port pilot. The action was taken in the face of many applications from equally competent masters, living in Los Angeles and paying taxes here, who have been cruising Los Angeles waters for years.

Capt. Allen's name never was broached in public meeting of the harbor commissioners, but it was learned yesterday that consent of the members was passed on quietly to Commissioner Clinton E. Burge that Allen would be acceptable, and he had been given full authority to act for the board, with the approval of Franklin B. Cole, general manager.

Allen assumes his new post today. He has been seventeen years with the Pacific Steamship Company, piloting the Admiral Farragut from Seattle to Alaska of recent years, with occasional trips as relief captain on Admiral vessels entering here. He fills the vacancy occasioned by the sudden death of Capt. Carl A. Heygendorf of heart trouble last week. While Capt. Allen lives in Seattle, he is expected to move to San Pedro at once, according to Manager Cole.

Ship owners had understood they would be consulted in the selection of pilots to handle their million-dollar ships, but they are again assured that they will be consulted in the selection of the next pilot, to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Capt. McFarland the 31st inst. No one will be made chief pilot, but the responsibility for the staff will nominally devolve on Capt. S. S. Sandberg, traffic manager.

WATER TAXI CRASHES INTO DREDGER BARGE

The water taxi Marcella II smashed into a dredger barge off Dead Man's Island in the fog while taking several dozen sailors back to the battle fleet at 1 a.m. yesterday, breaking her stem and causing her to be towed to Fellows & Stewart's yards for repairs. The passengers escaped upon the barge, from which they were picked up by another water taxi and taken to their ships.

California's plant quarantine staff, erected as a barrier against the entry of pests, is facing increasing demands in all quarters, according to L. A. Strong, assistant director of the State Department of Agriculture. He arrived yesterday to confer with A. P. Messenger, in charge of inspection at Los Angeles Harbor, and will continue to border stations today. Literally hammering at California's gates are the pink boleworm, appearing in new areas in Texas, and the white pine blister rust, which is spreading rapidly through Oregon. The dread Mediterranean fruit fly, infesting many foreign countries, has been turned back at a cost of unrelenting vigilance.

Death by drowning in a sea covered with burning oil, rather than instantly by a huge explosion, was the fate of the sixteen men on the tanker Chuky February 15, according to George Robins, bos'n. Robins and the last seven survivors arrived from Japan via Seattle on the Admiral Farragut yesterday. Although he was busy lowering a life boat from the ship's after half in which twenty-one of the crew rowed twenty-six hours to safety, he could see huge waves wash over the sinking forward half and carry men one by one into the sea of fire. Two deck boys dashing aft as the ship started to break in two were enveloped in oil, and became living torches before they leaped into the sea. With Robins are John L. Leslie, Erik Truelson, Oscar Kaldersaun, James Thomas, Barney J. Dreyfus, Henry Schulenburg and Henry Marks. Several are quitting the sea, but not so Robins; he has had thrills before and likes them. Others say Robins's lowering of the life boat under extreme difficulties was all that saved them.

Despite an increase in land rentals and pilotage collections, gross revenues to the harbor department dropped to $158,462.15 during February, $4000 less than for the same month last year. Principal items were wharfage, $78,527.04; land rentals, $23,502.30; pilotage, $18,555.14; dockage, $14,984.50, and belt-line railway, $10,978.62. Harbor commissioners failed to meet yesterday, President Allen being on flood-rehabilitation work, and J. H. Crawford being in the east.

Illustrating the growth of Long Beach's port, five lumber carriers were discharging simultaneously there yesterday and today. They are the Wellesley, F. A. Warner, W. R. Chamberlain, Katherine G. Sudden and the Eldorado. In discharging the latter, oil was found to have escaped into the hold from a leaking fuel tank, soaking 25,000 feet of finished lumber.

THOMPSON APPOINTED AS JUDGE

Young Disregards Valley Bar Recommendation in Superior Court Choice

EL CENTRO, March 21. (Exclusive)—Disregarding the recommendation of the Imperial County Bar Association, Gov. Young has appointed Vaughn N. Thompson, chief deputy District Attorney in this county, to the Superior Court bench as successor to John H. Larew, who was killed in an automobile accident in this city the 10th inst.

Thompson was advised from Sacramento that his commission is being forwarded. He is expected to take the oath of office within the next day or two.

The Imperial County Bar Association in a special meeting last week recommended John Stewart Ross for the post, Ross receiving nineteen votes to Thompson's nine.

The matter of Larew's successor caused a flare-up of the bitter political feud which centered around the judge's election here two years ago. The American Conservation Club, which has been a staunch supporter of the political policies of the Imperial Irrigation District, announced its indorsement of Thompson a few days after Judge Larew's death.

The Governor's action in selecting the club's candidate in preference to the attorney recommended by the Imperial County Bar Association, has served to revive temporarily the political animosities that have kept valley residents divided into two hostile camps for several years.

Capt. Wilkins Reported Safe

SEWARD (Alaska) March 21. (AP) Capt. George H. Wilkins, Australian aviator-explorer, and Lieut. Carl Ben Eielson, his Alaskan pilot, are safe at Point Barrow, preparing for their contemplated flight into the Arctic "blind spot" en route to Spitzbergen on the other side of the North Pole.

Fears that they had met with disaster Monday at the end of their hazardous 500-mile hop from Fairbanks to Point Barrow were allayed when Wilkins re-established communication with Seward last night.

El Gabinete Alemán Apoyado por el Reichstag en la Disputa con el Soviet BERLIN, Marzo 21.—La comisión de relaciones exteriores del Reichstag ha aprobado la medida tomada por el gobierno, consistente en dar por terminada toda discusión sobre la revisión del tratado comercial existente entre Alemania y Rusia, mientras no se aclare lo del arresto de seis ingenieros mineros alemanes, llevado a cabo en la región minera del Don. El ministro de relaciones Exteriores, Stresemann, discutió sobre el episodio con los miembros del Reichstag en sesión secreta, y acto seguido la comisión arriba aludida, con excepción de los comunistas, votó la aprobación de los procedimientos del gobierno. Se cree que las conversaciones con los rusos no volverán a reanudarse hasta que el nuevo Reichstag sea inaugurado, lo cual no acontecerá sino hasta mediados del mes de Junio. El Gabinete rompió las negociaciones porque el Soviet no contestó de una manera satisfactoria las representaciones que se le hicieron con motivo del incidente de los ingenieros. Se dice que éstos fueron arrestados por acusárseles de sabotaje en la región carbonífera.

Encuentro Entre Campesinos y Policías

BERLIN, Marzo 21.—Incitados por los Nacionalistas, un grupo de campesinos, tuvo un encuentro con la policía de Silesia, cuando se disponían a impedir un remate judicial de la propiedad de uno de los campesinos, atrasado en sus pagos de contribuciones. La policía los atacó con bastones, y los aldeanos los recibieron con palos, también teniéndolos a raya, hasta que se ordenó que fueran traídas ametralladoras y a su vista los jefes del movimiento juzgaron prudente suspender la resistencia a fin de evitar derramamiento de sangre, no sin que hubiera que lamentar cerca de unos veinte heridos, en el previo duelo a palos.

Mujer Impedida que Dirige, Sin Embargo, un Importante Diario

PARIS, Marzo 21.—Desde su cama de enferma en un departamento de esta ciudad, una mujer norteamericana dirige personalmente una de las empresas más grandes de periódicos que hay en el mundo, con una circulación diaria de más de 2,500,000 ejemplares. Se trata de la viuda de Pablo Dupuy, propietario que fue del "Petit Parisien", "Excelsior Dimanche Illustre" y varias revistas más. Desde que murió su esposo el año pasado, ha estado dirigiendo la vasta empresa periodística dejada por él. Recientemente tuvo que someterse a una muy seria operación, y tan pronto como estuvo en una convalescencia avanzada, emprendió de nuevo la administración del negocio por medio de un teléfono privado, colocado cerca de su cama, que comunica directamente con un tablero en la oficina. Dedica la mayor parte de su tiempo al "Petit Parisien", que tiene la reputación de ser el periódico de mayor circulación del mundo: cerca de 2,000,000 de ejemplares. La señora viuda de Dupuy, que antes de casarse se llamó Miss Browne, es hija de una antigua familia californiana, y dice que como todas las norteamericanas, siempre ha tenido una inclinación innata hacia el campo periodístico. "Estoy educando a mis dos hijos para que se hagan cargo del negocio cuando yo sea viejo," declaró. "La política que sigo como director es la misma que desarrolló mi esposo. Está basada en ciertas reglas de hierro: dar a la publicidad noticias presentadas con brillantes y cuidado, escoger bien los grabados, imprimir en un papel bueno, con anuncios verdaderos y eficaces."

Percy Grainger se Casa con un Poeta

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) Marzo 21.—Hoy se hizo pública la novelesca historia de amor entre el célebre músico, pintor y poeta, muy conocido del público, Percy Grainger, y la señorita Ella Viola Strom. Las relaciones entre ambos dieron comienzo en el curso de un viaje por el Pacífico, cuando él volvía de su tierra natal, Australia, dice en una carta a los señores F. E. Morse, administradores y secretarios suyos, para que den a conocer su compromiso formal de matrimonio. Parece que Grainger encontró en la señorita Strom un gran parecido con su difunta madre, desde la muerte de la cual, estaba entregado a una gran melancolía y depresión. El novio tiene actualmente 45 años y nunca ha sido casado.

McDONALD CLEMENCY AFFIRMED

Sparing of Woman's Life Made Official and Death for Husband Ordered

OTTAWA (Ont.) March 21. (AP)—The red gallows raised at Valley Field, Quebec, for the hanging of a husband and wife on Friday is to be used to carry out the sentence of death only against the husband, George McDonald.

The Governor-General today signed orders-in-council commuting the sentence of Mrs. Doris Palmer McDonald to life imprisonment, but affirming the death sentence imposed on McDonald.

Word of the commutation was sent by telegraph to Montreal and was carried to the young wife from the United States as she waited in the Fullum-street Women's Jail to be taken to Valley Field, with her husband. She received the information with tears, for she was told at the same time that there had been no mercy for her husband.

The McDonalds were convicted of the murder of Adelard Bouchard, a Lachine (Que.) taxi driver, whose body was found in a roadside pool of water last July. The young husband and wife were arrested the next month in Butte, Mont., and extradited to Canada, where they were convicted and sentenced to death in December.

SCOTTY AND RICH PAL ON VISIT IN CITY

Death Valley Character Tells How Pair Became Partners in Desert Life

Death Valley Scotty is at the Alexandria, and R. M. Johnson, his partner and millionaire president of one of the largest insurance companies in the world, is at the Biltmore. The two men are building a home—"just a home," as Scotty termed it yesterday, in Death Valle, which is to cost $1,500,000, "and maybe $2,000,000," Scotty added.

"I met Johnson on a street corner in Chicago and after talking a while he said, 'You wait here until I come back.' I waited eight hours and you know what that means to a restless desert rat. A few months later Johnson went with me into Death Valley. 'Here's where we are going to camp,' said I at a water hole. 'You have plenty of grub and the water's fair. On the other side of that mountain is good grazing for the mules. Wait here until I come back.' On the evening of the third day I returned.

"'Where have you been and what kept you?' asked Mr. Johnson. 'Why,' said I, 'the other side of the mountain. I had business there. Do you remember when you returned after eight hours to the street corner in Chicago and I asked you the same question and your answer was that you had business which detained you.'

"Well, we have been good friends ever since. He knows heaps of things that are all Greek to me and maybe I have something about life that he missed when he was working hard writing insurance and making all his money. The first thing I made him do was throw away all his calling cards. We don't use pasteboards on the desert."

Victim of Fall Will Recover

J. D. Millar, subdivider, recently injured while inspecting a house under construction in Beverly Oaks, is recovering, it was announced yesterday by Dr. A. H. Galvin.

In addition to double fractures of the shoulder and ankle, Mr. Millar received painful abrasions when he fell from a temporary scaffold. He probably will be unable to leave the hospital for a month.

Coroner Declares Fatality Was Accidental

University Bars Boxing Balance of Year

Father of Carnakis Sends Body of Son Home

Following closely the fatal victory of Miguel Carnakis, 21-year-old junior at the University of Southern California, in a four-round intramural boxing bout, Phillip Bromley, 19, his opponent, was exonerated of all blame in the death of Carnakis.

Bromley, who was held on a technical charge of suspicion of manslaughter when Carnakis died at Georgia-street Hospital shortly after the bout Tuesday night, was released from custody. His exoneration was included in the report of Chief Deputy Coroner MacDonald, who declared an inquest will not be held and that death was accidental, due to cerebral hemorrhage.

ALL ARE CLEARED

University authorities after completing an exacting investigation issued a statement in which all connected with the boxing contests were cleared of any blame in the death. They also announced that as a result of the fatality, boxing will be barred at the university for the remainder of the year. Other bouts scheduled in the tournament have been canceled.

In the official statement the university authorities declared that efforts to revive the stricken boxer were administered properly and that medical attention was called immediately after it was learned he was seriously injured.

Carnakis, who lived in Bakersfield, but who resided here at 2935 West Fourteenth street, and Bromley both fell to the floor at the end of the extra, or fourth round, called when a draw had been fought in the usual three-minute rounds. Carnakis was the first to regain his feet and was given the decision.

He was taken to his corner where he lost consciousness and was hurried to the dressing-room where he regained his faculties for but a few moments. It was at first thought he was suffering from fatigue cramps and was given first aid. When he fainted again, medical attention was summoned.

FATHER TAKES BODY

John Carnakis, wealthy Bakersfield theater owner and father of the boy, conferred with university authorities and later ordered the body of his son to be sent home for funeral services.

In the course of the investigation university authorities said it was learned Carnakis had an old skull injury which may have been directly the cause of his death.

The young man was prominent in Bakersfield high-school athletic circles as well as in junior college sport circles there. He entered S.C. in 1925. He was born in Greece, but came to Bakersfield with his family when but 2 years of age.

Bromley, who also was tired at the end of the bout and who yesterday was suffering from shock, was given a medical examination at Georgia-street station. Police Surgeon Lopovich reported the boy suffering as well from possible acute appendicitis. He was released to return to his residence at 335 West Twenty-seventh street, a men's dormitory.

According to Morris Chain, who helped second Carnakis, the latter was at first unwilling to fight the extra round to earn a decision but changed his mind and went on rather than appear a poor sport.

Conference on Reserve Bank Building Called

W. M. Hale, managing director of the Los Angeles branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of the Twelfth District, left for San Francisco last evening to confer with the institution's building committee regarding plans for the bank building to be erected at the northwest corner of Tenth and Olive streets.

In addition to discussing building details, the committee will select an architect, it is understood.

The property was purchased by the bank for $500,000, the William May Garland company handling the deal.

PAVING DEBATE POSTPONED

Consideration of the proposed paving of Curson avenue from Melrose avenue to Beverly Boulevard has been postponed by the City Council until June 20.

Salvation Army to Launch Appeal for $150,000 for Replacement of Girls' Rescue Home

The Salvation Army, whose Rescue Home for Girls was partially condemned and vacated a few months ago by order of the city, will launch an appeal next Monday for a fund of $150,000 with which to replace the old building, soon to be razed.

Inaugurating a campaign, which has been approved and indorsed by the Community Chest, members of the Salvation Army's advisory board, prominent citizens interested in the organization's work, and a large group of men and women enlisted as leaders in the campaign, will meet tomorrow evening at a 6:30 o'clock dinner in the assembly room at the Alexandria, when final plans for the appeal will be completed.

John R. Quinn, vice-president of the Seaboard National Bank and former National Commander of the American Legion, general chairman of the campaign committee, will preside at the dinner conference of Friday evening, and it is announced by him that no solicitation of funds will be made at this preliminary gathering.

The work of raising the funds needed for the rebuilding program will have the active co-operation of the advisory board, comprised of William May Garland, H. H. Hadleman, Charles H. Toll, J. Dabney Day, Joseph B. Dabney, Frank Ryan, Harry Chandler, H. W. O'Melveny and Charles S. Hutson.

Assisting Chairman Quinn as vice-chairmen will be James R Martin, Robert Ketchum, George Pfaffenberger and Frank Botsford.

Son Released From Foodless Prison

KIDNAPED BOY HOME AGAIN

Child Found Locked in Hotel Room and Police Search for Strange Couple

Wesley Dixon, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Dixon, 411½ South Burlington avenue, who disappeared from in front of his bungalow home at noon Tuesday was found last night at 6 o'clock in a room in the Palomar Hotel, 5473 Santa Monica Boulevard.

The parents of the missing child rushed to the police station in Hollywood and immediately identified their lost son. The mother was overcome with joy at the recovery, and both parents showed signs of the strain they had been under during the long hours of searching. The boy smilingly rushed to his mother's arms.

PARENTS PUZZLED

Efforts of the parents to get information from little Wesley as to his thirty-hour disappearance were unavailing last night. The boy told his father that "the man came in the yard and picked me up." But the rest of the story concerned only his long auto ride, and the nice way he was treated by the woman.

"We have no idea as to the identity of the persons attempting to abduct Wesley. We have no enemies that we know of, and the finding of our son under such strange circumstances only serves to deepen the mystery of his kidnaping. We cannot account for his disappearance, but will lend all aid to the police in solving the case," the father said last night after the child's recovery.

According to the report made to the Hollywood police officials by the owners of the hotel, the lad was brought to the hotel at midnight Tuesday by a couple who registered as Mr. and Mrs. De Bruller of Los Angeles. No special attention was paid the pair at the time they obtained the room, but it was noticed by Mrs. Charles Micheals, the clerk, that the woman kept the head and face of the child covered with a cape as she walked to the stairway.

NO FOOD ALL DAY

The child spent all of Wednesday in the hotel room without food, and only his crying late in the day caused other occupants to start an investigation. When found the boy was able to give his name as "Wesley," and that of his mother as "Edith." He was unable to tell of his movements from the time he was abducted by the mysterious pair, but told the police that the woman treated him very nicely, and during the afternoon and evening

Although the actual date of the founding of U.C.L.A., as the State Normal School, was July 24, 1919, the local university always participates in Charter Day exercises.

In the celebration at Berkeley a 1200-pound cake will be cut by Dr. William W. Campbell, president.

A banquet has been arranged tomorrow evening at the Los Angeles Country Club by the Faculty and Women's Club, headed by Mrs. Clifford L. Barrett. Director Moore will be toastmaster, with Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Sproul, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Rait and Mr. and Mrs. Schneevoigt as guests of honor.

CAT CEMETERY PLAN FAILS

Many protests against the proposed cemetery had been received by the Council.

OLD GRAY MARE IN COMEBACK

Just to Show Her Dislike for Autoists and Autos She Sits on Car's Passengers and Departs Only After Wrecking of Machine

The Old Gray Mare of songster fame, though still maligned, is much the same; and though the singers always wrong her, we offer proof there's no horse stronger.

No less a man will vouch for this than Undersheriff Biscailuz, who delved the tale of the deadly horse, from his daily batch of "hot" reports.

In Downey Town, not far away, this Old Gray Mare forsook her hay, and charged through a vacant alley, bound for the open, unfenced valley. Her mane was flying in the breeze, darkness hid her spavined knees, her heels were free of whiffletrees.

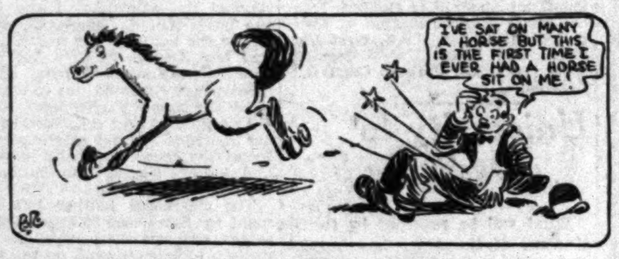
She dashed into the open street, the pavement spurned by flying feet, and there she saw a motor car, well-filled with gas to travel far. Harland Peters manned the wheel, of car that faced the iron heel, the kick of which it was to feel.

She headed straight—not for the barn—but for the car, in this true yarn, to take revenge on the iron toad that forced all horsedom from the road; leaped across the closed door, sat upon the laps of four, and snorted "always room for more."

The car was swerved into a tree, and naught was left but tin debris, resting mutely on its side, as tragic end of an evening ride. From the wreck the old mare leaped, to gallop onward down the street, seeking other cars to meet.

From out the wreck there crawled a girl, whose locks now hold a horseshoe curl, and through a circle black and blue, one half-closed eye was staring through.

"The Old Gray Mare that ain't the same, is just the fib of a poet's brain," the victims muttered in refrain.



I'VE SAT ON MANY A HORSE BUT THIS IS THE FIRST TIME I EVER HAD A HORSE SIT ON ME!

BOARD DEFERS MACKAY TRIAL

Civil Service Hearing Put Off Two Weeks

Defendant Protests Delay; Prosecutor Unready

Ellsworth Case Once More Thrown Out of Court

Hearing of charges of inefficiency and an "understanding" with Attorney Howell Richardson, filed against Chief Trial Deputy District-Attorney MacKay were continued two weeks yesterday by the Civil Service Commission on a showing that additional time is necessary for Attorney William J. Clark, who is acting in the role of prosecutor, to reply to allegations set up in MacKay's last-minute answer.

Attorney A. D. Orme, representing MacKay, insisted upon immediate hearing, but after a consultation with Deputy County Counsel Cross, legal adviser to the commission, the continuance was granted.

"HOGGED" RECORDS

Clark, in asking for more time, said MacKay had had the records of the four criminal cases in which his activities brought on the investigation in his possession until a few days ago. The answer was filed late Tuesday. The answer declares MacKay's method of handling the Zeah felony case was in keeping with the custom of the District Attorney's office, at which Clark expressed astonishment, voicing his belief that such a charge had never been tried in recent years.

In urging immediate hearing Orme said MacKay had been made the victim of "vicious attacks in the press" and that as a result his efficiency and morale were impaired.

"Other agencies with more drastic power than this commission," replied Clark, "are scrutinizing his activities, so a further delay in this hearing will not subject him to additional harassment."

SHOT AT COURTS

"These attacks," added Orme, "have undermined the morale of the entire District Attorney's office and the courts of Los Angeles county. The sooner we get this over the better for the people of the county."

Presiding Judge McLucas, interviewed later, said: "The morale of the courts of Los Angeles is high."

Orme said he wanted the commission to investigate why the charges were filed against MacKay, but did not shed further enlightenment upon the topic. He declared Dist.-Atty. Keyes wants to know if anything is wrong with his office and, if so, "he won't stand for it."

Dist.-Atty. Keyes was announced as one of MacKay's defense counsel. He did not appear yesterday, but will do so when the hearing gets under way, Orme said.

PROMISES JUSTICE

Assurance of fairness in the hearing was given by President A. C. Malone of the commission. George C. Mattison and Arthur G. Lindley are the other commissioners. Sam Chappell is secretary.

The complaint against MacKay, which attacked his handling of four criminal cases, was filed on behalf of Albert C. Ramsay, who investigated matters.

This morning County Counsel Mattoon will appear before Superior Judge Craig and ask that $5000, replaced in the county treasury by Attorneys Richardson and Benjamin Elconin as bail for Lewis Allen, be declared forfeited. The Allen bail started the series of investigations of Keyes and his deputies. The bail money was obtained by Richardson and Elconin following a motion made by Assistant Chief Deputy District-Attorney Murray, since vacated because of misrepresentation of facts. The return of the money to the county obviates the necessity of Mattoon suing for its recovery. The Allen bail-bond affair will be investigated by a State bar committee.

PROSECUTOR'S METHOD

A felony case against John Earl Ellsworth of 8619 Mary street was thrown out of Municipal Court for the second time within a week yesterday. The District Attorney's office issued a complaint against Ellsworth, in which a little girl was the complaining witness. The offense charged carries with it a sentence of from one year to life.

Municipal Judge Valentine presided at the preliminary hearing. The child's testimony was conflicting and Judge Valentine dismissed the case for lack of evidence. Ellsworth was rearrested as he left the courtroom.

The same testimony was put on yesterday before Municipal Judge Baird, he not knowing anything of the previous hearing. Judge Baird also refused to hold the defendant to answer on the grounds of insufficiency of the evidence.

G.O.P. Group Told Hoover Trend Grows

Herbert Hoover's candidacy for President of the United States will be supported by a majority of Republican leaders of the country, according to Russell Creviston, former national adjutant of the American Legion and at present head of a country-wide research bureau for the plumbing industry.

Mr. Creviston was the principal speaker at a luncheon of Republicans yesterday in the Alexandria.

"On the trip that has brought me to Los Angeles, I have talked with Republican leaders in many States and everyone of them has been for Herbert Hoover," he declared.

He paid a tribute to the contribution that Mr. Hoover has made to industry through "his most able administration of the Department of Commerce." Former Gov. Clarence J. Morley of Colorado also spoke, as did C. A. Ballreich, Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, Mrs. Edith Van de Water, John R. Quinn, Mrs. Frank A. Gibson and Ralph Arnold.

SOLICITORS ASK FUNDS FOR FAKED CHARITY

Fake solicitors are endeavoring to get money from local business men, especially those having business with the Customs House, for a home for aged customs officers, it was announced yesterday by Collector of Customs Schwaebe. The Customs House, or its employees, are not back of such a movement, it was stated, and Mr. Schwaebe said he wished to warn business men that the taking of subscriptions for such a purpose is entirely unauthorized.

JOINT MANEUVERS AT PORT

Harbor Field to be Base for Newly Ordered Army and Navy Air Practice

Los Angeles Harbor's importance as a combined naval and military air base was enhanced considerably yesterday by the joint announcement by the Secretaries of the Navy and War naming the local area as the scene of combined maneuvers of the aircraft of the Army and Navy, under the new plan whereby the air forces of both services will be co-ordinated for combined air action.

It is expected that the newly authorized Terminal Island airport will be the base for the operations between planes of the battle fleet aircraft squadrons and those of the Ninth Corps Area of the Army, together with the field at North Island, San Diego.

Maj.-Gen. John L. Hines, commanding the Ninth Corps Area, will arrive at San Pedro on the afternoon of the 29th inst., and it is planned that he will confer with Admiral Louis R. de Steiguer, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, and fleet aviation officers regarding the new air plans.

The schedule of maneuvers, as announced by Dwight F. Davis, Secretary of War, provides also that combined army and navy air maneuvers will be held at Hawaii during the fleet maneuvers; at Panama, the Philippines and at all strategic centers on the Atlantic Coast. Four elementary problems already have been issued with instructions by the War and Navy departments, providing that a joint air exercise be held, so far as is practicable, each month. In announcing the new schedule, Secretary Davis says:

"This action is in conformity with

by Harry Carr

THE secret of Charley Borah's slump as a star sprinter is also the secret of the failure of a great many other people in other lines.

They "press;" they put too much strain in trying.

I am constantly impressed by the casualness of men like Sam Blythe, who stands at the head of his profession—journalism. He never seems to have much to do—or to be in the slightest hurry about doing it.

AT HIGH PRESSURE

Take the case of Joseph Schenck, who, I dare say, has accomplished as much as any one man of his generation—fighting his way to a large fortune from a messenger boy's job—an immigrant boy at that . . . The executive head of many great enterprises, Joe's greatest pride is that he is never busy. He's the easiest man in Hollywood to see.

Just so, W. Sheehan, boss of the great Fox Film Corporation. He plays golf at half a dozen country clubs, raises aristocratic Irish setters, and has a great concern for tending to a garden of camellias.

It even goes to prize fighters. Abe Attell told me that the reason he lasted so long in the ring was that he never fiddled with tense fists. When waiting to punch or be punched he allowed his arms to hang absolutely limp.

Gen. Otis told me once that the most dangerous characteristic that any one can develop is too much zeal.

UNTOLD TRAGEDIES

"The scoundrel who cut off a woman's fingers for the rings in the ruins of the San Francisco fire is still at large," says an editorial in The Times.

I know of one such scoundrel who isn't. They found him with a pocket filled with rings. He was backed up against a wall and executed by a squad of soldiers.

There were more tragedies among the brick-tumbled ruins of San Francisco than ever got into the papers.

BUILDING THE FENCE

Small-time stuff—the action of the British authorities in refusing to allow an American actress to enter England—on the ground that she would be taking some English actress's job.

That's the kind of thing that might lead to dangerous reprisals. The fine arts ought to be an open field—the best man to win.

The present enormous prosperity of American films is largely due to the fact that talent and new ideas are welcomed—wherever they come from.

OBJECTS TO JAZZ

There is jazz—and jazz. John McCormack objects to the kind that makes monkey business with Irish melodies. I object to the kind which sound as though an insane saxophone player were sitting on the red-hot keys of a broken-down piano.

A DOG ADVENTURE

As one interested in dogs, I am interested in the dog teams that Commander Byrd will take to the Antarctic. He will use Alaskan huskies with Siberian dogs as leaders. Several tons of preserved seal meat will supply them food. Special sledges have been designed which can, on occasion, be carried in airplanes—a protection against starvation in the event of forced landings. Capt. Scott, the British explorer,

BURGLARY WAVE CLEWS TRACED

Fingerprint Men Check Up at Thirty-five Homes

Intruders Get Plunder Worth More Than $12,000

Two Sought After Choking Their Woman Victim

Fingerprint experts of the police department made a record number of calls yesterday investigating the burglarising of thirty-five residences in which burglars late Tuesday night and early yesterday morning obtained more than $12,000 worth of plunder. Efforts also were being made to apprehend two burglars who, after breaking into the home of Mrs. Mary Fernandez at 3558 Griffith avenue, attacked her and engaged in a hand-to-hand battle with her husband.

Mrs. Fernandez told police that shortly after she switched out the lights in her bedroom two men entered through a window and switched them on.

As she leaped from bed terrified and called to her husband one of the men grabbed her by the throat and choked her into insensibility. The husband rushed from a front room to his wife's assistance.

Snatching a chair he raised it and lunged at the intruder. He succeeded in felling one of them as the other switched out the lights. In the darkness the pair fled through the open window, dropping Mrs. Fernandez's purse as they departed.

Using a pass key burglars entered the home of K. Atowich at 5875 Inskeep street, and obtained $3500 worth of clothing and jewelry.

By breaking the glass in a bedroom window entrance was effected to the home of F. H. Bassett at 355 1-4 Columbia street by burglars who obtained $4000 in jewelry and clothing.

Jewelry and clothing valued at $2000 were reported taken from the home of L. J. Arland at 4161 Knobhill street. Entrance was effected through a rear ground floor window.

Mrs. Burt Van Lew reported $1000 worth of jewelry taken from her home at 3966 South Normandie avenue.

Louis Olive reported $500 in jewelry and clothing taken from his apartment at 634 East Fifty-second street.

In the other burglaries reported to police the valuables obtained averaged $75.

VERDICT SETS PRECEDENT

First Conviction of Grand Theft for Failure to Pay Wages Expected to be Appealed

A precedent was set yesterday in the history of California jurisprudence when Mrs. Lillian J. McAlpine of Long Beach was convicted of grand theft for failure to pay wages due an employee.

The verdict was returned in Judge Burnell's court under the provisions of the new State theft law which became operative last July, and which makes it a felony f an employer to refuse or fail to pay wages, salaries or other compensation due for services rendered.

According to testimony at her trial, Mrs. McAlpine employed L. Duane, an oil worker, to work for her in the Alamitos Heights field. Duane asserted she owed him $210 for labor and refused to pay the sum.

It also was charged Mrs. McAlpine failed to inform Duane, at the time she employed him, that she was indebted to others for services, the new State law requiring employers so to inform new employees.

Mrs. Duane will go before Judge Burnell next Monday for sentence. In view of the fact that it is the first conviction of its kind obtained under the new law, it is expected an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court to test the validity of the statute.

The Navy Department announced yesterday that Lieutenant-Commander J. F. Ostrander, now here aboard the U.S.S. Saratoga as commander of Fighting Plane Squadron Six, will be transferred to Washington for duty in the Bureau of Naval Aeronautics. It is expected that Commander Ostrander, one of the Navy's veteran pilots, will take over the duties of Commander Newton H. White, Jr., who recently was transferred from duty in the plans section of the Bureau of Aeronautics to be executive officer of the new aircraft carrier Lexington, due to join the fleet at San Pedro on April 6.

Other fleet transfers announced yesterday included those of Lieutenant-Commander M. O. Carlson, from the Naval Torpedo Station, at Newport R. I., to the U.S.S. West Virginia, and Lieut. Harry Corman, from the U.S.S. Utah to the U.S.S. Arizona.

University to Dedicate Site

What will be regarded by future students of the new Los Angeles University at the Palisades Del Rey as a historical gathering will take place Sunday at 2 p.m., when dedication ceremonies of this Lutheran University site will take place.

The principal addresses will be delivered by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, and Dr. Edward M. Stensrud of San Francisco, president of the university corporation.

A Lutheran chorus with the Santa Monica Municipal Band will furnish the music.

Orange Growers Will Entertain Newspaper Men

Plans for entertaining the largest number of newspaper men ever assembled under one roof in California are under way by the committee in charge of the Eighth Annual California Valencia Show frolic, to be held April 2 in the Elks' Club at Anaheim.

The banquet is being arranged as a preliminary to the Eighth Annual California Valencia Orange Show at Anaheim, starting May 24 and ending June 3. About 50 newspaper representatives from all parts of the State are expected to attend as guests of the show management.

F. W. Yungbluth, president of the orange show, will officiate.

ABDUCTED BOY FOUND IN HOTEL

gave him apples, candy and other gifts to keep him entertained.

From the story of Mrs. Micheals, the police give the following version of the strange child-theft; and the recovery:

At midnight a car drove up opposite the Palomar Hotel and the man walked into the hotel. He inquired as to a room, saying it was too late to go to the beach, and that they would stay overnight. After registering he went to the waiting car and came back with a woman and boy. The trio did not halt in the office, but moved quickly to the stairway leading to Room 303. At the entrance the woman threw a heavy cape over the boy, saying that she feared he might take cold.

NEWSPAPERS ORDERED

At 8 a.m. yesterday the woman asked the bell-boy to bring her all copies of the morning newspapers, and half an hour later she appeared in the lobby and told the clerk that she was going out to get a bottle of milk for the baby. She was told that the milk could be obtained next door and sent to the room, but she replied that she had a special brand of milk, and thought she could find it at the corner. She never returned with the milk. Police last night had failed to trace the movements of the man, and no one was found who saw him since going to the room.

While hundreds of police and detectives were scouring the city and plans were made to drag the lagoons in Westlake and Echo parks, the child was waiting the return of his friends in his hotel prison. He started crying about 5 p.m., and shortly after the door was opened and police notified.

GIRL VANISHES STRANGELY

The strange disappearance of a 4-year-old girl was reported to police authorities yesterday when Mrs. Willie J. Townsend, 2125 East Ninth street, told the circumstances of the loss of her daughter. The mother notified the officials that she took the blond-haired, blue-eyed baby girl to the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Cely, 128 East Twenty-ninth street, Monday afternoon, where the child was to remain while she sought employment. Mrs. Townsend said that she returned for her daughter Tuesday afternoon, but found the coupe and baby missing, and without leaving information as to their whereabouts.

The distracted mother left last night for San Diego to continue her search, and said she believes the abduction to be spite work on the part of Cely, as he is her former husband, but not the father of the child. She and the missing couple came here from Amarillo, Tex., about eight months ago, Mrs. Townsend reported.

COUNSEL DARES JAIL FOR CLIENT

Willing to Be Martyr to Aid Mrs. Klein's Case

Heatedly Fights Findings of Colonel's Attorney

Judge Indicates Neither Side to Get Relief

Asserting that if there is anything he can do to aid his client, Mrs. Isobel Klein, even to the extent of going to jail as a martyr in her behalf, if it will in any way assist her action against Col. E. G. Wheeler, aged Nevada millionaire, Attorney George Acret yesterday made heated arguments against the findings prepared by opposing counsel in the Wheeler-Klein case before Judge Fredrickson, sitting temporarily on the Superior bench in Department No. 33.

The findings, submitted to the court by Attorney William A. Bowen for Col. Wheeler, following a tentative ruling by the court which found neither Col. Wheeler nor Mrs. Klein in the former's suit to recover $24,500 on notes, and her cross-complaint for $183,000, were used as the basis for an effort by Attorney Acret to have the ruling modified to give his client some relief.

ACRET'S ARGUMENT

Attorney Acret's arguments were based on his contention that the volume of evidence presented made a strong case in favor of Mrs. Klein's assertion that Col. Wheeler in 1920, in exchange for Mrs. Klein acting as his nurse, secretary and companion, agreed to provide for her. That the colonel had partially complied with his agreement, counsel argued, is conclusive proof of Mrs. Klein's claim.

Attorney Bowen's findings were based largely on the ground that the unusual situation between the colonel and Mrs. Klein was against public policy and therefore illegal in the absence of a written agreement, also that Mrs. Klein already had been well paid for her services during a period of six years. He contended the agreement had been voided by Mrs. Klein leaving the colonel a number of times.

NEITHER GET RELIEF

Judge Fredrickson held with the views of Attorney Bowen, but admitted he will prepare findings of his own, although holding to his ruling which gives neither litigants any relief. Signing of the findings by the court will release property of the colonel and the home of Mrs. Klein from attachment by either.

Following the hearing, Attorney Acret intimated he intends to appeal.

Damage Suit Over Love of Wife Deferred

Frederick Nelson Almstead estimates that the love of his wife, Leah Murray Almstead, is reasonably worth $250,000 to him.

In this estimate he finds no support from L. M. Casler. Casler's opinion is that all the love Mrs. Almstead had for her husband was worth just about nothing.

The two views of the matter were all ready for conflict yesterday before Judge McComb, in the Superior Court, where Almstead's suit against Casler for alienation damages of $250,000 was scheduled for trial. The case went over, however, to the 30th inst.

Casler's defense is that in January 15, at the time of the charges contained in Almstead's complaint, Mrs. Almstead had no affection whatever for her husband, and had a divorce suit pending.

FUND CAMPAIGN OPENS MONDAY

from the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Exchange, Advertising Men's and Optimists' clubs also will co-operate.

Built nearly a half-century ago, the Salvation Army's Rescue Home for Girls, located on North Griffin avenue, has given shelter to thousands of young girls, providing them with a sanctuary in their time of urgent need for care.

Three years ago, in order to meet the increasing demands for admittance, the Salvation Army erected a two-story structure on the front of its property, providing eighteen extra beds.

With the condemnation of the old building, thirty-four girls now are crowded into the new section of the rescue home, originally designed for the accommodation of eighteen, and a daily average of three to five girls must be turned away.

The proposed new building, therefore, will not be in the nature of an expansion program, but for the purpose of replacing the old section of the home which was vacated because of fire hazards.

The campaign for funds to finance this humanitarian work will be carried on during the week beginning next Sunday, with daily reports to be made by the workers at a noon hour luncheon.

WAR BY ARITHMETIC

If the spirit of Stephen Decatur can look down from the skies, he will be amazed at the coming target practice of the Pacific fleet—firing over a range of mountains at a target that the gunners cannot see. War has become a matter of higher mathematics; and officers have become war engineers. No wonder the Ameer of Afghanistan complains it is no longer romantic or interesting. The dashing Napoleons of future wars will be professors with spectacles and digestive tablets. The charge of the Old Guard at the next Waterloo will be by way of a switchboard.

KAHN PAYS CITY STRONG TRIBUTE

Breakfast Club Attended by Many Notables

Guggenheim Lauds Developer of Whirlwind Motor

Wood Says Adults Impress Him as Like Youths

With Otto H. Kahn, financier and art patron, and Harry F. Guggenheim, president of the Guggenheim Fund for Promotion of Aeronautics, as speakers, and Irving Berlin, song writer; Gil Valeriana, Spanish tenor, and Mlle. Daisy Jean, 'cellist, as program artists, the Breakfast Club yesterday morning reached the peak of its history in the entertainment of notables.

OTTO H. KAHN

Mr. Kahn, who was made an honorary member of the organization in recognition of his public service as a patron of the arts, paid a forceful tribute to Los Angeles' accomplishments in the cultural field and hailed the Philharmonic Orchestra as one which, "though young in years, already has become famous. It has a splendid conductor and is a great artistic, social and municipal asset. Stand behind it! But few pages of American art have thus far been written. But in the future one of its golden pages will tell of the achievements of this splendid city of Los Angeles!"

LAWRENCE PRAISED

Mr. Guggenheim confined his remarks largely to two personalities—Col. Lindbergh and Charles Lawrence. The latter, he praised for his engineering achievement as chief technician of the Wright Aeronautic Corporation in developing the Whirlwind motor.

"I told him I thought he should be getting some of this publicity," remarked Mr. Guggenheim in emphasizing the present safety of commercial aviation and he came back with: 'I'm satisfied—whoever heard the name of Paul Revere's horse!'"

About Lindbergh, he said:

"I am often asked the question, 'Isn't Lindy too good to be true?' and I would like to answer it again this morning by saying here that he is not. To me he is the living embodiment of the principle contained in Polonius's advice to his son: 'This above all: to thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man!'"

WOOD ALSO SPEAKS

Will C. Wood touched upon his former experience as State Superintendent of Schools, and remarked that he found adults pretty much the same as youths.

Guests introduced included James I. Bush, vice-president of the Equitable Trust Company, New York; Prince Francisco Rusjoli, Beverly Nichols and David Gray, novelists; Ivy Lee, public relations expert; Jesse Lasky, Joseph M. Schenck, Carrie Jacobs-Bond, Anna May Wong, George Buzza, Minneapolis manufacturer, and William Gulan, North Hampton (Mass.) manufacturer.

C. M. Fuller and John McKeon, both vice-presidents of Richfield Oil Company, were hosts for the morning.

LASKY HOST AT NOVEL LUNCHEON FOR KAHN

In appreciation of the service rendered by Otto H. Kahn, New York banker and art patron, to the artistic and financial development and advancement of motion pictures, Jesse L. Lasky yesterday was host to Kahn at a novel luncheon at the Paramount studio in Hollywood.

Studio celebrities and executives, and Kahn's friends comprised the guest list. In order to retain the complete motion-picture atmosphere, the luncheon was served in a typical film setting on one of the company's largest stages.

Mr. Lasky officiating as toastmaster, referred to Kahn as "the best friend the industry ever had or ever will have," and stressed the debt of gratitude which filmdom owes him for his efforts in the artistic and financial possibilities of the past, present and future.

Kahn made a short talk in which he took pride in pointing out the success of motion pictures and the strides which have been taken in developing this industry toward art and beauty.

EDUCATORS WILL HEAR SPECIALISTS

Department of Visual Instruction Will Meet in Pasadena and Here

Tentative plans for the midyear meeting of the department of visual instruction, California Teachers' Association, at Pasadena and Los Angeles on April 5, 6 and 7, next, were announced yesterday by President Arthur J. Wickland. Headquarters are to be at Hotel Green, Pasadena, the opening session to be in the City Library.

Mrs. F. O. McCulloch, president of the California Parent-Teacher Association, the first speaker, will discuss methods parents may use in promoting visual instruction in public schools. She is to be followed by Edward Mayer, director of visual department, University of California at Berkeley, who will speak on services the State university extension is prepared to render to visual departments. H. H. Haworth, superintendent of the visual department, Pasadena city schools, will tell what Pasadena is doing in visual instruction.

At an evening session the first day in the palm room, Hotel Green, Judge R. G. Thompson, president of the Pasadena Board of Education, and President Franklin Thomas of the Chamber of Commerce, will extend greetings to the visitors. Miss Marian Evans, director of visual instruction in San Diego schools, will talk on projects being tried out there.

Other speakers scheduled to appear during the course of the conclave are H. S. Upjohn, Los Angeles county visual education director; Mrs. Nell Maloy Haas, Los Angeles visual department; Miss Annette Glick, Los Angeles, and President Wickland. The final day is to be spent in Los Angeles.

TWO LARGE LOS ANGELES DEALS MADE

Downtown Building Sells at $2,500,000 as One in Hollywood Changes Hands

A total of $2,925,000 is involved in two deals announced yesterday, one transaction calling for the sale of the eleven-story building and property at the northeast corner of Ninth and Los Angeles streets for $2,500,000, and the other involving the sale of the northwest corner of Hollywood Boulevard and Cherokee avenue for $425,000.

George R. Le Baron, vice-president of W. I. Hollingsworth & Co., reported the $2,500,000 sale in which Milton G. Cooper & Son, Inc., sold to local investors the property at the northeast corner of Ninth and Los Angeles streets, running through to Santee street, having a frontage of 200 feet on Los Angeles street.

The corner is improved with a modern eleven-story building, Class A concrete building, of loft type.

As part of the consideration in the deal the Cooper company is taking over 3000 acres of improved and unimproved land in and around Fresno county valued at approximately $1,000,000. Mr. Cooper has been one of the leading wholesale dry goods men of the Pacific Coast for the last twenty years. All negotiations were handled by Mr. Le Baron.

One of the most important transfers of Hollywood Boulevard frontage in recent months was announced yesterday by Gilbert H. Beesemyer of Hollywood, who heads a syndicate which just purchased the northwest corner of Cherokee and Hollywood Boulevard from the Capital Company, a subsidiary of the Bankitaly Company, for a consideration of $425,000. The building on the property was built for the Commercial National Bank and the new owners have arranged for it to be occupied by the Mutual Building and Loan Association of Hollywood. The building and loan association will move into the new quarters immediately, with opening Saturday.

R. V. Morrison, president of the R. V. Morrison Company, with offices in the Bank of Italy Building, represented both parties in the transaction.

CITY HALL SIGN ASKED

The Board of Public Works has asked the Council for an appropriation of $304 to place an illuminated sign on the grounds of the branch City Hall at Sawtelle, giving a list of the city departments in the building. The suggestion for the sign was made to the board by the University branch of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

SPRING FOOLS OUR WILD CANARY

Annual Harbinger at Sierra Madre Didn't Show Up Till Yesterday and That's Why It Couldn't Be Told Until Today That Vernal Equinox Really Came Tuesday

There was a wild canary at Sierra Madre yesterday, and spring has come. If Sierra Madre had been Camden, N. J., there would have been a robin there. Robins always appear at Camden on March 21, and at Sierra Madre canaries always appear on that date. They always are the first robin and canary of spring and every year some one telephones in to say that the first canary has appeared. Possibly there were other canaries elsewhere, but there is nothing to be gained in phoning about it, for the Sierra Madre canary is our canary and we are going to stick to it. Camden can have its robin, but we are going to have our canary.

Only they were both a day late this year. That is the reason no announcement was made yesterday that Tuesday was the day of the vernal equinox. It just goes to show that canaries and robins are creatures of habit and do not know that once in a great lapse of years the vernal equinox comes on March 20 instead of March 21. The only time when canaries and robbins could be unerringly counted on was during the French Revolutionary era when Marat, or somebody, decided that when the equinox came on the 20th instead of the 21st, the date should be changed to suit the canaries.

Anyway, everybody is very glad that spring has come. There is no danger now of catching cold and the furnaces can all be turned off. In Southern California there never is any rain or fog in spring either. Then, too, the days now will be longer and the nights shorter so that man and beast can work longer and sleep less.

The animals out at the zoo all knew it was spring Tuesday and were very frisky. Their keepers knew it, too, because of the friskiness of the animals, but the keepers forgot to call up and tell about it, so, the canary being late on the job also, we missed the annual spring story on the day that it should have appeared. It just goes to show that one can't depend on canaries.

UP THE STUMP

Jim Reed talks of stumping the country. He has some of it stumped already.

THE RESOLUTIONS

Men of resolution are not always writing them or lobbying with the committee.

PRACTICE THRIFT

None of the captains of finance or industry gained their standing by spending all their income.

SANTA CLAUS

The great test of childish confidence is when the kid believes what the father tells him about the parade being all there is to the circus.

MAN OF THE HOUR

In our own flood calamity it's a wonder that an emergency call has not gone up for Herbert Hoover. Whenever tragedy stalks abroad or massed suffering is experienced the eyes of the world turn to Hoover as the efficient angel of relief.

HAS NO FRIENDS

Naturalists assert that there are thirteen different brands of rattlesnakes in America. In this case the number 13 may be thought unlucky. Nobody seems to want any sort of a rattler. Yet this reptile is sportsman enough to give warning before it strikes. Some humans are less considerate.

SOME COMPENSATION

"Say, Junior, bawled the irate sire,
"This car is getting rickety;
You're wearing out each gear and tire.
Now I am not pernickety,
But your wild driving, to say truth,
From me will win no flattery."
"P'raps not, dad," replied the youth,
"But it keeps up the battery."

THE LOBBYISTS

Senators at Washington are intimating that certain lobbyists at the national capital are taking money from opposing sides. There are some shifty lobbyists who are able to get a fee or retainer from both factions. These two-faced lobbyists cannot possibly be of any real service to any cause—in fact, most of these Washington workers now do more harm than good for the reason that the legislators have learned to doubt and distrust them all. The whispering and buttonholing lobbyist is now about as important as a tadpole in a minnow bucket.

WHIRLING WINGS

Windmills are becoming scarce—excepting such as may be found on political reservations, but the windmill of the farm is being made more efficient as it passes out of the picture. The application of principles and ideas used in the aircraft industry have evolved a windmill with six to ten times the speed of the old-fashioned wheel. In sections where the windmill continues to be a leading source of power in farm operations it can be speeded up until it would make a piccolo player dizzy to watch it. If they tried to make over Holland under this system the country would soon look like a merry-go-round.

NOT SO DUMB

Col. Frank Smith, the ousted Illinois Senator, says that the Senators can investigate everything and everybody. They can pry into the life and motives of any man and say what they will about any person or corporation. But it is lese majeste for the citizen to criticise the Senate. That august body is sacred. This statement by Smith may have been the fact at one time, but is so no longer. The man in the street does not hesitate to tell the village barber exactly what he thinks of the Senate and he does not do it in a halting and feeble voice either. He rips it right out.

MAKES THEM INSURE

Massachusetts has had compulsory auto insurance for more than a year, but the people of that State are not satisfied that it is an unmixed blessing. Fatalities were 693 for 1927 as against 705 for 1926 when there was no such rule. But the number of injuries reported was 6370 more than for 1926, although there were 9000 less motor vehicles in use. One of the great objections to compulsory auto insurance is that it is "an infringement upon private rights of citizens." But when the matter of "greatest good to greatest number" is considered those who favor the law hold that all citizens should be willing to support it. Those who do not support it say that it invites accidents by lessening individual responsibility, deprives poor people of recreation and increases nuisance claims for damages. It is quite a problem, and no wonder official Massachusetts is scratching a bewildered head over it.

BASIC AIRPORT CONSIDERATIONS

The City Council will discuss tomorrow, and perhaps vote upon, the purchase of a site for a municipal airport. In arriving at its conclusions, there are certain things which this body should take into consideration, and there are equally certain things which should not be considered.

Prominently in the latter class are politics, sectionalism and the desires of people with purely selfish interests to serve.

The basic governing factors are those which make a site available or unavailable for aircraft use. There is, for instance, size. The site must be big enough to provide for contingencies. Aircraft travel and aircraft business is only beginning. If too much ground is purchased, it will be easier to sell some of it later when this is discovered than it will be to add to an inadequate area. Wind conditions must be considered; the less variable the breezes are the better for airplanes. Fog is a big factor; no safe scheme for landing an airplane in a fog has yet been devised.

Then, too, an air field must have landmarks which make it easily found. Aviators can follow a river course or a railroad track. To be of use for air mail, the field should be located reasonably close to the main dispatching postoffice, and provisions for quick and easy transportation are also required. The field should have good drainage and should be level or easily made so. It should not be surrounded by power lines or other wire hazards. It should be easy to reach with fire apparatus. The vicinity should not be too hilly.

Among these major considerations is not included price. That a municipal airport could be so costly as to make it a poor investment is obvious; but a good field is worth so much more than a poor one that comparisons cannot be made upon this basis. Saving a few thousand dollars by purchasing a field that is markedly inferior is not economy; it is a waste of money. The airplane companies simply will not use it, and there will be no way of recouping the money the city spends. It is better to pay more and get more, with a reasonable expectancy that the field will prove so popular that it will eventually return its purchase price.

Airmen and meteorological experts are best qualified to discuss the physical requirements. The City Council should give what they say great weight; much more weight than to the arguments of real estate salesmen and politicians.

In some respects, despite its slowness, the City Council has done well. In bringing in a plan for four airports, one at the harbor, one on the East Side, one on the West Side and one in the San Fernando Valley, it has conceived the project on a large scale and indicated that it has a view to the future. The harbor airport, for naval and military use, is already provided and needs no discussion.

It is the East Side field that is paramount from the standpoint of what should be done immediately. This, all experts agree, is the one for commercial aviation, for transport companies with mail contracts or planning passenger service. It should be on the East Side because the transcontinental rail lines enter from that side, because airplanes can take off from there for the east, northeast and north without flying over the densely populated portions of the city, and because the East Side is nearer to the Arcade postoffice.

It is this field, from which and to which flyers will have to maintain a schedule, that requires in the greatest degree freedom from fog and from variable winds or winds which blow in the wrong direction. Because within sixty days a commercial aviation company is to establish an air line with its other terminus at San Francisco, this field should be selected now and it should be one which can most quickly be made available for use.

There is another reason for quick action on the East Side field; that the Department of Commerce has been holding up for several months its plans for an aircraft beacon system for Southern California, because of uncertainty as to where the commercial airport here will be located; and the aircraft industry needs these beacons. The greatest usefulness of beacons is for the commercial flyers. The East Side field will be little used for instruction, for sales purposes, for pleasure trips, or by private flyers. It will be primarily a commercial field.

Because it is a commercial field, the wishes and the requirements of the companies already operating commercially should be consulted above everything else.

The West Side field, useful for sightseeing trips, for instruction, for demonstration of planes to prospective purchasers, for hangars of individually owned craft, can wait a few months. The San Fernando Valley field, which may in the course of years become the most important of all, is not so at the present time and can also wait. On the West Side, fog is more prevalent because of the nearness to the ocean, and considerable care in selection is advisable, though, of course, to flyers who can choose their time fog does not make so much difference.

Where a mistake would be vital and perhaps irremediable would be in the choice of the East Side field. Here the Council must use the best judgment, but here also is where it must judge most quickly. If it chooses wrongly it may drive commercial aviation away from the city instead of attracting it here, and commercial airports once established are difficult and expensive to move. To pick a site which cannot be made useful without expenditure of much money and much time would be a grave error when there are sites available which can be used at once.

Politics, sectionalism, and the desires of real estate subdividers should be definitely shelved in making the choice.

The eyes of the city are upon the City Council in this matter.

NEVER CAN TELL

Although the evidence in a recent criminal case seemed complete enough to satisfy all the court attendants two of the jurors could not be convinced and deadlocked the trial. The judge ordered the jury locked up over night and sent a requisition for ten dinners and two bunches of carrots. This would appear to be a delicate manner of suggesting that the recalcitrant jurors were of a long-eared family.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

WE USED to think—and doubtless a great many people still think—that behind the scenes at a light musical show, especially one bordering on burlesque, one would come in contact with rather racy life.

We stood behind the scenes at the Burbank Theater the other day for and hour and a half, and never were in a more strictly business place. The men and women and girls treated each other much more respectfully than they do in lots of offices; the girls in tights and diaphanous skirts huddled away in corners of the wings in quiet groups and acted much more modestly than most of the less-covered girls one sees at beaches; and everybody around was listening so intently for his cue that frivolous conversation was out of question. In stock company work, in which you're always studying next week's show while presenting this week's, you simply gotta keep your mind on what's going on. Loud conversation and smoking are, of course, forbidden behind the scenes. So it's really sort of like going into a Lenten "retreat."

Chorus Girl Mothers

There were three little children behind the green door, and when the show was over three of the actorines ran to them and hugged them and took them away. We'd been trying to talk to the little chaps before that, but we never saw shyer, less sophisticated little fellows.

Five-Year Run

Henry Kitchell Webster once wrote a corkingly good book of stories about a middle-class theater in Chicago, and the little Burbank makes us think of that mythical house. It is one of the oldest theaters in Los Angeles, and once rated as a first-class house. It is one of our least pretentious now, but the Hi-Jinks company, which has just gone away from Los Angeles, had a continuous successful run of five years in that showplace before it closed in the middle of March. The same principals had appeared in practically all those shows, and every member of the cast had a host of friends in the house. Miss Fern Emmett, character comedienne, specialized in roles in which she wore the styles of the '90's, or the '70's, or the '40's, and women in the audience continually wrote to tell her that they had old dresses or hats at home they thought would just suit her. George J. Clark, the "producer," practically wrote a play a week during those five years! That is, he took plays to which rights had been secured—plays from all over the world—and rewrote them to fit the company. No matter what the show was originally, it must be changed to make room for the characters in which that troupe appeared to best advantage. In every one there was a negro comedian part for Bud Harrison, an ancient dame role for Miss Emmett, an eccentric comedy role for Clark himself, and so on. And two-hour shows had to be cut to an hour, to make room for specialty acts, choruses and such. We can't help wondering if there are any other show troupes in the country which can beat their five-year record.

Ass-tral

Leeside: There's a superpsychic chap in Hollywood who flocks to hear every "master" or "teacher" from the "mysterious east," and is always talking about them when he isn't talking about himself. "I really don't know just how to describe myself psychologically," he said to a woman I know, and she replied by paraphrasing an old, old song:

"Just tell them that you swami," she said. "They'll know the rest."

MR. TELEVOX.

Japanese Tailors

There are a number of Japanese tailor shops in Los Angeles, and it is an odd fact that the best of them have far more Americans among their clients than Japanese. "Tailoring is a very important business in Japan," one of them on Spring street tells us, "and though London, New York and Hollywood may set the styles for men's clothes in this country many of the best workmen in the world come from Tokio."

QUEER EUROPEAN CONCEPTS

Strange flights of imagination have been indulged in of late by Europeans and other foreigners with regard to America. Arnold Mussolini, brother of the Italian Premier, addressing the Cultural Institute at Milan the other day, said the United States soon would pursue "a grandiose policy," and that the American market would launch out on world conquest. American desire for military glory, he stated, was not satisfied with the "minor part" this country played in the World War, and would not be satisfied save by greater victories. "The very problem of armaments," he held, "betrays a preoccupation, namely, the necessity of adding to its business and technical skill new military glory, as well."

Such talk would create a smile among our quiet citizens who know that the great heart of America is bent upon peace and is utterly devoid of any wish for war, but that the idea it expresses is held by many other foreigners, and, since the adoption of our new naval program, has been set forth by British, Japanese and other publicists. All this is in face of the fact that we had been strongly favoring the general curtailment of armament up to the time of the last Geneva conference and still favor it, though not encouraged to do so by other powers which rejected our fair and reasonable plan for such limitation.

English views, to be sure, are divided, but some of the statesmen and journals over there profess to be dismayed by our "attitude of superiority" and our "pronounced militarism." The fear is expressed that we are preparing to force our trade upon Europe by the power of arms—that our "super-production" will lead to an invasion that could hardly be suppressed.

Anything sillier than these statements it would be hard to find. It is true, as Foreign Minister Chamberlain of Britain has pointed out, that "war between America and England is unthinkable;" and if our purposed "invasion" was not aimed against England, our foremost trade rival, against what country would it be aimed? A disinterested person might range all around the map and he would not be able to point to such a country. Nothing is nearer the national heart than a desire for peace, and no commercial or other consideration is in the least likely to alter that desire or to affect it in any way.

ARRESTING ANGELS

The population of Los Angeles in 1912 was estimated at 439,655. For that year Chief Davis reports that 16,517 drunks were dragged into the hoosgow.

Last year, however, the population was put at 1,274,717 and the chief states that there were but 11,069 arrests for intoxication. With a city a third as large fifteen years ago there were 5500 more arrests for this misdemeanor. There were but eighty-six drunks for every 10,000 inhabitants last year against 375 for every 10,000 in 1912.

All the yelping about the dry regime being worse than in the good old days is pure bunk. When hardly a fourth as many arrests per thousand occur today as were made a decade and a half ago, comment is not necessary.

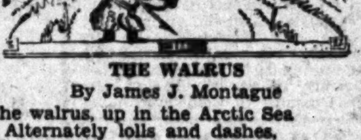
Even a blind pig can see some things. Rum runners may poke their noses into our Southern California coves to land booze; but conditions are four times better than before. Even Tia Juana does not seem to be able to make us all wet. And Jim Reed had a hard time convincing Los Angeles that his candidacy is necessary to improve conditions.

Every now and then figures from unexpected but reliable sources bob up to confront false propaganda. If the number of arrests for intoxication in 1912 had increased in direct ratio as the population, we should have had 49,581 boozers behind the bars last year. There were fewer arrests for this misdemeanor than in 1912. Nor were the police less vigilant, else the chief would not parade the figures.

If we had four times as much intoxication with the great increase in automobiles, the vicious traffic troubles of today would be appalling. Booze and cars cannot travel together except into the ditch. There are enough sober fools as it is to take a heavy toll of life. Four or five times as many drink-crazed would be intolerable.

THE SUPREME TEST

In recent months three titled ladies have lost their lives while pioneering in the air. They at least died gamely and preserved the reputation of their class for courage. Blue blood is rather a misnomer. It is really as red as any.



THE WALRUS

By James J. Montague

The walrus, up in the Arctic Sea
Alternately lolls and dashes,
His eyes are as kind as eyes can be,
But he wears long fierce mustaches.
He is quite at home in the freezing foam
And often in roving herds will roam
From Baffin's Bay to the shores of Nome,
Which the floe-laden ocean lashes.

The walrus, when he is near the shore
His sonorous bellow hushes
For he knows the natives will hunt him for
The ivory in his tushes.
He will sniff the air with exceeding care
If an Eskimo is around somewhere,
And there never will be a walrus there
When over the snow he mushes.

The walrus, though his sinuous hide
Has the look of a sheet of rubber,
Is always extremely full inside
Of delicate food called blubber.
And he never conceals the fear he feels
When the Eskimo forth in his kyak steals,
For he has a distate for supplying meals
To a fur-clad biped lubber.

The walrus' life is not so good
When we get right down to cases,
And you and I—though we knew we could,
Would not want to trade him places.
But the whole world shares in joys and cares
And deep delights and profound despairs,
There is sun and storm in the life affairs
Of all the created races.

Technicalities

LOS ANGELES, March 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] What a wonderful combination of legal lore is our criminal code. As an old-time court reporter I have watched it function with a feeling of awe, tinged with a mental foot note of incredulity. Can such things be?

And now comes this Hickman case with a new technicality which should cause the weary goddess of justice to pull off her bandage and laugh until she cries.

This young man confessed in hideous detail to a most horrible and deliberate murder, yet it took weeks to find him sane and guilty in court, where he was sentenced to be hanged until dead. Fine!

But then the law arraigned him upon another charge of murder. Again he was finally found guilty of a cold-blooded assassination. But this time he was sentenced to life imprisonment. What a joke on Justice!

Some smart legal technician might now argue before a grave and dignified Supreme Court that the subject should not be hanged until he had first served his life sentence. "Habet!"

Time to Rebuild

LOS ANGELES, March 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Times' editorial, "Don't Get Rattled," is a forcible and needed presentation of the necessity of not acting upon mere rumor. It appeals to the reflective faculties and substitutes for hasty judgments, investigation and deliberation. It is to be hoped that the press will follow so righteous a stand in the presence of so grave a disaster.

The appalling losses of the Mississippi overflow, the Johnstown flood, the Vermont calamity, the Galveston destruction, all show that such calamities seem inseparable from intensive civilization. In other words, that harnessing the very forces upon which we depend for our necessities, carries with it a danger of destruction that the highest skill cannot overcome.

Possibly there are no persons, not even those who have suffered direct losses, that feel so keenly the harm and loss as the men engaged on the work, the engineers who have made a life study of these problems and given the best that is in them to the solution. It becomes us rather to reconstruct than to waste time and energy in getting opinion evidence as to neglect and carelessness on which no two authorities will ever harmonize.

We should not peek about and seek persons to blame, but go to work, just as the other cities have done and find relief and even profit in rebuilding and rehabilitating the devastated area. It is not a loss in that so many dollars are paid out and swallowed up. It is merely the change of the form of wealth. It is merely in the nature of insurance. Its value comes back to the city in new and bettered construction. It saves to industry hundreds of worthy and enterprising citizens who today are helpless but with timely help can recover themselves and the city is the ultimate gainer because all of their wants and needs must be supplied from the city and its industries and they are then able to become purchasers and customers and industry resumes its sway.

Unsung Heroes

BAKERSFIELD, March 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Noting your praise of the good work that has been done by the relief workers and the Red Cross for the sufferers of the San Francisquito Dam disaster, I wish to call your attention to a little group of women who lost relatives and friends, the flood almost reaching their doors. These brave women did not take time to care for their own at home, but immediately started caring for the sufferers. I cannot give these dear women too much praise. Upon my arrival I found they had devised a table of drift boards and bales of hay which had washed upon the highway near Castaic Bridge. They had robbed their cupboards, taking their necessary home supplies to begin serving coffee and sandwiches to the rescuers. There were many bodies brought to this little refuge. They took care of many officers and men, never stopping for rest night or day. With no aid from the Red Cross or any other aid society these women worked in the mud and cold and deserve lots of praise. They are still doing good work at Castaic Bridge on the lower end of the Ridge Route just at the edge of the flooded district. They are the following ladies; all belong at Castaic:

Mrs. Margaret Hartford, Mrs. Ir. Miller, Mrs. Louis Hare, Mrs. Agnes Shoples, Mrs. A. M. Scullin, Miss Juliet Helen White, Mrs. Bertha Sloan, Mrs. Margaret Sweeney, Mrs. Rodriguez, Mrs. Martin Maroles, Mrs. Bledsoe, Mrs. Ethel Pauke, Miss Mildred Pauke.

"EATING HUMBLE PIE"

W. E. Pittsford, president of the Association of the Pie Bakers, meeting recently in Chicago, says exception has been taken to this explanation by an authority who says that this derivation of "humble pie" seems scarcely accurate. Humble pie is a pie made from the umbles or numbles of the deer; that is, the heart, liver, kidneys and entrails. Such pies used to be served at hunting feasts for the huntsman and his followers.

ROBERT ANDREWS MILLIKAN

Born March 22, 1868

To the executive head of the California Institute of Technology, who passes his sixtieth milestone today, the Southland extends its cordial felicitations. Seven years ago Dr. Millikan left a secure position at one of the great eastern universities and set his hand to the task of transforming a small technical school, without prestige or financial resources, into one of the world's premier institutions for instruction and research in the natural sciences. It is a sufficient tribute to his leadership to say that this great ambition has already been substantially realized. The California Institute of today occupies a place in the front rank among schools of science, drawing to its laboratories a large group of promising young scholars from all parts of the country and even from beyond the seas. By the integrity of its standards and the diligence of its quest for truth the institute has chosen and rigidly followed the only sure path to distinction as a seat of learning.

DR. ROBERT A. MILLIKAN

But it is not merely as an educational leader that Dr. Millikan has gained title to the esteem of his fellow-citizens in this community. It is rather because he combines in a single personality the traits of scientist and humanist, scholar and man of the world, idealist and man of action. To possess these qualities is an even greater distinction than to have won the Nobel Prize. Untiring in his search for keys to the riddle of the universe he has nevertheless found time and energy to help reconcile science with religion and to promote intellectual co-operation among the nations of the earth. No single-track mind is his. Tense concentration upon the mysteries of the cosmic ray, a relentless pursuit of the elusive electron have not served to dampen his lively interest in all things human, or to dull his highly dependable sense of humor. Dr. Millikan has proved by his daily walk and conversation that a scholar need not be a pedant, and that great distinction as a physicist is by no means incompatible with the status of a good citizen, neighbor and friend. If he has had more fame and honor than comes to most men by the time they reach 60, he deserves it. May his days be long in the land!

AMERICAN RELIGION

By James Allen Geissinger

We have an American religion, not connected with any individual sect, not monopolized by any church, not controlled by any group; it is one of the real forces in American civilization. It is the supreme power, in my opinion, if an imponderable one.

The average American always exercises more or less reserve when the question of religion comes up. But a great many students of American conditions have been studying the spiritual life, the inner life, of the American people, and there are a few facts that stand out abundantly.

The war conditions are typical, I think, at least in this particular. In the army few atheists or infidels were discovered. All but 2 per cent had some church preference, and 95 per cent expressed some kind of religious faith—in spite of the fact that not 40 per cent of the population is identified with any kind of religious organization, Catholic, Jewish or Protestant.

There are millions of people in America whose religion would not pass muster before either a fundamentalist or a modernist committee of inquiry, but that fact does not invalidate our statement. The case for American religion may be summarized thus:

The average citizen has a more or less vague or clear idea of God as a great purpose back of all life and all things. And this idea is practically synonymous with the ruling idea of the Twenty-third Psalm and the Lord's Prayer.

Jesus of Nazareth is looked upon, without exception, as the supreme personality of history, and always regarded with respect and even with reverence. The average man sees him as the Great Exemplar, as the standard by which all sorts and conditions of men measure individuals, institutions and customs. Charles Lamb once said that if Shakespeare were to come into the room we would all stand; if Jesus of Nazareth came in, we would all kneel.

Almost every man expects his life to go on somehow after death. He is "going West," to the great adventure from which no brave man will withdraw. Men may not be able to prove immortality, but they assume it.

The morality of the average American shows the influence of Christianity. He admires courage, generosity, straightforwardness, loyalty, devotion to the home, willingness to sacrifice. This is a considerable religion after all; and it makes for a quiet confidence under the pressure of life, and a spirit of hopefulness with reference to the future, that separates the modern American by a wide margin from the fatalism of the pagan.

California Comes South for Meet Saturday

Powerful Mercury Trackmen Have Big Edge

Christie May Uncover Few Surprises

Coach Walter Christie's University of California Bears will be in our midst Saturday afternoon for a little track and field competition with Boyd Comstock's Los Angeles Athletic Club athletes at the Coliseum.

WALT CHRISTIE

California isn't conceded a chance to get past first base with the Mercuries, who established themselves as one of the finest outfits in the country a couple of weeks ago by trimming Dink Templeton's Stanford I.C.4A champions. Christie is known as something of a miracle man, but there is a limit even to miracles. The veteran Bear mentor ought to have something up his sleeve in the way of entertainment, however, as the meet will mark California's only showing in the south this season.

Comparative dope is so overwhelmingly in favor of the clubmen, that half of Boyd's team could stay home and the Mercuries could still win with a few points to spare. The Bears appear to have a few digits coming in the sprints and distances, but are woefully weak in the field.

Capt. Lank Talbot has ambled the quarter in 50s. flat this season, and ought to cut that down a fraction by Saturday. Steve O'Neil has also been running a fair quarter. Niersbach and Babcock are apt to upset the dope. Babcock ran third to Spencer and Morrison at Stanford in 48 2-5s.

Atwood Scovell in the 880, Nick Carter in the mile and Hank Lunney in the two-mile may get a little competition, particularly in the longer gallops. Harry Carter has run the mile in 4m. 30s., and the two mile in 9m. 56s., which should be good for a few points. Wayne Fox has also run a fast two miles, being clocked in 9m. 47s. Atwood Scovell's competition gives him nothing to worry about as the best bet, Ned Chase, has failed to beat two minutes flat in any race this season. Scovell ran in 1m. 57 3-5s. at Stanford. Lovejoy should also beat out Chase for second place.

Charley Paddock's absence from the sprints will not materially hurt the Mercuries, with Hugh Pinney almost a cinch to collect in the 100 and 220. Russel Ewing and Homer Van Gelder are good for a shade under 10s. flat.

The Bears have three six-foot high jumpers in Frank Fitz, Jim Davies and Jacklevitch. Davies's best in the alumni meet, however, was 5ft. 11in.

Irvine Phillips may grab a few points in the shot and discus, but the pole vault and

The four young men galloping along are, from left to right, Capt. Willard Rew, Henry Cobb, Frank Dyer and Don Jordan. They make up the Pomona College relay team which goes against Occidental Saturday. The quartet set a new Pomona record of 3m. 34s. for the distance last week, breaking a mark which has stood since 1918. Rew ran the 440 in 49 4-5s. to break the Pomona record of 50s. flat. The chap below is Horace Kennedy, two-miler, who equaled a record of almost twenty years when he ran the two-mile in 9m. 54s. to tie the Pomona mark made by E. Fisher back in 1911. Johnny Doeg Loses to Coen by 14-12, 6-4, 6-3

AUGUSTA (Ga.) March 21. (AP) John Hennessey, young Indianapolis net star, proved too much for the veteran Bill Tilden here today in the feature singles match of the day's Davis Cup test play and defeated the country's first-ranking player, 6-8, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Bill Tilden

The match was vigorously contested throughout, Tilden showing his cannon-ball service to good advantage at times but failing to maintain sufficient steadiness with it to stop his aggressive opponent.

Once in the third set, "Big Bill" slipped over his fast service on three successive occasions, the ball hitting within inches of the fair marks and getting there so fast that Hennessey hardly had opportunity to see it.

CAPTURES EXCHANGES

The Indianapolis luminary's strong point, however, was his ability to parry with the veteran, often getting his point in frequent furious exchanges around the net.

They brought the gallery of several hundred persons to their feet several times with lightning-like plays, Tilden being especially aggressive in going after hard chances as the match wore on.

Edward (Bud) Chandler, Harvard law student, playing George Lott of Chicago, America's No. 3 ranking player, displayed a backstroke that was exceedingly effective which helped him win over the Chicagoan, 6-2, 7-9, 8-6, 6-2.

Arnold Jones, former Yale star of Providence, R. I., bested Wray Brown of St. Louis, 5-7, 6-4, 8-6, 10-8.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

THOSE phenomenal closing rounds by Johnny Farrell and Bobby Cruickshank in the Miami $15,000 open probably won't be equaled again for years. It is rare enough for one player to come through with a 66 on his last lap in gruelling 72-hole competition but a 63 for another athlete is almost unbelievable.

Under ordinary circumstances Cruickshank's 66 would have salted away the money in any tournament, but there must be irony in this score for Bobby to know that he might have done even better. After collecting five birdies on the first nine and scoring a 30 Bobby decided to play safe, coming home in 36, and that's what cost him the first-place dough. Farrell pursued the opposite attitude and went for everything. He got it.

They say Farrell's 63 in this type of competition and on the final lap is a world's record. It should be if it isn't. Such brilliance surpasseth the average understanding, particularly for we dubs.

Now Gene Tunney's up against it. He has to name an opponent to the New York Boxing Commission for a championship bout by tomorrow, and he has to draw the color line or admit he's afraid of George Godfrey.

It's a cinch Gene will do the latter. He wants none of Godfrey in a fifteen-round fight, where George's superior weight and bulk will tell most distressingly. Gene has been hobnobbing with governors, mayors and statesmen long enough for him to find plenty of reasons why he should not fight a black man. But by his challenge to the champion yesterday George definitely steps into the shoes formerly occupied by Harry Wills, who was Jack Dempsey's black nemesis for so many years.

And Godfrey won't get any closer to a match with Tunney than Wills did with Dempsey. There'll be a lot of smoke and a lot of talk and no

TIGERS THREATEN POMONA

Oxy's Reserve Strength May Upset Sagehen Team; Relay Likely to Decide Winner Saturday

With the Southern Conference championship at stake interest at Occidental and Pomona is at fever pitch over the dual track meet between the rival colleges at Patterson Field Saturday afternoon.

Offhand, the Sagehens are favorites in this meet, but though the Claremont institution boasts more "first-place" men, the Tigers have a classy array of threatening talent that bids well to cop a majority of the second and third positions, which in themselves, may give the invaders the nod over the home team. One thing is assured—second and third places will win this meet for either team and not the first-place athletes, for first places are pretty evenly divided.

RELAY MAY DECIDE POMONA MEET

CLAREMONT, March 21. (Exclusive)—The 1928 track championship of the Southern Conference may be decided by a relay race. When Occidental and Pomona hook up in the titular dual meet at Patterson Field Saturday, it is highly possible that the points throughout the struggle will be evenly divided, and that the final decision will rest with the rival relay teams. With that idea in mind, Coach Bob Strehle of Miss Blake, seeded second, had the closest call when her Longwood club-mate, Mrs. W. H. Shedden, had the match point on her racquet before Miss Blake rallied and took the match, 10-8, 5-7, 7-5.

Mrs. Hubbard was forced to three sets to win her match from Mrs. Charles F. Aeschlimann, visiting

Annual Cinderpath Battle Tops Program

Palo Alto Nine Schedules Contests Here

Tennis, Swimming, Boxing Tourneys Set

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 21.—Eight Stanford varsity teams will spend all or part of the spring vacation period in Southern California and will compete in thirteen contests with various Southern California teams within the next ten days or so.

The Cardinal swimming team will be in the van of the general exodus, arriving Friday morning for three meets in Los Angeles. The baseball nine will leave for the south on Sunday, and next week, during the interquarter holiday, the tennis, boxing, gymnastic, golf, fencing, and, finally, the track teams will arrive.

Interest will chiefly lie in the U.S.C.-Stanford track meet in the Coliseum, the 31st inst., but the four-way tennis matches, in which Stanford, U.S.C., the U.C.L.A. and the University of California will compete on the 30th and 31st inst., and the baseball series between Stanford and the U.C.L.A. and Stanford and U.S.C. will take their share of attention.

Following is the vacation schedule of the Cardinal teams:

Friday, March 23—Swimming, Stanford vs. U.C.L.A., afternoon.

Saturday, March 24—Swimming, Stanford vs. U.S.C., afternoon; Stanford vs. Hollywood Athletic Club, evening.

Monday, March 26—Baseball, Stanford vs. Kern River Standards at Bakersfield.

Tuesday, March 27—Baseball, Stanford vs. U.C.L.A. at Los Angeles.

Wednesday, March 28—Baseball, Stanford vs. U.C.L.A. at Los Angeles. Tennis, Stanford vs. Midwick Club at Midwick.

Thursday, March 29—Tennis, Stanford vs. Pomona at Claremont.

Friday, March 30—Baseball, Stanford vs. U.S.C. at Los Angeles. Boxing, Far Western Intercollegiates at Los Angeles. Stanford tennis, gymnastic, golf, fencing teams enter four-way tournament with U.C.L.A., California and Southern California.

Saturday, March 31—Track, Stanford vs. U.S.C. at Los Angeles. Baseball, Stanford vs. U.S.C. at Los Angeles. Boxing, Far Western Intercollegiates at Los Angeles. The four-way tournament will be completed.

twister was knocked cold. He had to be carried from the ring.

In the opener, J. Fujita, the Japanese jui-jitsu artist, tossed the Masked Marvel in 2m. 10s., with a Japanese stiff arm.

GLEASON KNOCKS OUT SMITH IN PARK BOUT

Eddie Gleason knocked out Midget Smith in the third round of a scheduled eight-round main event at Ocean Park last night. Eddie Moore won a six-round decision over Ted Lewis in the semifinal go and Clarence Dunivin defeated Jimmy Valenti in the special event.

In the openers Frank Leonard fought a four-round draw with Kenneth Golden, and Ted Williams defeated Frank Abendino.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER BILL HENRY

YOUTH apparently is going to be served in the tennis world this year. Performances in the early matches of the Davis Cup tryouts are hardly to be taken as absolutely conclusive but the fact remains that John Hennessy upset Bill Tilden and youthful Johnny Doeg was bowled over by the even more youthful Wilbur Coen. In Doeg's case in particular the test is hardly fair for Johnny only just dropped off the train after a four days' ride while Coen has been getting a workout down there on the ground of the tryouts. Apparently Doeg's pepper lasted only one long set, after which he was beaten largely by condition. Doeg will improve in his showing as the tests continue.

Our old college chum John Bowman, who writes us every once in so often from the wilds of the great Northwest, tips us off that the boys up in that part of the country are showing unusual pepper. Reed of Washington has already ambled two miles in under 9:40, Herm Brux of Washington has shoved the shot out 47ft. 9in., Steve Anderson has high-jumped 6ft. 1in., and so on. Apparently the lure of the Olympics has hit the boys pretty hard and if they are going as well as that at this time of the year they ought to be awfully good when they can really work outdoors and get in top-notch shape.

A lot of folks who like to see red-hot competition between rival individuals and rival schools are going to journey to Patterson Field in Eagle Rock on Saturday afternoon to see the annual dual meet between Occidental and Pomona. These two ancient rivals are as closely matched as usual. While the Sagehens are slight favorites, and properly so, the Tigers are good enough to win if a couple of very slight upsets occur. It is pretty nearly an even bet that the meet will depend on the relay, something that it has done more often than not during the past decade. It will be good.

Despite the fact that both colleges started out with apparently only mediocre material there is every evidence that the records made in this meet will far surpass anything made in the dual meets in previous years. The Pomona team has developed a number of stars and the Tigers have a lot of men who haven't been pushed to the limit yet but who will be on Saturday. That ought to mean something in the way of good performances.

OILERS AND MAROONS IN PUCK TILT TONIGHT

Richfield has already cinched the league leadership, but the Maroons are fighting for the second berth. Hollywood now holds that spot, but only one game separates the two teams.

SEATTLE CLUB UNIMPRESSIVE

Sale of Five Stars Ruined Club for Middleton

Only Four Capable Hurlers Grace Indian Roster

Klepper Seeking Help from Major Loop Magnates

BY BOB RAY

"Times" Staff Correspondent

BAKERSFIELD, March 21. — If the Seattle Indians are planning to go anywhere in the coming Pacific Coast League race they'd better start now, because the way they shape up now they'll need a head start to keep even with most of the other clubs. All of which should indicate that our opinion of the Indians as they shape up now is shy of superlatives—except maybe a couple of the negative variety.

When Charley Lockhard and "Radiant Red" Killefer turned the Seattle franchise over to "Bland Bill" Klepper and "Bland Bill" in turn handed the club over to Jimmy Middleton to let him manage it, the new Indian skipper found that he didn't have a whole lot with which to work. Lockhard and Killefer wrecked the Seattle club by peddling five of its stars to the majors last year and so far the Indians haven't been able to recover from the shock. Three pitchers—John Miljus, Ed Brandt and Jim Edwards—and two mighty sweet outfielders—Pid Purdy and Marty Callaghan—were the Indians that Killefer and Lockhard sold to the majors and the loss of the quintet left several holes to be plugged in the Seattle defense.

Possibly Klepper figured he'd be able to land players from the majors to fill these gaps, but he has found out by now that athletes other than deadwood are difficult individuals to pry loose from the magnates. Klepper is still pulling strings in an effort to line up more talent for Seattle, but until he connects the Indians can't be figured to do any damage.

APPEAR WEAK ON MOUND

The Indians appear weakest on the mound, for they have only four hurlers who can be considered as regulars. Middleton, who shines chiefly as a relief hurler, will take his regular turn until things shape up so that he can stick to relief work and managing the club. The other regulars are Kyle Graham and Jack Knight, who were with the Indians last season, and Gomer Wilson, a capable southpaw obtained from Minneapolis. These four ought to deliver consistent ball, but the rest of the staff is mostly young and inexperienced. "Speed" Martin in included among the remaining six hurlers on the roster and "Speed" is no longer any chicken. Martin can still pitch a good game now and then but he doesn't figure to rate a regular turn on a Class AA club. The rest of the hurlers are Clyde Nance, Andy House, Pete Bunseri and Phil Heim. Nothing very startling in that bunch, but that's what Middleton has to figure on now.

For catchers the Indians have Charley Borreani, the young backstop picked up by Killefer last year, who will be given plenty of chance to develop this season, the veteran Walter Schmidt and Dixie Parker, a newcomer who was with Burlington in the Mississippi Valley League last year. Parker, who bats from the left side of the plate, comes to the Indians rated as a heavy sticker, but the Mississippi Valley loop is not the Coast League by any means.

Jimmy Hudgens, Jack Sherlock, "Chick" Ellsworth and Jimmy Battle form the infield. Battle is the only newcomer of the lot. He was with the Little Rock, Southern Association club last year. Middleton hopes to develop Sherlock and Ellsworth into a capable keystone combination.

Sherlock, who was labeled as a comer two seasons ago, didn't take the game seriously last year, but he'll stick to his knitting now because Middleton will stand for no foolishness. Fred Mullen, a young infielder from the bay section, and Walter William Olney, a nephew of Walt McCredie, are the only utility infielders on the club, but it is thought that the Detroit Tigers will send Seattle some help to bolster the inner defense.

In Fuzzy Hufft, Brick Eldred, Bernie Neis, Art Ruble, Johnny Jacobs and Ike Wolfer, the Indians have a pretty good collection of outfielders. Hufft will once more get the call in right field, while Neis, who has looked plenty good this spring, is a cinch to be the regular center gardener. Ruble, who is rated as a good sticker, and Jacobs are still battling for the left-field job. Eldred, who is one of the most dangerous right-hand hitters in the league, will be used against southpaw pitching, but Brick can't be used as a regular because of his weak throwing arm. If Eldred had a good arm he would have been up in the majors long ago.

Tunney Says Go Arranged

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) March 21. (AP)—Gene Tunney today filed formal notice with the New York State Athletic Commission that he has arranged a defense of the heavyweight title. His telegram, directed to Bert Strand, secretary of the commission, was in answer to one received this week in which the commission wanted to know what the champion was going to do about challenges now in its hands.

GODFREY HURLS DEFI AT CHAMP

expired, and Dougherty said the time was apropos for a challenge.

With his wire to the Gotham moguls went information that he was sending a check for $2500, the customary forfeit demanded when challenges are filed with the eastern board.

Dougherty's chief arguments to Rickard for a Tunney-Godfrey match are that Godfrey has not been beaten in two years and that he decisively defeated Paulino Uzcudun, who proved himself better than anyone in Rickard's elimination tourney.

MAY TURN TO FUGAZY

Failing in his efforts to do business with Rickard on a Tunney match Dougherty will jump over the fence into Signor Humbert Fugazy's back yard and play ball with the Italian promoter.

Fugazy has been shooting wires into Los Angeles daily importuning Dougherty to name the date when he is returning East and asking for the right to book Godfrey this summer.

Yesterday's wire advised that a Sharkey-Godfrey match is brewing, and that Jimmy Johnston, the big "in man" around New York, has advised Sharkey to take it.

Johnny Buckley is Sharkey's real manager, but Johnston because of his prestige around New York has fallen heir to a "bit" of the Boston ex-sailor.

This is the way the wire from Fugazy read:

"Jimmy Johnston has advised Sharkey to box Godfrey at Ebbets Field in early May. Still waiting to hear from you. Wire me when you intend leaving for New York and whether I can book Godfrey for the summer. Best regards.

[Signed]

"HUMBERT FUGAZY."

Dougherty said he knew Tunney is afraid to meet his Black Shadow and that he expects the champion to immediately draw the color line just as Jack Dempsey did for Harry Wills.

However, the Baron of Leiperville said he wanted to get Godfrey's challenge on record with the New York Boxing Commission just as a reminder that his entry is ready to fight Gene any time, any place and for any consideration.

Dougherty said the fight with Sharkey in the Brooklyn ball park for May probably will be accepted in a few days, and that he and Godfrey will leave for the East the middle of next month.

This is the way Dougherty's wire to Rickard read:

"Mr. Tex Rickard,
Madison Square Garden,
"New York City:

"Now that I see by the newspapers you and Tunney are going to select the most outstanding challenger to fight for the title, I am for the first time going to offer you a real challenger, and if you want to be fair with the sport and with the public, I will expect a favorable reply.

"This man is a real heavyweight, over 200 pounds, an American citizen and a World War veteran. He has met all comers and has not lost a decision in two years. He has defeated two of your outstanding heavyweight contenders in the elimination contest, the last being Paulino Uzcudun, who has proven to be the best one of your contenders.

"Ninety per cent of the supporters of the boxing game think this man not only the challenger, but also declare that the present champ would be no match for him. This, of course, would make the fight the greatest heavyweight battle you could promote.

"I did not want to offer this challenger before the public sentiment demanded it and the fighter had established a record satisfying the public at large of his standing and the boxing commissions of the different States throughout the United States.

"I hereby on behalf of this man, George Godfrey, challenge Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship of the world.

"Hoping that you and Mr. Tunney give me an early reply. I remain

"Yours,
"JIM F. DOUGHERTY,
"Manager of George Godfrey."

fight. Tunney will travel his championship trail to the tune of million-dollar gate with George rapping vainly for a chicken bone.

Although you would naturally think otherwise Jimmy McLarnin's spectacular victories in the East have not convinced all the boys back there that he is a sure-fire sensation. One of the doubters is Billy Stevens, who brought Wolcott Langford to the Coast.

Billy says McLarnin stopped Kid Kaplan in Chicago when the latter was hog fat, having subbed for Spug Meyers on short notice; that Jimmy beat Billy Wallace after the latter broke a hand in the second round, and the Terris knockout doesn't mean anything because everybody has been putting the East Side Jew on the floor lately.

In support of his Terris assertion Billy points out that Kid Wagner, who is not a hard hitter, knocked out Terris, and that several powder-puff punchers have had him on the floor one of these being Hilario Martinez, who proved to be a terrible ham when he fought Baby Joe Gans at the Olympic recently.

This Occidental-Pomona track meet next Saturday has the demon dopesters all scrambled up. Mr. B. Dyer and Mr. B. Henry, who attended the rival institutions in their younger days, have been wandering around waving dope sheets under the sundry noses of their friends, announcing loudly that if such and such things happen the meet is bound to result as they have doped it.

As the matter stands now gents are pretty much agreed on the way in which the track events will shape up, but they can't seem to get together on the field events. Being an impartial observer it appears to me that the seconds and thirds are going to decide the meet. At any rate that looks like a better prediction than B. Henry made in the Pyle cross-country hoof race.

MUSHY CALLAHAN FAVORED TO COP BOUT FROM HOPPE

Mushy Callahan is being made the favorite over Dick Hoppe with whom he clashes at the Olympic next Tuesday night in spite of the fact that Hoppe whipped the Jewish newsboy and junior welter champion last year.

The strength which Callahan is showing in his workouts at the Manhattan gymnasium indicates he may be back to his old form of 1926 and early part of 1927.

"I knew I couldn't beat Hoppe and Fields when I fought them," says Mushy. "At least I knew I didn't have my strength and steam. And, say, if I beat Hoppe the next fellow I want is Fields. I tried to be sociable to him after the fight to show him I was not mad, but he was in a hurry.

"The best match they can make for Los Angeles is Fields and Mr. Callahan's son, Mushy. I'd pay to see that one myself."

Hoppe flashed across the footlights after beating Callahan and King Tut. Dick is right in his prime again after those wins.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams yesterday signed Huerta Evans to box Trip Limbaco in the six-round semi-wind-up. Evans is being watched closely. If he keeps on improving he will be matched with Bud Taylor for the bantamweight title in a couple of months.

Taylor is slated to meet Santiago Zorilla at the Olympic on April 3. After this bout Bud has consented to defend his title for the fans of Los Angeles.

Wadhams will use the Speedy Dado-Newsboy Brown bout of April 10 for the St. Francis Dam benefit show, it was announced at his offices yesterday. An all-star card will be put back of it. Also there will be several celebrities appear.

The preliminaries for Tuesday night will be Sandy Garrison vs. Tony Tovar, Herbert Green vs. Twain Mark and Dominick Angelo vs. Jimmy Waterman.

Callahan will box with Lou Paluso today. Paluso is training for a bout at Omaha.

OXY THREATENS SAGEHEN SQUAD

Pomona, is spending a lot of time on his quarter-milers this week.

Strehle has a fast set of one-lap men, and they made a good mark at U.C.L.A. last week, but, thus far, they haven't shown more than a fraction of a second faster time than Oxy's dash men have. Last week Capt. Willard Rew, Hank Cobb, Don Jordan and Frank Dyer ran a 3m. 24s. relay. The Tiger relay team, composed of Nash, Fairbanks, Schweiser and Bailey, is good for nearly that same time. Strehle is doing plenty of high-pressure figuring this week to speed up his relay runners.

In case of emergency, the Pomona mentor can use Roy Corwin, the hard-running half-miler, or he can put in Harl Phelps. Phelps hasn't gotten into condition yet this season, but may be in shape for the Bengals. He is a letter man. Corwin, although a half-miler by trade and training, can click off a quarter in 52s. or less, any day.

Sport Cracks By Bud Landis

In olden times when Greek met Greek they set down their trays and matched strength or pennies.

In pioneer days this same pride of prowess flourished way out west here, where men were mean.

Shooting was a prime sport among the better class of bad men and many acquired great skill at making lead inlays.

When two gun players got together it usually resulted in cartridge calisthenics. One would hiccup, or otherwise insult the other, and the game was on.

It wasn't the man first on the draw that won; victory went to him who was able to put back his gun after the brawl was over.

A man had to be good to be bad in those days.

But this is a mechanical age. The art of trigger twitching is lost. Machinery now accomplishes the work once done so well by hand.

Battle-scarred veterans of frontier days are gone. Automatics and machine guns obsoletel the romantic six-shooter.

Fire arms are even being abandoned as crooking utensils. Daylight robberies have provided better working hours for the bandit and he no longer needs a weapon to protect himself from the lurking dangers of darkness.

CUB REGULARS ANNEX SERIES

won it this afternoon by taking the fifth and final of the intrasamp games, the Goofs, who two years ago had made monkeys of their lofty brethren, succumbing to a 6-to-0 drubbing.

The Goofs simply did not have it in them to hit the pitching served them by Pete (Gink) Fowler, the Southwestern southpaw, and Henry Grampp, while, on the other hand, Regulars enjoyed themselves considerably by bothering Southpaw "Snipe" Hansen and Johnny Welch. All that the "Gink" and Grampp allowed was a total of five none too robust hits, which was as nothing compared to the ten safe clouts, not to mention ten passes, collected by the Regular troupe.

Fowler's appearance was his first of the spring and, while most of the camp followers had him pegged as a comical rookie, who would soon go back whence he came, he proved a fairly good workman. He tossed to the Goofs for five innings and gave up only three hits and one pass, the latter feature being especially impressive for a left-hander. Moreover, one of the clouts was a lucky roller toward third base and the two others were the products of Percy Lee Jones, who, being a pitcher, is not supposed to hit. On the strength of this showing the "Gink" undoubtedly will receive additional attention from Boss McCarthy.

Camp will be broken tomorrow, and not much work will be done on the ball field.

Plan Seating of 100,000 at Bear Stadium

BERKELEY, March 21. (AP)—Plans to add 20,000 seats to the University of California's Memorial Stadium, increasing the seating capacity to approximately 100,000, were announced today by W. W. Monohan, graduate manager.

With the additional seats the stadium would be the largest on the Pacific Coast and would be almost as large as Soldier Field at Chicago.

The plans for more seats have been approved by the student body executive committee and plans for construction and financing are now being worked out.

Double decks of cantilever system construction are looked upon favorably, as this method would not detract from the beauty of the stadium. The estimated cost would be $700,000.

EDDIE DAMPIER WINS TILT

SAN JOSE (Cal.) March 21 (AP)—Eddie Dampier and Babe Anderson, local welterweight, slugged for ten rounds here last night, Dampier receiving the decision. Critics thought Anderson earned a draw.

CROMWELL ON OLYMPIC BODY

sistants and trainers, and the date for Olympic tryouts, were named in five major sports. The choosing of minor squads such as revolver and rifle teams, was left to the committees in charge of each event.

Heading the list was the appointment of Lawson Robertson, of the University of Pennsylvania, as head coach of the track and field squad, and the choosing of ten assistant coaches. They were John Behr of the Illinois A.C.; Dean Cromwell, Southern California; Harry Hillman, Dartmouth; Wilbur Hutsell, Alabama Poly; John Magee, Bowdoin; Henry F. Schulte, Nebraska; Tom Keane, Syracuse; Eddie Farrell, Harvard; Jack Ryder, Boston A.A., and Dink Templeton, Stanford.

In naming Patrick J. Walsh of New York, former president of the Metropolitan A. A. U., as manager of the team, the committee declared that in the interest of discipline, the managers of each squad would be in complete charge of the personnel. Athletes and coaches alike must take whatever orders are necessary from these divisional chiefs.

Ninety athletes will make up the men's track squad and twenty the women's team. The latter entered in the competition for the first time. The Olympic tryouts will be staged at Cambridge, Mass., July 6 and 7, with competition in the 400-meter hurdles and 400-meter run held at the Yale track, New Haven, Ct., July 4, the women's tryouts probably will be held in Newark on July 4. Four men will be taken abroad for each of the twenty-one events on the Olympic program and six for the marathon.

The best college or club lacrosse team, to consist of seventeen players and the usual coterie of officials, will be named about June 1 by the lacrosse Olympic committee on the basis of rankings submitted by the Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association. Rankings will be based on the showing of teams throughout the spring and play-offs will be staged if necessary.

ROSALES DRAWS WITH MITCHELL AT HARBOR

Leo Mitchell fought a ten-round draw with Rosey Rosales in the main event at Wilmington last night. The fans favored Rosales. Billy Lane won over Toney Tovar in the six-round semi-wind-up. Paddy Mullens copped a six-round decision over Bobby Brooks. In the preliminaries, Billy Engman stopped Jimmy Murphy in the first round, and Les Kennedy knocked out John Kern in the fourth round of the opener.

GROSS AND ROPER READY

Heavyweights Finish Training Today for Go at Legion Stadium Tomorrow

Training stunts for Jack Gross and Jack Roper end today and the trainers of the heavyweights claim they are in the pink of condition. Gross, with fifteen knockouts and seven decisions in twenty-two fights, is naturally made a favorite.

The main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium is another of the heavyweight tournament fights and while Gross came all the way from Philadelphia to be one of the contestants he is by no means unbeatable.

Tex Rickard doesn't like to play around with heavyweights who are not nationally known. He likes to have the boys make their reputations before they reach his office. If they can do that then he has the bank roll to further their interests and make life rosy for the fellows who are fortunate to get to a point where they are rated contenders for the world's heavyweight title. The same goes for other divisions. To prove this contention all one has to do is to look at the cases of Ace Hudkins, Jimmy McLarnin, Mushy Callahan and Fidel La Barba, all California fighters who made their reputations here in the Golden State and cashed in on it back where Rickard rules the roost.

That is the reason Jack Gross came to California. He needs work and can get it here. Nothing develops fighters like fights and with talent scarce in California Gross is a cinch to get all the work he can handle providing he wins.

Jack Roper is fighting better now than at any time within a year. He has confidence and is in shape. The battle between Gross and Roper looks like a great shot.

If Jimmy Piela can maintain his present gait he should beat Billy Hart in the semi-wind-up. Piela will have to step at a lively clip for six rounds to get the win as Hart is a busy fighter once he gets in action.

Walker Back From Springs

Mickey Walker, middleweight champion of the world, returned yesterday from Palm Springs where he has been conditioning himself by outdoor work for his next fight.

This, it seems likely, will be a bout between the 160-pound king and Armand Emanuel, the promising young Jewish heavyweight of San Francisco.

Ancil Hoffman, San Francisco promoter, wants to stage the struggle April 16, and Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, said yesterday it is likely the bout will go through if Emanuel will agree to make 175 pounds.

At present Emanuel weighs close to 183 pounds.

Kearns proposes to bill the contest for the light-heavyweight championship of the world, claiming that Walker, through his knockout of Mike McTigue, and defeat of Paul Berlenbach, has just as much right to the title as Tommy Loughran.

Loughran won the crown by defeating McTigue after Jack Delaney, the champion, had relinquished the title to enter the heavyweight division. McTigue, former champion, was brought back to fight Loughran, and the New York Boxing Commission acknowledged the winner as the new champion.

Kearns claims California has equal right to stage a championship match with Walker as one of the principals as New York did with McTigue and Loughran.

Kid Esau Faces Hard Ring Test

Kid Esau, former Pasadena newsboy and golf caddy, faces the biggest task of his ring career tonight at Morrie Cohan's Crown City Arena when he tackles Joe Pimenthal in the feature eight-round bout at that stadium. Esau has been coming like a house afire since he turned his efforts toward boxing. In meeting Pimenthal he is tackling one of the real trial horses of the featherweight division. If Esau can beat Pimenthal then he will be ready for big things in the fight game. If he loses it is a case of just another good man gone wrong.

Esau and Pimenthal both claim a long string of victories over Coast featherweights. They will enter the ring on even terms, according to fistic wiseacres. In the semi-wind-up Frankie Forbes battles Billy "Red" Wells. In the special number Jack Haywood, hard-hitting negro light heavy, faces Bud Anderson, a comer in the ring game. They box six rounds. In the two preliminaries Teddy Williams meets Ismal Alday and Eal Farmer tackles Young Dempsey.

LOHMAN LOSES TO BELANGER

PORTLAND (Or.) March 21. (AP)—Charley Belanger, Vancouver, B. C., heavyweight, won a decision over Joe Lohman of Toledo, O., in the ten-round main event of a fight card here last night.

Col. Bush's Address on Preparedness Read Over Radio by U.C.L.A. Student's Leader

Thomas J. Cunningham, president of the Associated Students of the University of California at Los Angeles, last night read over KFWB an address by Col. Ralph Royal Bush of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, dealing with reserve officers' training corps in colleges and universities. The speech was one of a weekly series being sponsored by fifty national patriotic societies organized under the name of American Hour Broadcasting Committee. In California the programs are under the auspices of the Better America Federation.

Col. Bush's address, in part, follows:

"We hear talk of disarmament and world peace these days and you may rest assured that no sane citizen will lift a finger against the establishment of permanent world peace. Far be it from those who are familiar with the havoc wrought by war to advocate armies and navies on other than a rational basis. Really, the only argument is not about the end to be attained but rather the means by which that end is to be brought about. Those who are rational in their advocacies say that arming for defense alone is productive of a healthy world condition and that such military policies as are in effect by the United States are in keeping with our obligations to avoid aggressiveness.

"The irrational say that we should set an example for other nations and disband our army and navy. The fact is that our disarming would in no way affect the way in which one European nation looks at another European country having a large military force. And is it not reasonable that the United States should provide some protection for our national ideals and vast wealth?

"Colleges and universities have been criticised for offering courses in military tactics and particularly where such courses are compulsory. The compulsory feature is not a Federal or State regulation but is so because the authorities of the institution believe those taking this instruction are benefited and that no harm is done the student. All military training inculcates discipline, resourcefulness, sanitation, clean living, neatness, courtesy, obedience to authority and law, truthfulness, loyalty and honor."

contrary acreage of all crops in Los Angeles county is increasing each year and although the tree fruit area has been restricted slightly in some sections, these plantings have been replaced by intensive crops bringing higher acre return. I cannot agree with those who believe that Los Angeles county will pass out of the agricultural picture in the near future for there are thousands of acres within our boundaries still available to nearly every type of farming and especially to intensive production.

"Los Angeles county growers are fortunate particularly in having a great consuming center close at hand. This has influenced prices to a marked degree and makes it possible for our growers to obtain uniformly higher net returns for their products than many other sections of the State."

ALHAMBRA CITY CLERK SUSTAINED

Company Fails to Get Title to Part of Land Offered for Sale

The Naylor-Mayo Company's petition for a writ of mandamus to compel R. B. Wallace, City Clerk of Alhambra, to execute a deed conveying to it that city's one-sixth interest in the Tri-City Farm on its bid of $125,000, was denied in a judgment rendered yesterday by Superior Judge Ballard. The court held that the proceedings by which the Commissioners of Alhambra voted to sell the property to the highest bidder did not comply with the charter.

Wallace, who had been directed by Chris Campbell, president of the Commission, to attest and convey the deed to the property, had refused to do so, pending action on a petition by electors who demanded the sale be voted on by the populace.

Ernest Rost, an elector, brought suit against the Commissioners to compel them to rescind their action on the sale or to order the decision on the subject passed up to the voters. This suit was tried jointly with that of the company against the City Clerk.

The court's decree included a denial of Rost's petition also, which leaves the situation the same as it was before the Alhambra Commissioners decided to sell the property.

Three Held for Trial in Series of Robberies

Had it not been for their failure to make a boulevard stop at Pico and Western on the night of the 12th inst., Robert De Mille, Louis H. Leek and Robert Wrightman might not have been held for trial yesterday by Municipal Judge McConnell on three counts of robbery.

Policeman Lyle F. Smith, directing traffic at the intersection, said he ordered the trio to drive up to the curb after they failed to negotiate the stop, and found two revolvers on the floor-board of the car. Becoming suspicious of them, Smith testified he took them to the Wilshire station.

Just before their arrest, the men held up and robbed R. C. Scaife, 1705½ South Berendo street, and Miss Bobby Langdon, 1344 South Longwood avenue, in front of the latter's home, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Cushman. Then they went across the street and robbed J. H. Graff of 1328 West Fiftieth street, it was testified.

Judge McConnell ordered the three held for trial to the Superior Court and fixed bail at $5000 each.

Stars to Testify in Murray Suit

Trial of the suit by Mae Murray, film star, against Jack Donovan to annul a contract by which she bought a house for $50,000, which she asserts is worth only $25,000 is scheduled before Superior Judge Bishop this morning.

A number of film stars have been subpoenaed as witnesses. The First National Bank of Hollywood also is a defendant.

Miss Murray charges Donovan had the place fixed up with soft lights and music coming from the pipe organ, and played on her temperament so that she did not consider the price until afterward.

Red Label Found Best Can Seller

Declaring that shoppers in grocery stores unconsciously display a fine appreciation of advertising art work, R. J. Alder, "canned foods time," which continues to the end of the month, committeeman, said yesterday that hundreds of persons are influenced to eat certain canned goods because they are decorated with a pretty label. He named red as the tin can's best seller.

Speaking before the committee at Towne and Eleventh streets, Alder reported on a check made in many stores.

Efforts are to be made, E. T. Aylesbury, general chairman, said, to educate food buyers in purchasing canned goods which suit their pallets.

Mrs. Lytton's heirs assert she died from poisoning caused by using Mrs. Carr's face lotion. Mrs. Bryson was called upon to defend the beauty specialist. She testified she had used Mrs. Carr's preparations for years, and with great benefit, as did several other women. The case will go to the jury today.

NO BLAME DECIDED IN FATAL FALL

Inquest Holds Plane in Which Three Lost Lives Possibly Was Defective

The fatal fall of Pilot Jack Martin, Leonard T. English and W. H. English in a plane at Wilmington the 19th inst. was of "undetermined cause, possibly by defective plane," according to the findings at the inquest conducted by Deputy Coroner Montfort at Cleveland & Barker's parlors in Wilmington yesterday.

The theory that the propeller first broke was disputed by eyewitnesses who said the right wing snapped, sending the plane into a half circle. D. M. Stockdale, war-time marine flyer, credited Martin with speeding his motor to the limit after the wing dropped, "as the only thing he could do in the hope of overcoming the fall by gaining momentum."

O. F. Fuller, patrolman of the Wilmington division, and Burdett D. Fuller, head of Burdett Field, where the plane belonged, also testified.

Whether the plane was faulty or not, the city can do nothing about it, according to D. G. Richardson, aircraft inspector for the United States Department of Commerce. Los Angeles has no regulations requiring inspection, like other cities have, he said.

The Federal government passes only on planes operating interstate. Such a license had been asked for this plane recently, and it had been looked at but no action taken, he said. The plane was a super-swallow type biplane, built late in 1925, and the government has no data on planes constructed before October, 1927, he said. Richardson declared Martin a competent pilot.

FLOWERS VOGUE FOR COSTUMES

Easter Gifts Run Heavily to New Creations

Crystal and Shell Widely Used in Designs

Every Fabric and Blossom Being Utilized

With the demand for flowers as costume accessories exceeding that of any previous season, Easter gifts are running heavily to the latest flower creations, according to the downtown stores.

Crystals are used to a large extent this spring, and shell is coming to the fore. The Austrians and French have employed shell in modeling adorable bouquets combining anemones, forget-me-nots, and lily of the valley, and the color harmony is perfect. Again there is the "Channel Cluster" of large crystals set in silver, invisible edge, mounted on silver wire stems, and having heavily lacquered black leaves.

FABRICS UTILIZED

In fabrics velvets and leathers are vying with organdies georgettes, felts and flannels. In fact, almost every material has been utilized in obtaining a proper flower adornment for spring wear.

Under the heading of flowers, of course, is included fruit clusters. Cherries are extremely good, and they cry their independence over all laws known to orchardists, for they are just as good in orchid or any shade of green as they are in red or black. And their size is regulated entirely by the dictates of feminine fancy and not at all by agricultural rule. Strawberries are good in fruit decoration, perfectly tinted velvet lending itself to their reproduction.

FLOWERS OF SHELL

In flower designs a beautiful adornment is a full-blown wild rose of highly polished sea shell with a center of crystal beads and leaves of lacquered fabrics. Georgette and organdy lend themselves well to the new lacquer treatment, and produce a truly life-like gardenia or poppy or chrysanthemum.

Leather and felt are used in smart colors, and are cleverly touched up with gold or silver in uneven brush effect to give a high light to an otherwise one-tone blossom.

Enormous bunches of violets are good, sometimes being of lacquered fabric touched lightly with powder-like Czecho-Slovakian crystals in iridescent effect.

BANDIT TRIO POURS BANK CASH IN SACK

Customer Also Victim as Robbers Enter Hollywood Branch at Noon Hour

Three bandits, two white men and a negro, held up customers and employees in a branch of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank at 1151 North Western avenue just before noon yesterday and escaped with between $700 and $800. They fled in a new green touring car which had been parked near by, getting away just a few minutes before arrival of police.

Miss Rose Cherry, a customer of 5180 Santa Monica Boulevard, was just about to deposit $25 to her account when the hold-up occurred and was forced to hand over the money to one of the bandits. J. H. McGowan, another patron, also was held at bay.

As soon as H. W. Brown, manager of the bank, stepped out to transact some business on Western avenue, the three bandits entered the bank.

Jumping up on the counter of the manager's office, one bandit covered the employees, ordering them to hold their hands up and turn their backs. An accomplice herded the customers into the escrow office, while the third man, emptied the available cash into a sack.

Arthur Markman, 1941 Argyle avenue who was parked across the street saw three men jump into a touring car and start west on Virginia avenue. He started pursuit, stopping at the bank to be joined by Teller N. M. Thomas. The chase proved futile.

Trial Begun in $100,000 Suit for Alienation

Trial of the $100,000 alienation suit of Peter Matthew Cook, who charges that Robert L. Casner, wealthy Signal Hill oil man, stole the love of his wife, Mrs. Alma J. Cook, was started in the court of Superior Judge Wood yesterday.

MRS. ALMA J. COOK

The couple married in San Diego in 1921 and Cook charges that Casner enticed his wife away from him in 1926.

Casner denies the charges and asserts that Mrs. Cook had filed suit for divorce, that the husband had named him co-respondent in the case and that the entire matter had been adjudicated when Mrs. Cook was divorced.

SOCIETY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar G. Dulin at 340 South Alexandria avenue was the scene last evening of a lovely wedding when at 8:30 o'clock their daughter, Miss Jean Elizabeth Dulin, became the bride of Thomas Nast St. Hill, with Rev. Leslie Learned of Pasadena officiating. Mr. St. Hill is the son of Ralph Woodford St. Hill, who at present is making his home in London, Eng.

Peach blossoms, tulips and other spring flowers, a salmon pink shade predominating, formed the decoration scheme for the wedding, the ceremony being read by candlelight, in the presence of 150 guests before a chancel improvised of white syringa and Easter lilies. Music was furnished by the Arion Trio, which also played during the reception and supper which followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride made an exquisite picture in a period gown of white satin, trimmed with old lace, duchesse and rose point, in a wide yoke, with a veil of princess lace and carrying a shower of orchids and lilies of the valley. Her matron of honor was Mrs. Frederick Ford, who wore a gown of chiffon in salmon pink and carried a muff of sweet peas, roses and blue delphinium. Three of the bride's small nieces, also in salmon chiffon and carrying muffs of sweet peas and roses, were dainty flower girls, while Jean Ethlyn Brehm and Leslie Alice Huntington, also nieces of the bride, wearing frocks of white, formed an aisle of white ribbons through which the bride approached the chancel. The ring bearer was 4-year-old Garrettson Dulin, Jr., nephew of the bride and son of Mr. and Mrs. Garrettson Dulin.

Mr. St. Hill chose for his best man Donald Armour, while Stanley Armour, Garrettson Dulin, Edgar S. Dulin and Lett Bissell served as ushers.

A reception and wedding supper followed the ceremony, a bridal bell of white flowers being suspended over the table, which was decorated with tulips and varicolored cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. St. Hill are leaving immediately for a month's honeymoon in Honolulu, and upon their return will make their home in San Marino, Pasadena.

Mrs. St. Hill, who will be the recipient of many postnuptial affairs after she is settled in her new home, having expressed to her many friends a preference for that arrangement rather than the exhausting round of parties before the wedding, was graduated from the Marlborough School for Girls and Mt. Vernon Seminary. Mr. St. Hill attended Andover Academy and was graduated from Yale University.

Flood Benefit

Through the generosity of William Andrews Clark, the entire gross receipts from a special concert to be given by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra Monday evening, the 25th inst., will go to the sufferers of the St. Francis Dam disaster. The women's committee of the orchestra, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Cecil Frankel, with Mrs. Force Parker as vice-chairman, will work in conjunction with a committee from the Assistance League in selling out the entire house for this concert. Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mme. Rodezno and Mrs. Tully Marshall form the Assistance League committee.

Prenuptial Affair.

As a prenuptial courtesy to Miss Dorothee Durnerin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Durnerin, whose betrothal to C. E. Palmer, Jr., was announced recently, Miss Evalyne Ross, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Ross of West Adams street, will entertain the 31st inst., in her home with a bridge tea to which sixteen guests have been bidden.

Charming Hostess

Mrs. Charlotte Cameron, O. B. E., of London, Eng., who makes her winter home at the Biltmore, will be a hostess of Saturday, in compliment to Mrs. Judson C. Rives and Mrs. George Leslie Smith. Luncheon will be served in a private suite, and Mrs. Cameron plans to use upon the horseshoe-shaped table a decoration scheme of spring flowers, rose-colored ribbons, and dainty Parisian place cards.

Included among the guests will be Mmes. Judson C. Rives, George Leslie Smith, Benjamin Franklin Perkins, Walter Robey Simons, Frank Davey, Charles Morrison, Beatrice Warren, Fred P. Newport, Beverly Scott, Alexander Barrett, Carroll Lathrop Post, Frank Pixley, Charles Eugene Hoffman, Michael F. Regan, Sherman Danby, Howard Verbeck, Willits J. Hole, Eli P. Clark, Stephan Vavra, William Guyton, Oscar Howard, Charles Henry Thompson, Benjamin F. Bledsoe, R. D. Shepherd, Gurdon W. Wattles, William Anagnosti, Richard Pridham, Vickery Caul, Horton Fall, Leon Van Bever, Mark Lewis, Jerome Reynolds, Robert Ladd Gifford, Georgia Keating Kennedy, Dudley Wilson, Chester Wallace Brown, Hugh Harrison, William H. Anderson and Nellie Dean Graham and Miss Eileen Hennessey.

President Honored

Entertaining in honor of Dr. Lemuel H. Murlin, president of De Pauw University, and Mrs. Murlin, who have been guests of the De Pauw Alumni in Los Angeles for the past two weeks, Mrs. Lura F. Alexander was hostess Saturday evening with a dinner given in the Edgewater Beach Club. Mrs. Murlin before her marriage was Miss Ermina Fallass, and the guests, all of whom are members of the Fallass family, included Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hoeppner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Guy of Arcadia, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Boyer, Mrs. Ella V. Spight, Mrs. Louis Murzi, Mrs. Haggard of St. Stephens Parish, Mrs. Hattie Fallass, Mrs. H. A. Longan of Kansas City and Walker Longan.

Distinguished Visitors

Recent distinguished visitors in Los Angeles were the Consul-General of Denmark from San Francisco, Fin Lund, who with Mrs. Lund passed a week at the Ambassador. During their visit they were delightfully entertained by Prince Eric of Denmark in his home at Arcadia, and at the Midwick Country Club. Others who greeted them and arranged informal affairs in their honor were Ryan Grut, Vice-Consul of Denmark, Mr. and Mrs. John Claire Monteith, at whose wedding Mrs. Lund was a bridesmaid, and Jean Hersholt. The visit of the Lunds at this time was partly occasioned by the approaching departure of Prince Eric, who is returning soon to Denmark for an extended visit.

CHILD LEARNS BY CORRECTING HIS OWN MISTAKES

Every parent is quite aware that he learns by his mistakes that the process of trial and error and retrial eventually lead to success, but he has a particular aversion against allowing his child to learn by these methods. There is a type of parent who simply can't let a child alone, and must have not only his finger but his whole hand in all the child's pies.

Bobby has a new set of blocks. Bobby would just as soon build one on top of the other and then cast them down with a gorgeous bang as to play with them any other way. But not his young father. He seats himself on the floor and proceeds to show Bobby how to build a real house, one that balances neatly and solidly on its expert foundations. Bobby isn't ready for this yet and when father is through he gives the whole thing a good push and laughs uproariously as it clatters to the floor. Father is disgusted. "You can't show that kid a thing," he tells mother.

It's a good thing Bobby can take this stupendous edifice so lightly for when he begins putting blocks one on the other and they refuse to stayk as did his father's, Bobby gets hugely discouraged and his interest in blocks dies. Bobby has to be allowed to let the blocks fall and enjoy that stage until he tires of it and learns by actual experience that there are ways of placing the blocks so that they won't fall down. By building over and over he finds just which way is right and which way wrong and he has his own simple designs to encourage him and not the intricate one of his father which he can't be expected to imitate.

The only way he can enter into the game with his father is by wrecking the block house, and so all his father's help is wasted.

It is fine for parents to lend a helping hand when the child asks for it, but ordinarily one should keep one's hand off the child's toys. He will find out their various possibilities by himself step by step, not all at once. How discouraging it would be for a student of architecture to attempt to draw a design for an office building. He learns bit by bit until the edifice so astounding to the uninitiated becomes merely a series of details, each of which he has learned by itself.

Mother, with an orderly mind, foreseeing that the game may be concentrated in one corner, may insist on Bobby building a house instead of the long train he is intent upon. Switching Bobby's ideas cuts them down. He isn't ready for a house at that moment, but a train, and the wise mother will let it be a train.

There are no tufts to catch dust and dirt. Reinforcing strips inside prevent the ticking from stretching—insuring long life.

Flexible, hinged tabs insure a uniform thickness permanently and prevent the shifting of filling materials and the formation of lumps or depressions. These are the secrets of Sanotuf comfort.

Sanotuf may be had in a variety of attractive tickings; they are beautiful, especially because they present a tailored appearance, even to the smooth, machine-rolled edge, and they will stay that way throughout years of use.

Final Bid 2 N.T. Played by North

Salient Points of the Bidding

The opening bid is properly the four-card Diamond suit, which contains strong bidding tops, rather than the five-card Heart suit headed by the King-ten. Third Hand's Spade bid is not only an improving bid, but in this instance happens to be a denial bid also. In turn, Dealer denies the Spades, and when he does so by naming Hearts, Third Hand is enabled to bid No Trump.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 2. Hearts rather than Spades must be played for, since South's hand, which is long in Hearts, is the one containing the necessary re-entries.

Trick 8. East must be given a Heart trick in order to establish a long Heart in South's hand, thereby scoring game.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

HOW TO USE CHEESE

In Europe, Asia and even in South America, cheese is eaten very largely in place of meat, while in America it is used somewhat as a condiment, being used for forming dishes or eaten in small quantities with crackers or bread near the end of a meal. Various cooked cheese dishes are served at after-theater suppers.

It is such a well-known fact that these cooked cheese dishes produce nightmares that one of our first weekly comic pictures published in America was about the adventures met with in "Rarebit Dreams." It is unquestionably true that cooked cheese does not digest as readily as that which is not cooked, but part of the trouble is caused by the improperly cooked toast and other starchy foods which are used at these late supper meals. The diner has perhaps eaten a hearty dinner three or four hours before, and the stomach is still laboring with the evening meal.

Many people who have had unpleasant experiences with these cooked cheese meals get to believing that cheese is bad for them and that it is an unhealthful food.

Cheese makes an excellent substitute for meat, but should not be used in addition to meat. It is best to use plenty of leafy green vegetables with the cheese, and not use any other protein or any kind of highly starchy food at the same time.

The making of cheese in Europe must be considered an art, and requires great skill in order to produce and repeat a certain required flavor. In America cheese making has developed into a science, and there is little of domestic art about it. We now produce more cheese than any other country, but there is doubtless something lost which is found in the virtually homemade cheeses of the Old World. Those who can afford to buy so much of the imported cheese, and continue using a certain kind that has a certain peculiar flavor they like, will find that the cheese made in America is equally as wholesome and much cheaper in price.

The Cheddar cheese, named after the village of Cheddar, Eng., is much like our American York State or Canadian cheese. It is made from sweet milk, but the milk may be either whole, partly skimmed, or skimmed, and the cheeses may be white or colored yellow, and marketed either fresh or thoroughly ripened. The Camembert is a soft, rich cheese, which originated in Normandy, but is now also made in America. Cottage cheese, or "Smearcase," as it is called in Germany, is a sour, skim-milk cheese which is usually eaten quite fresh, but may be packed away in tubs to prevent further ripening. An excellent cheese may be made at home as follows: Allow whole milk to stand in the icebox for about ten days. Pour both curd and whey which has formed into a bowl, beat with an egg-beater, pour into a sack-shaped cheese cloth, tie the ends with a string and hang in the sun until all the whey drips away. This is something like the cottage cheese but being made with the whole milk has a rich flavor and is smooth, due to the fact that the normal amount of butter-fat remains. Cheese made in this way is more easily digested than when the milk is partially cooked over the fire.

There is never any excuse for throwing away either skimmed or whole milk, for cheese can always be made from left-over milk. It is better to keep the milk on ice so the bacteria changes take place slowly. Try using cheese in place of meat part of the time, but use it with the green vegetables and not with starches.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: T.P.M. writes: "Please advise me what causes my head to ache. Sometimes I have a headache for a whole week without relief."

Answer: There are many causes of headaches. Here are some of them: Auto-intoxication, constipation, prolapsed organs, uterine congestion, eye strain, nerve depletion, and toxic poisoning from some chronic disease. Only a diagnosis will tell you which of these causes produces your headaches.

Q.: Mother asks: "What is the best artificial food for a baby? How old must a baby be before he may have vegetable juice?"

A.: After changing from breast nursing the baby should be given nothing but Holstein milk and orange juice up to about two years of age, after which he should take a little less milk and begin using the minced, non-starchy vegetables.

Q.: H.L.M. asks: "Could a person havin gan old chronic osteomyelitis leg have dead bone in the leg? Would having slight pain, with scars on leg turning red, mean there was pus or dead bone there? This happens only when I do a lot of walking or driving a car. After once having osteopyelitis will I always have attacks every so often?"

A.: Osteomyelitis can be cured in certain stages either by dieting or through surgery or by a combination of both of these treatments. The walking probably irritates your chronic osteomyelitis, but would not necessarily indicate that there is any dead bone remaining. A good diagnostician can tell you the exact condition of the bone through the aid of the X-ray. A permanent cure is possible if you take the right treatment in time.

Q.: Anxious asks: "Are —— prescription tablets injurious? If not, would it be harmful to take four tablets per day? What is there in them to reduce one? If they are harmful, can you give a prescription not injurious to reduce one?"

A.: I do not recommend any medicinal preparations in this column, but can assure you that so far as I know there are no reducing pills which are harmless. Perhaps the least harmful ones are those which are only laxatives. The simple, safe plan is to reduce through diet and exercise.

A Double Purpose

Newspaper spread on the floor under the worn rug or carpet will keep the floors much warmer in winter. If you suspect moths to be prevalent in the house to which you have just moved, spread newspapers under the rugs as a preventive. It seems as if the newspaper under the floor covering proves beneficial no matter when used.

Try Losing 20 Lbs.

No Starvation
No Abnormal Exercise

Learn what it means to be slender. What it means in new beauty, new health and vitality. You will always be glad that you know.

Wherever you look you can see that people have found a new way to reduce. Excess fat, once so common, is the exception now. Find out that scientific method in justice to yourself.

That way is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. The slender figures which prevail today are largely due to that.

The use of Marmola requires no abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. Simply take four tablets daily until the excess disappears. Every box contains the formula and the reasons for results, so you will have no fear of harm. The effects are due to a substance which Nature employs in the body to turn food into fuel and energy rather than into fat. It is the result of wide research and experiment by scientific men.

If you overweigh, you owe yourself a trial of the help that has done so much. Take Marmola for a while and watch the change that comes. All the results will delight you, we believe. Order now, before you forget it. When reduction is so easy, why stay fat?

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

PRISONER CUTS HEAD IN COURT

Slashes Self With Razor as He Pleads Insanity

Women Scream in Ensuing Scene of Confusion

Recess Follows in Assault to Murder Trial

Slashing his forehead with a razor blade as he sat in the witness chair, Manuel Gallego yesterday created a sensation in Judge Aggeler's court where he is on trial on two counts of assault with intent to murder and one of attempting to escape from an officer.

The unexpected move of Gallego came at the conclusion of his testimony and precipitated such confusion that Judge Aggeler found it necessary to order a fifteen-minute recess.

ASSERTS HE'S CRAZY

Gallego, who has pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity to the charges against him, apparently sought to make a forcible demonstration before the jury in support of his insanity plea.

"I'm crazy in the head," he said in Spanish. "If you want to see what's in my head I'll show you."

Whereupon he withdrew a razor blade from a match box with which he had been tinkering and sharply drew it across his forehead. A thin stream of blood trickled down his face to the accompaniment of screams from women in the court.

COURT RECESSES

Before Gallego could make another self-inflicted wound, however, Bailiff Hammon and several deputy sheriffs who were in the courtroom seized him and obtained possession of the blade.

Court was recessed and Gallego received first-aid from County Jail Physician Blank. Later he was returned to court with his head bandaged and the trial was resumed. The case will go to the jury this morning.

Gallego is accused of attempting to shoot Deputy Sheriff Thorne and Frank Seguin, a salesman, while he was being questioned in the Sheriff's office January 12, last. He also is charged with attempting to escape from deputies who then had him in custody.

ENLARGING SCHOOL FOR DEAF URGED

Legislative Group Also Gets Plea for Lip-Reading Method of Teaching

Recommendations for the enlargement of the State school for the deaf at Berkeley and protests against the so-called manual or sign method of instruction used there, were heard by the State Legislative Committee investigating the problems of the deaf in session here yesterday.

Mrs. Howard L. Terry, vice-president of the California Association of the Deaf, urged that improvements be made immediately in the Berkeley institution and that additional facilities for resident students be built.

The protests stated that the manual method is not the most suitable because those who learn this system can understand only others who know it and therefore are isolated from the general public. They recommended that the oral or lip-reading method be adopted.

State Superintendent of Education Cooper informed the commission of the progress and improvements now being made at the Berkeley school and accompanied the commissioners on a tour of inspection of the public school on Seventeenth street, where the deaf of Los Angeles are educatd. It was decided that the next meeting will be held on some day in September to be fixed by Mr. Cooper.

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE NEED CITED

Dr. Von KleinSmid Points to Arrant Lack as City's Pressing Problem

What Los Angeles needs, perhaps more than anything else, is a school for the progressive, sound, sane and scientific study of medicine, declared Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid last night, addressing several hundred persons who attended the complimentary dinner given by the staff of Angelus Hospital for the board of directors and friends of the institution. The affair was held at the Jonathan Club and Dr. John MacLean acted as toastmaster.

Dr. von KleinSmid pointed out that this city has no laboratories worthy of the name, no vast libraries or other opportunities for medical research and offers little opportunity for the advancement of medical science. He cited that in one year the University of Southern California graduated sixty young men who were ready and eager for a medical course, but the institution was compelled to turn them away because it had no such course to offer. Such an education must and will be provided either for the institution of which he is the head, or some other, the educator said with emphasis. He also pointed out that medical quackery has flourished, while scientific medicine is at a standstill.

The guests included members of the City Council, with the single exception of Councilman Carl I. Jacobson, and other city officials, most of whom gave brief talks. A vaudeville entertainment followed.

WILMINGTON VOTES FOR WATER BONDS

A $200,000 bond issue for a water-distributing system was voted last night by residents of Municipal Improvement District No. 52, which includes part of Wilmington and part of the Harbor District. The vote was 217 to 56.

ROBBER TAKES CASH AND WEDDING RING

Mrs. Clara Johnson

BANDIT GAGS WOMAN AND ROBS HOME

Victim Provides Good Description of Daylight House Breaker

With an unusually good description of the suspect, Wilshire police detectives late yesterday continued the search for the bandit who shortly before noon bound and gagged Mrs. Clara Johnson in her home at 1500 1-2 South New Hampshire avenue, and, after futilely ransacking the house, robbed her of $5 in cash and her wedding ring.

The robbery of Mrs. Johnson was of unusual boldness. Mrs. Johnson told Detective Lieutenant Parker that she entered her home from the rear yard to find a man standing in the front room. He immediately whipped out a pistol, leveled it at her, and ordered her to lie down on the floor.

Terrified, Mrs. Johnson did as she was bidden while the bandit proceeded to tie her hands and feet and gag her with handkerchiefs he took from a bureau drawer. As his victim lay helpless the bandit searched the house thoroughly for valuables. He returned to Mrs. Johnson and took her wedding ring and $5 from her purse. He then threw her upon a bed and departed through the rear door.

For more than two hours Mrs. Johnson lay powerless to free herself before a neighbor called and discovered her predicament.

Mrs. Johnson described the bandit as being about 28 years of age, five feet eight inches in height, 150 pounds in weight, wearing a brown suit, brown hat, red necktie, brown shoes, with one tooth missing.

VICTIMS IDENTIFY SUSPECT IN HOLD-UP

Identified, according to police, as the bandit who held up the San Diego Hotel at 222½ North Main street, the 14th inst., Guadalupe Bugerro, 28 years of age, of 2401 East Twenty-fourth street, was arrested late yesterday and placed in the City Jail on suspicion of robbery. Bugerro's arrest was made on a description furnished the police by victims of the robbery. A small amount of cash was taken in the hold-up, it was reported.

Check the event, or events, in which you wish to participate, and bring in, or mail to the Miniature Aircraft Department on the fourth floor of the May Company.

OPERA GUILD BEGINS WITH 'TROVATORE'

Drama Organization Will Present Eight Weeks of Local Talent Attractions

The Opera and Drama Guild, an organization formed for the presentation of operas and dramas in Los Angeles by resident talent, announces "Il Trovatore" as its first opera, which will be presented for one week, beginning April 16, next. Trinity Auditorium has been leased for a series of operas and dramas for a period of at least eight weeks.

The movement is sponsored principally by the Los Angeles Opera and Fine Arts Club, which long has been working toward this ideal. A number of prominent business men are financing the project. It is planned to alternate operas and drama, devoting a week to each. The entire casts are to be made up by Los Angeles musicians and actors. Chamber music accompaniment will be used.

Alexander Bevani, operatic director, has been engaged to direct the operas. Leads have been selected for the first opera. The chorus is rehearsing at Trinity Auditorium. Roles for later operas are being cast.

One of the major ideas in these presentations is the fact that they will be given at an unusually low rate. There will be 2000 seats, and the highest price will be less than $1, with the lowest cheaper than the average downtown motion picture.

John Erskine, Noted Writer, to Speak Here

John Erskine, creator of "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," "Galahad" and "Adam and Eve" and professor of English at Columbia University, will lecture the evening of the 27th inst. at the Emanu-El Auditorium, Wilshire Boulevard and Manhattan avenue.

JOHN ERSKINE

Mr. Erskine, whose piano recitals have set New York agog, is making his first trip to Los Angeles.

Rabbi Herman Lissauer is head of the Emanu-El Forum.

Legion Switches Convention Vote

American Legion members of the Los Angeles district who have advocated strongly the campaign of Venice for the 1928 State convention of the American Legion, withdrew their support of that place during a meeting of the Seventeenth District, American Legion Posts, at the London Club in Culver City last night and instead decided to support San Diego. This made the Southern California advocacy of San Diego just about unanimous.

About 600 Legionnaires assembled at the caucus last night. Frank Kerwin of Culver City acted as master of ceremonies. Mayor Hauck of Culver City was there as were numerous Los Angeles city and county officials. The Sebastian Cotton Club entertainers performed while a buffet supper was served.

ORATORS SHOOT AT WENIG MARK

Hollywood High Picks Six Prize Aspirants

Manual Arts Will Select Entrants Next Week

Fifty-seven Contenders to Seek Honors

When Herbert Wenig won the international oratorical championship in 1926, he created a supreme goal for all Hollywood High School students who followed him to strive for, and it is that goal the six Hollywood boys are seeking when they compete in the district meet of the Fifth National and Third International Oratorical Contest to be held in the Hollywood Memorial Auditorium next Wednesday afternoon.

BOB SMITH

Wenig, now a student at Stanford University, was the first international oratorical champion and the third national oratorical champion. His victories at Washington, D. C., following the splendid victory of Don Tyler of Franklin High School, the first national champion, revealed the superiority of the young western orators.

GEORGE HOLLIS

The boys who will try to fill Wenig's oratorical brogans are George Hollis, Dan Johnson, Cecil Killgore, Rudolph Schlank, Bob Smith and Walter Stickel. They were selected from eighteen who competed in the school elimination.

Hollis is a junior, a member of the R.O.T.C. and Aero Club. His oration is based on the significance of the Constitution. Dan Johnson is president of the senior A class. His oration deals with the individual and the Constitution. Cecil Killgore, a senior, who is business manager of the school weekly, wrote on the development of the Constitution. Rudolph Schlank, a senior, is a debater and track man. He took as the subject for his oration "The Significance of the Constitution." Bob Smith, a junior, is prominent in debate, tennis and dramatics. The topic of his oration is the "Keynote of American Democracy." Walter Stickel, a senior, has confined his extra-curricular activities to debate, R.O.T.C. and Science Club.

RUDOLPH SCHLANK

Miss Ray Freeman, who has been directing the work of the youthful orators, is enthused over the progress made by them and believes they will make an excellent showing in the district meet and subsequent competition.

AT MANUAL ARTS

Manual Arts High School, which will compete with Lincoln, Los Angeles, Franklin, Jefferson, Polytechnic and Hollywood high schools for the city championship, will pick its representative from fifty-seven contenders who have prepared orations on the Constitution and will present them next week before the Forum Society.

WILLIAM PRICE

Assistance of the police department of Los Angeles and surrounding cities was sought late last night by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wallace, 1009 Ethel street, Glendale, in a search for their daughter, Eloise, 7 years of age, who disappeared about 4:30 p.m., while on her way home from visiting a school-girl friend.

The child attended the Doran-street school in Glendale, and, according to the report of the frantic parents to the police, was last seen standing on the corner of Louise street, and Verdugo Wash. Investigation revealed that the little girl had gone from school to visit with her friend on Louise street, and was taken to the corner and given directions as to returning home. She had not arrived at midnight, and a search throughout Glendale was without success.

When last seen the girl was wearing a grayish-blue slipover sweater, blue plaited skirt, short tan hose, and one-strap patent-leather shoes. She wore no hat, and is described as having brownish bobbed hair, blue eyes and wore a silver ring on middle finger.

There are still a few CHANDELIER ACROBATS
but MODERN HOMES have

G-E Convenience Outlets and Tumbler Switches

Here we have a chilled, though skilled Chandelier Acrobat taking his morning exercise. Some day he'll really wake up, and call in an Electrical Contractor to bring his wiring up-to-date!

A G-E Twin Convenience Outlet would accommodate both the electric heater and a reading lamp—or provide an extra connection for the electric cleaner.

A G-E Tumbler Switch would be an equal blessing to this early riser, whose futile groping has so often resulted in barked shins! The tumbler switch snaps on or off at a touch of finger or elbow.

Easy, Quick, Inexpensive to Install

Either of these modern necessities can be placed in any room, wherever needed. Your Electrical Contractor will do the work in a jiffy—without damaging walls or woodwork, without inconvenience to you. The cost is moderate—the comfort, priceless!

But—whether you need a single fixture or a complete wiring or re-wiring job—be sure to specify G-E Wiring System materials. G-E means General Electric; and General Electric means lifetime quality. Your home deserves the best!

FAME FINDS ARTIST MOPPING

Joseph Weisman, Winner of Poster Prize Award, on Big, Clean Task When Word Arrives

It was a big moment in the life of Joe Weisman, 20 years of age, when he was called to the telephone from his duties at the General Hospital yesterday. He was up to his eyebrows in work and for the moment, at least, had forgotten his ambition to become a great artist.

"Hurry, Joe," said the voice of the exchange operator, "the gentleman says it's important."

Joe dropped his mop and hurried.

"Is this Mr. Joseph Weisman?" asked a deep voice at the other end of the wire. Informed that it was, the voice continued, "Well, I just wanted to tell you that you have won first prize in the poster contest conducted by the Auto Park Association of Los Angeles. Will you come down?"

Less than thirty minutes later the young man, attired in his niftiest togs, entered the office of the association, 438 Bradbury Building, 304 South Broadway. His happiness was still further increased when he was informed that the judges had increased the amount of the first prize from $25 to $30, the extra $5 had been added by one of the judges.

More than fifty drawings were submitted. Second prize, $15, was awarded to Laura R. Brock, 185 Glorietta street, and honorable mention with $5 prizes was allotted to three others. They are Nancy Lose, 732 North Curson street; Mario Gonella of Lincoln High School, and James H. Patrick of Hollywood High School.

The winning poster will be used by the association for advertising purposes.

GIRL-BRANDING PRICE HIGH

A term of from one to ten years in San Quentin is the price that Harry Ross, 28 years of age, must pay for carving his initial "H" on the wrist of his sweetheart, Miss Irene L. Tessner, clerk, living at 624 Santa Cruz street, Long Beach, court records revealed yesterday.

Then sentence was pronounced by Superior Judge Craig after denying Ross's application for probation. According to the evidence, Ross entered Miss Tessner's apartment and, upon discovering a letter from another man, smashed the furniture, seized the girl by the wrist and slashed his initial in the flesh.

Wife Obtained Instead of Car

When he gave his son $25 to go out and make a down payment on an automobile, the son returned without any auto but brought back a wife, according to the testimony of A. J. McCune of Riverside in the suit of his son, Carl J. McCune for annulment of his marriage to Winnifred McCune. He testified his son was but 19 years of age when the ceremony was performed.

Mrs. McCune sought a divorce from her husband on the ground that he ill-treated her. The husband's suit for annulment was granted by Superior Judge Tyron.

Love of State Divorces Pair

John L. Bishop, ordered by eastern physicians to remain in California because of his health, yesterday obtained a divorce decree from Amy Josephine Bishop, teacher for three years in local schools, because the "thought of California forever" worried her.

The wife became homesick and returned to Johnstown, Pa., with her relatives, he testified. Twice he sent her money to join him again. Once she got as far as Chicago, sent him a telegram that she already was homesick and went back to Pennsylvania, and the second time she never even started, he said.

MAGNIN STORE EXPANDS TODAY

Hollywood Shop Gets New Two-Story Addition

Sales Salon Opens Into Patio With Fountain

Garage in Basement Has Room for Fifty Cars

Adding one more reason for Hollywood's growing importance as a shopping center is the formal opening today of the new $150,000 addition to the I. Magnin & Co. store at 6340 Hollywood Boulevard.

The new portion, covering a space 100 feet deep by 88 feet wide, is a two-story, Spanish-type building designed by Myron Hunt and H. C. Chambers and gives the shop four times the space it formerly occupied. It consists of a large sales salon, numerous fitting rooms and stock rooms on the first floor, and locker rooms, dressing-rooms and kitchen for employees on the second floor, with additional room for a junior department to be installed later.

The new sales salon was decorated in Georgian style, and fitting rooms all open into a patio with fountain and pond, and attractive motifs of Spanish tile. An overhanging balcony around the patio with werns and potted plants makes this one of the most attractive features of the addition.

GARAGE IN BASEMENT

Traffic difficulties have been solved by a garage in the basement of the building, entered from Vine street, which will accommodate forty to fifty cars. Attendants will be on hand to take charge of the cars and patrons may enter the store from an elevator which goes directly upstairs.

The original Hollywood shop of I. Magnin & Co., was built in 1923 and was awarded the prize from the American Architects' Association as the most beautiful one-story building in America. This is the ninth of the company stores which extend from San Diego to Seattle and which have been an institution in the State for more than a half-century.

Executives of the company and members of the Magnin family have come here from San Francisco for the opening today. They also were present at a special review of the store Tuesday evening for the merchants of Hollywood. The shop will be under the management of Miss Gertrude Culver.

"Hollywood will celebrate her sixth great opening in the last nine months when I. Magnin & Co. open the doors of the beautiful new addition tomorrow," said Carl Bush, executive secretary of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, yesterday.

BECOMING FASHION HUB

"Hollywood, known the world over as the center of the film industry, is rapidly becoming known as the Hub of Fashions. Los Angeles merchants have established nearly 200 branch stores in this rapidly growing community. Each new, exclusive establishment aids the merchants already here.

"Hollywood's total purchasing power, according to statistics of the Eberle Economic Service under date of August 29, 1927, is given as $225,646,200. More than 54 per cent of her families are said to enjoy an income of $5000 a year or more.

"The growth of land values from $1.25 an acre to $5000 a front foot, within the memory of our young men, has been achieved by strenuous, concerted effort. Flood waters have been drained; forty-four miles of streets have been paved within the last four years alone; $2,000,000 is being spent in the installation of underground conduits in Hollywood's metropolitan area; in 1927 Hollywood gained new buildings of a total value of $30,000,000."

Wounded Man Being Hunted as Robber Suspcet

Deputy sheriffs yesterday were seeking a man with a bullet wound in the left arm. He is believed to have been shot Wednesday morning by Mirl Janes, 1400 Ana Boulevard, Palomar, when the latter used a pistol to frighten a prowler from his mother's home.

According to young Janes's story to Deputy Sheriffs Gregg and Burkhalter, he saw a stranger tampering with the telephone wires near the house. He ordered the man away and the man replied, "Try to make me leave."

Janes told officers that he obtained a revolver and fired one shot. The man fell to the ground and then left hurriedly nursing his left arm, according to Janes.

GYPSY SONG BIRD FIGHTS DEPORTING

Rene Tumanova's Friends Seek Contract So She May Stay in America

Rene Tumanova, Russian soprano, faces deportation from the United States unless she obtains a contract that will keep her before the public as an artist. Otherwise she will be sent back to Russia, where her father was a captain of the guards at the imperial palace in St. Petersburg. He was one of the first victims of the Reds, as was also her husband.

According to a story told of her in Santa Monica, where she sang at a Bay Cities Music Association concert, she escaped from Russia with her child, a girl now 8 years of age.

An application for extension to remain in this country has been sent L. E. Behymer, Los Angeles impresario, by E. L. Haff, acting immigration commissioner. This will be signed by Miss Tumanova, returned to Haff and forwarded to Secretary Davis. Her bondsmen are T. R. Weaver and Miss Mollie A. Brown.

Mr. Behymer has written Secretary Davis and will take up her case with him personally when he arrives in Los Angeles, April 28, to attend a convention of the Moose Lodge.

"She is the most capable Gypsy singer in this country, with personality plus," said Behymer, who has an agreement with Miss Tumanova for two or three concerts. "I placed her case before the Orpheum people and others, and feel sure she will be offered a contract."

Trial of Six to Echo Hickman's Fiendish Deeds

Charged with distributing morgue photographs of Marion Parker's mutilated body, six men will go on trial today before a jury in Municipal Judge Blake's court. They are William M. Burge, suspended police officer; Dick Sparks, 27 years of age, 1334 1-2 South Berendo street; George E. Smith, 29, waiter of 2530 Hillcrest street; Hugo Hollman, 60, photographer of 1229 West Twenty-fourth street; Jack Kurza, 37, chauffeur, 2514 Crenshaw Boulevard, and Walter F. Herzberg, 40, commercial photographer, 2553 West Twelfth street.

G. J. Ormsby, a sailor of the U.S.S. New Mexico, is expected to testify that he received a number of the pictures from Kurza to sell aboard the ship, but that he destroyed them. Mrs. Mary M. Wilson, 2514 Crenshaw Boulevard, who is said to have received one of the photos from her chauffeur, also has been subpoenaed.

Contract Signed for Advertising of Southland

City Clerk Dominguez yesterday signed for the City of Los Angeles the contract between the city and the All-Year Club by which the city contributes $25,000 this year toward the All-Year Club's advertising in eastern newspapers and national magazines. This advertising sets forth the advantages of this city and Southern California as a vacation land. The City Council approved the contract.

Councilman Randall in supporting the appropriation said the appropriation is a splendid investment as the All-Year Club's advertising brings tourists to Los Angeles who spend many times the cost in advertising.

LOWDEN NOT TO CONTEST

"In deference to Gov. Lowden, his friends in California will not enter a contesting delegation in the California Presidential primaries," according to announcement yesterday by Attorney Lin William Price of Los Angeles, organization chairman of the All-States Frank O. Lowden Club of California.

MINES TRACT INSPECTED

Airport Site Near Inglewood Approved by Expert; Final Decision by Council Due Tomorrow

With the City Council scheduled to make final decision tomorrow on the site for the proposed municipal airport, members of the councilmanic air-field committee together with Efficiency Director Knox and Capt. Parkin, representative for the bureau of aeronautics of the Department of Commerce, yesterday inspected one proposed location near Inglewood.

The inspection, which was conducted with the idea of obtaining from Capt. Parkin, as an aeronautical expert, his opinion of the field, was centered on the Mines tract some fifteen miles from Los Angeles. The tract lies southwest of the city of Inglewood and consists of 1000 square acres of level sandy land, with a slight rolling surface at the western extremity.

PARKIN APPROVES FIELD

Councilmen Hall and Alber of the airport committee, who were the only members to inspect the proposed site, made no further comment on the field, citing the majority and minority reports of the committee in both of which the field was mentioned.

Capt. Parkin expressed approval of the field after the inspection, indicating that prevalent winds there would not be unfavorable to safe landing. The field, as outlined yesterday in the plan, would be one and one-quarter miles square and would offer plenty of hangar space and runways.

COUNCIL TO VIEW SITES

The field is bounded on the west by Arizona Road, on the north by San Antonio street, on the east by Redondo Boulevard and on the south by One Hundred and Fourteenth street. In the western extremity, some leveling work would be necessary.

Following the inspection it was learned that the entire City Council today will inspect the three sites on the east side of the city. Those sites are the Hellman tract, Bandini and Vail Field, the latter having been successfully used in commercial and air-mail flying by the Western Air Express for the past two years.

ECONOMIC CLASS FAVORS VAIL FIELD

A request that the City Council give utmost consideration to Vail Field as the site of a municipal airport was made yesterday in an open letter to the City Council by the class in economics of commercial aviation of metropolitan college, University of Southern California.

The reports of the Council committee failed to name Vail Field as one of the sites favorable for a municipal landing field. Among the sites recommended by the committee are the Sesnon, Van Nuys, Mines and Hellman tracts.

In the open letter to the Council yesterday, the class states:

"Our conclusions as a group of business and professional men are based on an unbiased investigation of Vail Field, among others, from facts concerning meteorological conditions, accessibility, proven successful operation for the last two years, and from information given us by government experts and other authorities as regards the requirements for an adequate and satisfactory airport."

POLICE AIRPLANE URGED BY COMMISSION

A resolution requesting the City Council to provide a municipal airport at the earliest possible date was passed yesterday by the Police Commission. The resolution was presented by Commissioner Schweitzer, who stated that if the necessary funds cannot be provided in any other way they should be fixed in the budget of city expenses now being prepared for the next fiscal year commencing July 1.

The commission also passed another resolution asking the Council to provide funds in the budget for the purchase of at least one airplane for the police department, and to pay the salary and expenses of a police executive to have charge of the inspection and license of all planes operated within the city limits.

NEEDED AS SAFEGUARD

All of these things are necessary, according to Commissioner Schweitzer, to safeguard lives and property and enforce the ordinance prohibiting aviators from flying at an altitude of less than 1500 feet.

It was pointed out that numerous complaints about airplanes flying just over telephone poles in residential districts have been received by the commission. It was also stated that this cannot be regulated and checked properly unless funds are provided to pay an inspector and provide him with equipment to police the air.

Commissioner Thorpe stated that, because no municipal airport is available, there are a number of private flying fields in the city and these fields are so small that airplanes landing there cannot help but swoop low over housetops.

If a large municipal airport is provided this condition can be eliminated by requiring all airplanes to use it, and city regulations can be enforced better, he said.

A. K. Detwiler Makes Gift to Ohio Hospital

As a memorial to his late wife, Mrs. De Ette Harrison Detwiler, A. K. Detwiler of Los Angeles, owner of the Detwiler Building, has made a gift of $80,000 to be used for the construction of a hospital at Wauseon, O., it was learned yesterday.

A.K. DETWILER

While considering a suitable memorial to his wife, who died in 1925, Mr. Detwiler's attention was directed to the need of a hospital at Wauseon by a friend, W. H. Eager of Pasadena. One of the reasons for the selection of the little Ohio town was the fact that it had been the girlhood home of Mrs. Detwiler.

Mr. Detwiler's gift will be merged with a gift of the Commonwealth Fund of New York, amounting to $160,000, the total of $240,000 to comprise the cost of the hospital, which will be known as the De Ette Harrison Detwiler Memorial Hospital. It is stipulated that an additional sum of $30,000 shall be raised by the community to insure the permanent upkeep of the institution.

"TIMES" ATHLETES TO HAVE BANQUET

A feature of the entertainment will be the American debut of Manuel Mendoza Lopez, lyric tenor, who recently arrived from Mexico City, following years of success in Spanish operas. Teresita Villagrana, Spanish dancer, and Adela Reyes, soprano, will appear in special numbers. Fonseca, formerly of Winnipeg, Can., and master of ceremonies of the Canadian Society of Southern California, announced yesterday that the society has arranged for a special reunion, frolic and dance, to be held tomorrow night at the California Auditorium, 1137 South Hope street, to celebrate the prosperity their home country is enjoying. This 120 acres is the largest exclusively residential district in the city of Pasadena. All improvements in and paid.

A NEW PLAN

We do not ask a man to make "cold turkey" calls. You are given a list of selected names which have been reached by a series of 3 letters, the last of which makes an appointment for your call. You can make 10 calls a day and develop one prospect to 20 calls, out of which you will make one sale to 8 prospects. You only call on potential buyers; 2 sales per month will earn you over $500. We also have 15 fine 1 and 2 story houses to sell at $1000 to $2500 under actual value. If you can meet professional and business men and tell a straight story, come in and see us. We are owners, not brokers. You get all the commission.
